A good death from the perspective of patients with severe illness and advance care planning (ACP) in patients near end-of-life Lisa Kastbom, 2021-03-23 Previous research has indicated that what constitutes a good death is heterogenic and complex although there are some recurrent themes and similarities regardless individual background factors Studies on advance care planning ACP i e making proactive plans regarding content of care and treatment limitations on nursing home NH patients are rare Positive effects of ACPs are shown but also that these often are lacking The overall aim with this thesis was to explore the perceptions of a good death from the perspective of patients with severe illness and to investigate from different perspectives experiences of ACP in a NH context In paper I patients with cancer in a palliative phase were interviewed on their perceptions of a good death Death was viewed as a process and previous experiences on the death of others influenced their own perceptions A good death was associated with living with the prospect of imminent death preparing oneself and others for one's death and dying comfortably e g without suffering with independence and with social relations intact Some were comforted by their belief that death is predetermined and that after death there is something else Others felt uncomfortable when they viewed death as the end of the existence In paper II nurses and physicians were interviewed on their experiences of the factors that shape the ACP process in NHs Exploration of the patient's preferences regarding content of care and treatment limitations was important as well as integration of the patient's preferences and the views of the family members and staff concerning these questions ACP documentation had to be clear updated and available for staff and the implementation and reevaluation of ACP were also considered important according to the participants Significance of clinicians perceiving beneficence as well as fear of accusations of maleficence were shown to be essential factors to contemplate In a retrospective chart review paper III medical records of 367 deceased NH patients were analysed A high prevalence of ACP was shown using two different definitions of ACP ACP I and ACP II Moreover adherence to the ACP content was strong and positive associations were seen between ACP and variables of the three research aims such as diagnosis dementia physician attendance at NH and end of life EOL care In paper IV family members of deceased NH patients were interviewed on their experiences of ACP in NHs EOL issues were challenging to talk about although the family members appreciated staff raising these questions The patient's preferences were sometimes explicitly or implicitly communicated However in some cases family members had a feeling of the patient's preferences although they had not been clearly communicated Everyday details symbolised staff commitment The family members viewed the nurse as central The physician was described as absent and ACP meetings often went unnoticed Both involvement and lack of involvement could cause the family members feelings of guilt In conclusion we found that what constitutes a good death is highly individual although recurrent themes are seen EOL conversations are important and challenging and need staff training and experience It seems important to support healthcare staff not only to initiate ACP in NH patients but also to involve the patient and family members in the ACP and planning EOL care Making proactive plans regarding content of care including treatment limitations could enable patient autonomy optimise the chances for the patient to experience a good death and enhance for the family members during the dying trajectory and after the patient s death Design First for 3D Artists Geoffrey Kater,2005-11-30 Sexual Desire Roger Scruton,2015-06-15 A dazzling treatise as erudite and eloquent as Simone de Beauvoir s The Second Sex and considerably more sound in its conclusion TLS When John desires Mary or Mary desires John what does either of them want What is meant by innocence passion love and arousal desire perversion and shame These are just a few of the questions Roger Scruton addresses in this thought provoking intellectual adventure Beginning from purely philosophical premises and ranging over human life art and institutions he surveys the entire field of sexuality equally dissatisfied with puritanism and permissiveness he argues for a radical break with recent theories Upholding traditional morality though in terms that may shock many of its practitioners his argument gravitates to that which is candid serene and consoling in the experience of sexual love Heart Of The Soul Gary Zukav,Linda Francis,2012-12-11 In THE SEAT OF THE SOUL Gary Zukav brilliantly set forth his concepts explaining how the expansion of human perception beyond the five senses leads to a new understanding of authentic power Then in SOUL STORIES he revealed how such concepts as intuition harmony sharing and forgiveness actually express themselves in other people s lives And now in THE HEART OF THE SOUL Zukav together with his coauthor and spiritual partner Linda Francis takes the next important step in showing us how to actually apply these crucial concepts in our daily lives Zukav reveals how true emotional awareness can transform the human experience Although it is challenging and difficult because it means becoming aware of suppressed pain it is also enormously rewarding But first the determination to explore every aspect of consciousness and to cultivate those that contribute the most to life must replace the desire to bury painful emotions Ultimately emotional awareness can free us from the compulsions fixations obsessions and addictions that block our spiritual development among them anger workaholism perfectionism obsessive eating alcohol drugs sex and allow us to live a fulfilling and meaningful life THE HEART OF THE SOUL will be a revelation for readers a soul tool with which we can forge a greater emotional awareness to