Sheikh, 1983      Intelligent Systems and Applications Yaxin Bi, Rahul Bhatia, Supriya Kapoor, 2019-08-23 The book presents a remarkable collection of chapters covering a wide range of topics in the areas of intelligent systems and artificial intelligence and their real world applications It gathers the proceedings of the Intelligent Systems Conference 2019 which attracted a total of 546 submissions from pioneering researchers scientists industrial engineers and students from all around the world These submissions underwent a double blind peer review process after which 190 were selected for inclusion in these proceedings As intelligent systems continue to replace and sometimes outperform human intelligence in decision making processes they have made it possible to tackle a host of problems more effectively This branching out of computational intelligence in several directions and use of intelligent systems in everyday applications have created the need for an international conference as a venue for reporting on the latest innovations and trends This book collects both theory and application based chapters on virtually all aspects of artificial intelligence presenting state of the art intelligent methods and techniques for solving real world problems along with a vision for future research it represents a unique and valuable asset      Possible Selves Curtis Dunkel, Jennifer Kerpelman, 2006 The concept of possible selves first brought to life only a short time ago by Hazel Markus and Paula Nurius 1986 has grown into an exciting stream of research Scholars have examined possible selves with regard to a host of adolescent outcomes including academic achievement school persistence career expectations self esteem delinquency identity development and altruistic behaviours This book represents a sample of the current research being conducted in the area of possible selves The contributors to the book were chosen to represent a variety of perspectives and to collectively illustrate some of the different ways that possible selves are being conceptualised empirically examined and used in interventions      Current Research and Applications in Personality Theories Larry A. Hjelle, 1992      Advances in Facet Theory Research: Developments in Theory, Application and Related Approaches Paul M. W. Hackett, Yael Fisher, 2019-11-01 In this Research Topic the two editors bring together a series of articles that use facet theory and allied approaches to research Since its inception in the work of Louis Guttman in the mid twentieth century facet theory has become an established approach within social science research In addition over the past 70 years a wide range of research publications have appeared operating within the theoretical and analytic rubric of facet theory and for the last two decades a biennial international conference has been held devoted to facet theory research When using a facet theory approach an implicit aim of the research within this framework is to bring together in an explicit manner a clear definition of the content area that is being investigated along with data analysis procedures Integrating the explicit design of research content for example

attitudes values etc and its subsequent analysis for example to identify the variables that are influential to respondents in relation to the specific area under investigation allows for the construction of theory relating to the content area and for the meaningful measurement of complex research areas The clear explication of an area of research content is achieved through the use of a mapping sentence MS In a MS all of the pertinent variables called facets associated with the specific subject matter of the research study are specified in the form of a natural language sentence where facets variables are arranged to demonstrate how these theoretically relate to each other Sub levels of facets are defined in such a way as to capture the relationships of research variables facets to each other and the overall research domain Background variables are also stated in the MS along with a specified range over which observations will be made to test the veracity of the structural hypotheses statements regarding the proposed manner in which variables are related to the study's content implicit in the MS Furthermore by using a MS the researcher is able to select variables that appropriately address the area of content Traditionally facet theory has been used in quantitative research but has recently been applied to the analysis of qualitative and philosophical research which incorporates a declarative mapping sentence in such research and which is included in this Research Topic In order to interrogate these structural hypotheses quantitative data analysis procedures are employed such as Smallest Space Analysis SSA and Partial Order Scalogram Analysis by base Coordinates POSAC In SSA the structure of the content area of interest the variables that have been included in the MS can be interrogated as observations that have been made along the specified outcome range are represented geometrically as partitioned regions in a concept space related to the specific research domain Individual respondents may also be investigated in terms of their profile of facet related scores using POSAC A similar approach is employed when analysing information from qualitative facet theory research which interrogates the structural hypotheses present in the declarative mapping sentence through approaches such as content and narrative analyses This Research Topic presents work from scholars with particular emphasis upon how the approach has developed both theoretically and in terms of its application new areas of application and advances in theory development
