Personality Structure In The Life Course:

Personality Structure in the Life Course Robert A. Zucker, 1992 Handbook of the Life Course Jeylan T. Mortimer, Michael J. Shanahan, 2007-12-14 This comprehensive handbook provides an overview of key theoretical perspectives concepts and methodological approaches that while applied to diverse phenomena are united in their general approach to the study of lives across age phases In surveying the wide terrain of life course studies with dual emphases on theory and empirical research this important reference work presents probative concepts and methods and identifies promising avenues for future research Developmental and Life-course Criminological Theories Paul Mazerolle, 2017-07-05 The developmental and life course perspective in criminology came to prominence during the late 1980s and throughout the 1990s a number of theories were developed to explain offending behavior over the life course This volume brings together theoretical statements empirical tests and debates of these major theories within the developmental and life course criminology perspective In the first section of the book original theoretical statements are provided and this is followed by a section which includes empirical tests of each of these theories conducted by researchers other than the original theorists The final section of the book provides a summary of the major debates both within the developmental and life course perspective and also between this perspective and others within criminology This comprehensive volume provides an informative overview of the developmental and life course perspective in criminology Handbook of the Life Course Michael J. Shanahan, Jeylan T. Mortimer, Monica Kirkpatrick Johnson, 2015-10-26 Building on the success of the 2003 Handbook of the Life Course this second volume identifies future directions for life course research and policy The introductory essay and the chapters that make up the five sections of this book show consensus on strategic next steps in life course studies These next steps are explored in detail in each section Section I on life course theory provides fresh perspectives on well established topics including cohorts life stages and legal and regulatory contexts It challenges life course scholars to move beyond common individualistic paradigms Section II highlights changes in major institutional and organizational contexts of the life course It draws on conceptual advances and recent empirical findings to identify promising avenues for research that illuminate the interplay between structure and agency It examines trends in family school and workplace as well as contexts that deserve heightened attention including the military the criminal justice system and natural and man made disaster The remaining three sections consider advances and suggest strategic opportunities in the study of health and development throughout the life course They explore methodological innovations including qualitative and three generational longitudinal research designs causal analysis growth curves and the study of place Finally they show ways to build bridges between life course research and public policy Prevention of Maladjustment to Life Course Transitions Moshe Israelashvili, 2023-06-01 This book provides a comprehensive and updated review of the concepts models and interventions related to the process of adjustment to life course transitions In times of transition an individual is exposed to experiences that require them to assume new roles and exhibit updated behaviors. Regardless of the characteristics of these transitions, exposure to normative trajectories imposes on the person an intensive engagement in a process of re-adjustment. Sometimes this demand is beyond the scope of one's ability, motivation, or comprehension. Hence, some people might ineffectively perceive and/or react to the change and end up feeling unable to handle the change and inclined to escape the situation. A preventive intervention that either reduces the impact of possible risk factors or fosters possible protective factors would support the people in managing the transition. While the importance of prevention of maladjustment is repeatedly mentioned in the literature, this is the first known book on how to prevent maladjustment. It examines how the sense of transition emerges, what adjustment means, the models that elaborate on how people manage in times of transition, what the antecedents of maladjustment are, and especially how maladjustment could be prevented. Out of these discussions, a new model, The Transitional Stress and Adjustment (TSA) Model, is suggested as a grand framework for paving a way forward to better prevent people's maladjustment to life course transitions. Prevention of Maladjustment to Life Course Transitions is a much needed cornerstone in the future development within the prevention science framework. This book has interdisciplinary appeal for researchers, practitioners, and graduate students in psychology, sociology, public health, social work, criminology, medicine, health sciences, public policy, economics, and education who consider prevention an important vehicle of intervention to promote health and wellbeing. Its focus on the topic of adjustment also would be of special interest to those who explore child and youth development. Social Structure and Aging K. Warner Schaie, Carmi Schooler, 2013-05-13 This volume presents a systematic examination of the impact of social structures on individual behaviors and on their development in adulthood and old age. These papers and responses attempt to improve the reciprocal relationship between changes in social macro and micro structures and the process of psychological development in relation to issues of human aging. Using and combining concepts and data from various fields, this research promotes a better understanding of the effects of demographic patterns and social structures on the psychological development of adults. Child and Adolescent Development William Damon, Richard M. Lerner, 2008-03-14 This advanced text for psychology, human development, and education provides students with state-of-the-art overviews of the discipline in an accessible, affordable format. Unique both in the depth of its coverage and in the timeliness of the research that it presents, this comprehensive text conveys the field of child and adolescent development through the voices of scientists who themselves are now shaping the field. Methods of Life Course Research Janet Z. Giele, Glen H. Elder, Glen H. Elder (Jr.), 1998-03-19 Giele and Elder introduce the life course approach, show how it developed, and what it entails; consider how to collect and organize longitudinal data and explore the analysis and interpretation of life course data. Essential Criminology Stuart Henry, Desiré J. M. Anastasia, 2025-04-09 This significantly expanded edition of Essential Criminology covers the broadest range of criminological theories: the essential criminological theories from longstanding ones such as classical theory and strain theory to recently introduced ones such as ultra realism and green cultural criminology Whether all are essential depends on one's theoretical stance The value of this text is its carefully designed comparative analysis which helps readers consider their relative contribution to the field Originally designed as an alternative to lengthy and expensive introductory texts Essential Criminology provides a concise yet comprehensive overview of the field The book offers a clear structured student friendly critical analytical examination of the nature of crime theories of crime causation and their criminal justice policy implications Causal theories covered range from micro level classical and rational choice to biological psychological social learning social control and interactionist perspectives to macro level social ecology anomie strain conflict Marxist feminist and postmodernist theories Over its 26 year history the book has added new theoretical perspectives as these have gained prominence New to this edition are chapters on critical and ultra realism and critical green criminology and discussions of zemiology critical race theory and quantum holographic criminology The authors have also expanded some theoretical frameworks that had previously been underdeveloped such as opportunity theory subcultural theory and social constructionism Essential Criminology contextualizes criminology in the globally interdependent 21st century addressing the crimes of terrorism global pandemics and climate change With its cutting edge updates illustrative real world examples and student friendly study tools including analytically comparable summary charts exposing each theory's ontological assumptions this text was designed primarily for undergraduate criminology courses but has also been adopted by community colleges and graduate programs in criminology sociology and political science

Socialisation During the Life Course Klaus Hurrelmann, Ullrich Bauer, 2018-01-02 This comprehensive text highlights new developments in sociological educational and psychological aspects of socialisation examining how human beings as subjects experiencing thinking and acting individuals confront the material social and cultural objects of their environment and sustain their position The authors provide an overview of the most important theories of socialisation then integrate these using the Productive Processing of Reality PPR model This novel approach is applied to a life course analysis examining developmental tasks and the challenges of productive processing of the internal and external reality at various stages of development The book also considers contexts addressing the inequalities between different socio economic and ethnic groups and genders to consider how humans with their genetic dispositions and their individual instincts and needs solve the task of coping with the requirements of society culture and economy while at the same time safeguarding their status as unique individuals It is core reading for advanced students on socialisation modules in developmental or social psychology and educational sciences and is additionally of value for the professional training of sociologists teachers and social workers It is also relevant for all those interested in elementary questions of how the interaction between the society and the individual works how human beings deal not only with themselves but also with their social and physical environment and how they shape it in their own way
