A Constructively Critical Conversation between Nonviolent and Substitutionary Perspectives on Atonement Hojin Ahn, 2021-12-21 In the contemporary theological world traditional substitutionary accounts of Christ's atoning work have increasingly come under criticism for what is said to be their propensity for encouraging violence by a variety of theologians such as feminists pacifists and Girardians Cur deus homo the question about God's sovereign purpose in Christ's atoning work is radically transposed into who killed Jesus which is a provocative inquiry into the ethical issues surrounding divine violence from the nonviolent perspective of atonement Nonetheless in this monograph contrary to their nonviolent intention you will witness that Brock Schwager and Weaver violently damage a holistic dimension of atonement event under the human cause of the victim Jesus crucifixion by evil By contrast you will hear the harmonized voices of Anselm Calvin and Barth who adamantly proclaim the incarnated Son of God's sovereignty in his self-giving death for our salvation Furthermore it is through the theological conversation between the opposite camps that you will realize how the anthropological motifs of healing scapegoat mechanism and nonviolence are to be constructively engaged with the Christological cultic context of an evangelical doctrine of substitution You will encounter the crux of Christ's saving death for us

Lord Gnome's Literary Companion Francis Wheen, 1994 His review has got to be in by mid day tomorrow At about 9 pm his mind will grow relatively clear and until the small hours he will sit skipping expertly through one book after another and laying each down with the comment God what tripe Then suddenly he will snap into it All the stale old phrases a book that no one should miss something memorable on every page jump into their places like iron fillings obeying the magnet Thus did George Orwell writing forty years ago in Confessions of a Book Reviewer describe the labours of a typical literary hack Judging by the incestuous stew of debts and allegiances that dominates today's world of books precious little has changed over the intervening decades The servility of reviewers continues to counterpoint the vanity of authors and the greed of their publishers Yet within this society of mutual admiration lazy writing and genuflection to established hierarchy one repository of fearless literary criticism stands out the Literary Review section of the satirical magazine Private Eye Lord Gnome's Literary Companion assembles in thematic order the best of these columns to present an astringent rude and funny survey of publishers and the published It identifies new genres such as the non book celebrity vehicle as well as giving due recognition to those who against all odds genuinely have something to say It devotes review space to authors who whilst dominating the bestseller lists are all but ignored by the literary establishment and it does so without the breathless celebration of the popular observed by too many practitioners of cultural studies It probes the unseen forces that police our literary culture the literary agents the cross media magnates the PR gigolos In keeping with the Private Eye tradition the contributors are anonymous giving writers the freedom they cannot find in other publications For Lord Gnome's reviewers there are no sacred cows no special favours no treacly euphemisms It's messy dangerous work but someone has to do it

Offer Them Life Dan W. Dunn, 2013-07-15 In this book Dan Dunn proposes that the biblical theme of life is extremely important and thus provides a helpful foundation for the theory and practice of evangelism He makes a strong case for Christ followers to embrace a life based evangelistic vision as a way to help non believers choose the full and vibrant life that God intends for them in Jesus While making this strong case he also urges readers to avoid casting aside other evangelistic visions such as those based on discipleship the kingdom forgiveness atonement etc Instead he invites us to add a life based evangelistic vision to the possibilities available to us for helping people choose to follow Jesus and thus experience the life He makes possible for them
