Struggles for Representation Phyllis Rauch Klotman, Janet K. Cutler, 1999 Struggles for Representation examines over 300 non fiction films by more than 150 African American film videomakers and includes an extensive filmography bibliography and excerpts from interviews with film videomakers In eleven original essays contributors explore the extraordinary scope of these aesthetic and social documents and chart a previously undiscovered territory documentaries that examine the aesthetic economic historical political and social forces that shape the lives of black Americans as seen from their perspectives Until now scholars and critics have concentrated on black fiction film and on mainstream non fiction films neglecting the groundbreaking body of black non fiction productions that offer privileged views of American life Yet these rich and varied works in film video and new electronic media convey vast stores of knowledge and experience Although most documentary cannot hope to match fiction film's mass appeal it is unrivaled in its ability to portray searing indelible impressions of black life including concrete views of significant events and moving portraits of charismatic individuals Documentary footage brings audiences the moments when civil rights protestors were attacked by state troopers it provides the sights and sounds of Malcolm X delivering an electrifying speech Betty Carter performing a heart wrenching song and Langston Hughes strolling on a beach Uniting all of this work is the struggle for representation that characterizes each film an urgent desire to convey black life in ways that counter the uninformed and often distorted representations of mass media film and television productions African American documentaries have long been associated with struggles for social and political empowerment for many film videomakers documentary is a compelling mode with which to present an alternative more authentic narrative of black experiences and an effective critique of mainstream discourse Thus many socially and politically committed film videomakers view documentary as a tool with which to interrogate and reinvent history their works fill gaps correct errors and expose distortions in order to provide counter narratives of African American experience Contributors include Paul Arthur Houston A Baker Jr Mark F Baker Pearl Bowser Janet K Cutler Manthia Diawara Elizabeth Amelia Hadley Phyllis R Klotman Tommy Lee Lott Erika Muhammad Valerie Smith and Clyde Taylor Encyclopedia of Race and Racism John H. Moore, 2008 Examines the anthropological sociological historical economic and scientific theories of race and racism in the modern era Delves into the historic origins of ideas of race and racism and explores their social and scientific consequences Includes biographies of significant theorists as well as political and social leaders and notorious racists Writings on Black Women of the Diaspora Lean'tin Bracks, 2019-05-23 Toni Morrison Alice Walker Paule Marshall and Mary Prince represent the best of African American women writers who draw on the tortuous legacy of their people as a source for their art revealing and defining themselves as they create compelling narratives that illuminate their roots their heritage and their unique culture The themes that suffuse their writing are family community strong women cultural memory oral history and slavery By analyzing the works of these four remarkable writers the study shows how today's black woman can take control of her destiny by coming to grips with an obscured and distorted past These original essays articulate the way in which historical awareness sensitivity to language and an understanding of stereotypes can empower enduring artistic visions in a world that is largely indifferent to marginal voices
