formation in the United States second is an imperative to historicize its practices including polemics controversies and ideological ruptures as an ongoing negotiation undertaken by Asian American critics for a more self conscious and more adequate representation of the field s interests These rationales are fully contextualized in the book s Introduction and Conclusion The main body of this study is organized non chronologically into 8 chapters with each designed to reflect how the field has been energized by its demographic transformation its growing intellectual heterogeneity its defining moments and its cross cutting relationship with the trends in other disciplines What has emerged and been given prominence to in the surveys and discussions of this book then constitute the essential criticism of Asian American literary studies a discourse almost 5 decades in the making when examined retrospectively

The Chinese in Vancouver, 1945-80 Wing Chung Ng,2011-11-01 In The Chinese in Vancouver Wing Chung Ng captures the fascinating story of the city s Chinese in their search for identity He juxtaposes the cultural positions of different generations of Chinese immigrants and their Canadian born descendants and unveils the ongoing struggle over the definition of being Chinese It is an engrossing story about cultural identity in the context of migration and settlement where the influence of the native land and the appeal of the host city continued to impinge on the consciousness of the ethnic Chinese The Chinese in Canada is long overdue in view of the many previous studies that tend to describe Chinese people as victims of racial prejudice and discrimination and Chinese identity a matter of Western cultural hegemony Ng's account gives the Chinese people their own voice and shows that the Chinese in Vancouver had much to say and often disagreed about the meaning of being Chinese In his concluding chapter Ng looks beyond the Canadian context by engaging in a comparative discussion of the experiences of ethnic Chinese elsewhere in the diaspora References to the Chinese in various Southeast Asian countries and the U S force a rethinking of Chineseness He ends with reflections about Vancouver's Chinese community since 1980

Ling,2022-09-16 The term Heartland in American cultural context conventionally tends to provoke imageries of corn fields flat landscape hog farms and rural communities along with ideas of conservatism homogeneity and isolation But as the Midwestern and Southern states experienced more rapid population growth than that in California Hawaii and New York in the recent decades the Heartland region has emerged as a growing interest of Asian American studies Focused on the Heartland cities of Chicago Illinois and St Louis Missouri this book draws rich evidences from various government records personal stories and interviews and media reports and sheds light on the commonalities and uniqueness of the region as compared to the Asian American communities on the East and West Coast and Hawaii Some of the poignant stories such as the Three Moy Brothers Alla Lee and Save Sam Wah Laundry told in the book are powerful reflections of Asian American history Chinese Looks Sean Metzger,2014-04-25 From yellow face performance in the 19th century to Jackie Chan in the 21st Chinese Looks examines articles of clothing and modes of adornment as a window on how American views of China have changed in the past 150 years Sean Metzger provides a cultural history of three iconic objects in theatrical and cinematic performance the queue or man s hair braid the woman s suit known as the qipao and the Mao suit Each object emerges at a pivotal moment in US China relations indexing shifts in the balance of power between the two nations Metzger shows how aesthetics gender politics economics and race are interwoven and argues that close examination of particular forms of dress can help us think anew about gender and modernity Meeting China Halfway Lyle J. Goldstein,2015-05-01

Though a US China conflict is far from inevitable major tensions are building in the Asia Pacific region These strains are the result of historical enmity cultural divergence and deep ideological estrangement not to mention apprehensions fueled by geopolitical competition and the closely related security dilemma Despite worrying signs of intensifying rivalry few observers have provided concrete paradigms to lead this troubled relationship away from disaster This book is dramatically different in that Lyle J Goldstein s focus is on laying bare both US and Chinese perceptions of where their interests clash and proposing new paths to ease bilateral tensions through compromise Each chapter contains a cooperation spiral the opposite of an escalation spiral to illustrate these policy proposals Goldstein makes one hundred policy proposals over the course of this book to inaugurate a genuine debate regarding cooperative policy solutions to the most vexing problems in US China relations Goldstein not only parses findings from American scholarship but also breaks new ground by analyzing hundreds of Chinese language sources including military publications never before evaluated by Western experts Meeting China Halfway new in paperback remains a refreshing and unique contribution to the study of the world's most important bilateral relationship

A Rising China and Security in East Asia Rex Li, 2008-11-21 A Rising China and Security in East Asia provides a systematic and in depth analysis of the security discourse of Chinese elites on the major powers in East Asia namely the US Japan and Russia and how China perceives their global security strategy

Global Spaces of Chinese Culture Sylvia Van Ziegert, 2013-09-13 This book is an exploration of how Chinese communities in the United States and Germany create and disseminate a sense of diasporic Chinese identity It not only compares the local conditions of the Chinese communities in the two locations but also moves to a global dimension to track the Chinese transnational imaginary Van Ziegert analyzes three strategies that overseas Chinese use to articulate their identities as diasporic subjects being more American German being more Chinese hybridizing and commodifying Chinese culture through trans cultural performances These three strategies are not mutually exclusive and they often intersect and supplement each other in unexpected ways The author also analyzes how the everyday lives of overseas Chinese connect with global and local factors and how these experiences contribute to the formation of a global Chinese identity

Asian American Literature Elaine Kim, 1982 An introduction to the literary works of Chinese Americans Japanese Americans Filipino Americans and Korean Americans this book focuses on the self images and social contexts of the nineteenth century immigrants their descendants and the Americanized writers of today Although the book examines the novels autobiographies poems and plays themselves the social history of Asians in American is a significant backdrop as Maxine Hong Kingston herself argues it should be These racially distinctive Americans have confronted in their lives and writings American stereotypes of the Oriental racial discrimination and the cultural gulf between East and West After a chapter on Fu Manchu Charlie Chan and other Anglo American caricatures of Asians the author turns to a discussion of the first immigrant writers many of whom were educated aristocrats playing the role of cultural ambassadors and then to the less privileged more socially critical generations of writers who followed From works like Flower Drum Song Eat a Bowl of Tea The Woman Warrior China Men and a host of lesser known writings the author shows how portrayals of Chinatown the Japanese American family and the roles of all the Asian American women and men have changed Drawing on her personal interviews with Asian American writers Kim also conveys their attitudes towards their own group other Asian Americans other racial minorities and white Americans a complex mix of bitterness acceptance and militance Author note Elaine H Kim is Associate Professor of Ethnic Studies at the University of California Berkeley She directs the Korean Community Center of Oakland and Asian Women United California
