Personnel Needs And Changing Reference Service:

Personnel Needs and Changing Reference Service Rosemarie Riechel, 1989 Personnel Issues in Reference Services Bill Katz, Ruth A. Fraley, 2019-12-05 This book first published in 1986 discusses reference personnel concerns and problems and offers suggestions to administration and management for improving reference personnel performance and staff development Implementing an Inclusive Staffing Model for Today's Reference Services Julia K. Nims, Paula Storm, Robert Stevens, 2013-11-26 Reference service remains a core function of modern libraries However how and where we provide assistance has evolved with changing technologies and the shifting habits and preferences of our users One way libraries can provide the on demand in person assistance while managing and developing new services and resources that will benefit current and future users is to reconsider how their reference points and services are staffed and adopt a staff based reference model The authors staff members at Eastern Michigan University chose to address this by implementing an inclusive reference model in which staff and student assistants are trained to answer certain levels of reference questions while working at the reference desk and at other service points The result was that librarians became more available to work with students who needed in depth assistance and users were able to get simple questions answered throughout the library Similar training for all staff and student assistants who work in the library results in better service more accurate answers and improved interdepartmental communication In Implementing an Inclusive Staffing Model for Today's Reference Services they describe step by step how to transition from the traditional librarian staffed reference desk to an inclusive reference model where non MLS personnel are equipped and empowered to answer reference questions wherever these questions might be asked Users ask questions of staff at all service points not just at the Reference Desk It is vitally important that those who work at circulation periodicals maps archives and other public service points be trained in how to answer certain reference questions When this is accomplished users who have simple questions will not have to make useless treks to the Reference Desk Topics covered include Recognizing that nearly all staff answer reference questions but few are trained to do so documenting the necessity for a change in reference model gaining buy in from all interested parties librarians non MLS staff and administrators determining the optimal staffing level creating training materials and schedules monitoring the quality of reference service supervising staff evaluating the new model using multiple methods Additionally each chapter contains practical resources such as checklists forms and sample materials and other usable features to support readers as they implement the inclusive reference model The book describes in detail the process of transforming traditional reference into a model that transcends departmental and job title boundaries is focused on the user and allows librarians to better utilize their time and talents and include non professional staff in their reference services Administration of the Public Library Alice Gertzog, Edwin P. Dougherty, 2008 Librarianship is a service profession and not a bottom line oriented business As such librarians don't normally assign a high priority to efficiency of operations however opportunities to improve daily jobs and enhance services are being overlooked every day Advances in technology drive change at a rapid pace and keeping up is both expensive and time consuming Tight budgets have made keeping up with technology especially difficult And while some activities in libraries such as in person ready reference and circulation of books and journals have declined many libraries continue to report increases in the demand for services and resources The rapid transformation from paper to digital documents is also driving changes in libraries Today the incentive for examining and streamlining library workflows and the processes and procedures that comprise them should be compelling but that doesn't seem to be the case for many librarians Streamlining Library Services presents library managers and staff with the tools necessary to analyze and streamline their library's services It presents a variety of tools and techniques that can be applied to improve library operations and assist library staff in their efforts to identify what work is done how much time it takes and what it costs These efforts can be used to streamline library processes and where appropriate help to free dollar resources to initiate or enhance services that merit higher priority Virtual Services in the Health Sciences Library Amanda R. Scull, 2022-05-15 Selected as a 2025 Doody's Core Title Virtual services have been part of health sciences libraries for a long time in various forms including the provision of reference and research services via email or chat availability of online instruction access to electronic materials and the curation of virtual research guides But when the COVID 19 pandemic forced many libraries to close their doors and pivot to virtual services almost overnight Moving all services remote even for just a short time did highlight what worked well and what did not The situation increased visibility of these services and made patrons more aware of what was available perhaps making them more likely to expect and use those services in the future In some ways the pandemic showed us ways in which virtual services could even be better than in person services for providing prompt patron services The situation increased visibility of existing services making users more aware of what was available and revealed gaps and needed improvements in virtual services In this book copublished by the Medical Library Association librarians from academic to hospital health sciences libraries from rural to urban areas and across a range of service specialties provide blueprints and best practices for building and maintaining sustainable virtual services in health sciences libraries Each chapter in this volume addresses aspects of providing virtual services in information and access services reference and instruction collections and clinical services written by contributors who have been involved in this work in their own libraries Whether you are just beginning an implementation assessing and refining current offerings or strategizing for sustainability and looking to the future this book will provide practical advice tools and considerations for maximizing user engagement and satisfaction with virtual library services and resources
