Perspective can be a really difficult artistic skill to understand and apply to your work. Develop this skill with this fun and colourful art challenge. Follow the simple step-by-step instructions, using materials that you probably already have at home!

Instructions

1. On a plain piece of paper, draw a small dot in the centre of your page.
2. Using a marker pen, draw a selection of different sized rectangles (squares or oblongs). You can use a ruler to draw these or draw around different four-sided objects. Don't forget to leave a little space surrounding the dot in the centre.
3. Choose one rectangle that is the closest to the centre. Look at a side with the corner of your shape nearest the centre and with the dot in the middle. Use a marker pen to draw a line from the corner of your shape to the central dot. The only side to draw this line is the nearest dot. The only side to draw this line is the nearest dot. The only side to draw this line is the nearest dot.

You will need:

- plain paper
- ruler
- black marker pen
- colouring pencils or felt tip pens

Final Tip:

It may feel really difficult to draw pictures in the landscape and seascape and then colour in the finished picture and bring it to the centre of the page. Why not try getting lighter or darker with the colour as you get closer to the centre.
