Perspectives Educational Leadership:

New Perspectives in Educational Leadership Sonya Douglass Horsford, 2010 New Perspectives in Educational Leadership examines educational administration and leadership within the complex social political and community contexts that inform and influence the work of today's educational leaders. With particular attention to the implications and larger contexts of shifting demographics, high stakes accountability and globalization on schools and society in the twenty first century, this volume seeks to advance lines of inquiry presented in other areas of education research that have yet to be fully explored or imagined in the field of educational leadership. This unique blend of empirical, theoretical and conceptual research by both established and emerging scholars in the field directly acknowledges and addresses the demands of leading increasingly diverse and complex school communities. Topics include the social and cultural dynamics of leadership, reflective practice, politics of equity and adequacy, critical servant leadership and the possibilities of transformative leadership within these dynamic educational contexts. As a primary or supplementary text in educational administration, leadership and foundations courses, New Perspectives in Educational Leadership provides a much needed complement to the traditional topics of instructional leadership and education management given the expanding and increasingly complex conditions that face educational administrators and school leaders today.

Critical Perspectives on Educational Leadership John Smyth, 1989 This book is an edited collection of original papers which challenge in a very direct manner the dominant behaviourist and functionalist views that have come to entrap those who live, work and conduct research in the area of educational leadership. By shifting the focus away from sterile discussions about traits, personalities and styles of educational leadership and focusing instead on the structures and processes within schools as organisations that frustrate, distort and ultimately stifle educative relationships, the writers provide a much needed way of reconceptualising both thought and action in so-called acts of educational leadership.

Critical Perspectives Educational Leadership John Smyth, 1989-03 Understanding Educational Leadership Steven J. Courtney, Helen M. Gunter, Richard Niesche, Tina Trujillo, 2021-01-28 Understanding Educational Leadership guides you through critical perspectives and approaches across the world, taking in the global north and south and explores the ways in which educational leadership is currently understood, theorised, researched, modelled and practised. The book also covers contemporary issues including gender, sexual identity and race as well as topics such as governance, performativity and corporatisation. It brings together evidence and ideas that illuminate the power structures and relations in educational leadership and helps you to consider the impact on policy and practice and to think about changes needed to mitigate the issues identified. The book showcases a wide range of theorists including Bourdieu, Foucault and Fraser. Its impressive scope includes analyses of collectivist, neoliberal and historical influences on educational leadership. It explores various leadership styles with an explicit focus on distributed, instructional, democratic, autocratic, laissez faire and organisational forms.