enable us to use our emotions in the creation of authentic power It is a book to read not once but several times for it is a life changing work that can transform our lives for the better Spiritual Ends Timothy O. Benedict,2022-12-20 What role does religion play at the end of life in Japan Spiritual Ends draws on ethnographic fieldwork and interviews to provide an intimate portrayal of how spiritual care is provided to the dying in Japan Timothy O Benedict shows how hospice caregivers in Japan are appropriating and reinterpreting global ideas about spirituality and the practice of spiritual care Benedict relates these findings to a longer story of how Japanese religious groups have pursued vocational roles in medical institutions as a means to demonstrate a so called healthy role in society Focusing on how care for the kokoro heart or mind is key to the practice of spiritual care this book enriches conventional understandings of religious identity in Japan while offering a valuable East Asian perspective to global conversations on the ways religion spirituality and medicine intersect at death Timothy Benedict has produced a work brimming with wisdom drawn from his work as a chaplain as well as a broad understanding of the place of religion in the lives of contemporary Japanese people HELEN HARDACRE Reischauer Institute Professor of Japanese Religions and Society Harvard University Benedict offers a highly original perspective and new insightful material providing a critical approach to the debate about spiritual care and spirituality ERICA BAFFELLI Professor of Japanese Studies University of Manchester Spiritual Ends reveals an unassuming approach to spiritual care that privileges human connections at life s end JACQUELINE STONE author of Right Thoughts at the Last Moment Buddhism and Deathbed Practices in Early Medieval Japan A discerning study of pain and comfort at the end of life and a story of the invention of spirituality in Japan which traffics between medical psychological and religious thought AMY B BOROVOY Professor of East Asian Studies Princeton University Becoming Someone New Enoch Lambert,John Schwenkler,2020 How should we decide whether to experience something that is unlike anything we have ever encountered Philosophers have recently argued that we are in situations of this kind for more of our decisions than we usually recognize This volume brings together philosophers and psychologists to investigate the phenomenon of transformative experience General Practice - Inkling Kerryyn Phelps,Craig Hassed,2010-12-29 A comprehensive medical textbook taking a holistic approach to contemporary general practice This e book takes an integrative approach to the diagnosis investigation and management of health issues in the general practice environment General Practice The integrative approach e book version covers the philosophy underpinning modern day general practice including primary and secondary prevention as well as acute and chronic disease management This comprehensive e book informs doctors of potential treatment and prevention options as well as possible pitfalls according to the growing integrative medicine evidence base The first section of General Practice The integrative approach e book lays the foundations of integrative medicine while the second examines important medical conditions in a systems based approach Each chapter in this valuable health resource outlines required medical and consulting knowledge while discussing physiology and pharmacological management plans of systems based conditions An evidence based discussion of the available therapeutic options for the treatment of associated factors follows This helps medical practitioners adapt their approach for individual patient needs General Practice The integrative approach e book features contributions from experts in Chinese medicine herbal medicine nutritional medicine naturopathy and exercise

Excellence Matthew H. Kramer, 2017 During the past several decades political philosophers have frequently clashed with one another over the question whether governments are morally required to remain neutral among reasonable conceptions of excellence and human flourishing Whereas the numerous followers of John Rawls and kindred philosophers such as Ronald Dworkin have maintained that a requirement of neutrality is indeed incumbent on every system of governance other philosophers often designated as perfectionists have argued against the existence of such a requirement Liberalism with Excellence enters these debates not by plighting itself unequivocally to one side or the other but instead by reconceiving each of the sides and thus by redirecting the debates that have occurred between them On the one hand the book rejects the requirement of neutrality by contending that certain subsidies for the promotion of excellence in sundry areas of human endeavour can be proper and vital uses of resources by governments Advocating such departures from the constraint of neutrality the book presents a version of liberalism that can rightly be classified as perfectionist On the other hand the species of perfectionism espoused in Liberalism with Excellence diverges markedly from the theories that have usually been so classified Indeed much of the book assails various aspects of those theories What is more the aspirational perfectionism elaborated in the closing chapters of the volume is reconcilable in most key respects with a suitably amplified version of Rawlsianism Hence by reconceiving both the perfectionist side and the neutralist side of the prevailing disputation Liberalism with Excellence combines and transforms their respective insights Rigid Designation and Theoretical

Identities Joseph LaPorte, 2013 Joseph LaPorte offers an original account of the connections between the reference of words for properties and kinds and theoretical identity statements He argues that terms for properties as well as for concrete objects are rigid designators and defends the Kripkean tradition of theoretical identities The Metaphysics of Shoes
