What We Mean by Experience Marianne Janack, 2012-11-07 Social scientists and scholars in the humanities all rely on first person descriptions of experience to understand how subjects construct their worlds The problem they always face is how to integrate first person accounts with an impersonal stance Over the course of the twentieth century this problem was compounded as the concept of experience itself came under scrutiny First hailed as a wellspring of knowledge and the weapon that would vanquish metaphysics and Cartesianism by pragmatists like Dewey and James by the century's end experience had become a mere vestige of both a holdover from seventeenth century empiricist metaphysics This devaluation of experience has left us bereft unable to account for first person perspectives and for any kind of agency or intentionality This book takes on the critique of empiricism and the skepticism with regard to experience that has issued from two seemingly disparate intellectual strains of thought anti foundationalist and holistic philosophy of science and epistemology Kuhn and Rorty in particular and feminist critiques of identity politics Both strains end up marginalizing experience as a viable corrective for theory and both share notions of human beings and cognition that cause the problem of the relation between experience and our theories to present itself in a particular way Indeed they render experience an intractable problem by opening up a gap between a naturalistic understanding of human beings and an understanding of humans as cultural entities as non natural makers of meaning Marianne Janack aims to close this gap to allow us to be naturalistic and hermeneutic at once Drawing on cognitive neuroscience the pragmatist tradition and ecological psychology her book rescues experience as natural contact with the world The Role of Experience in Children's Language Development: A Cultural Perspective Priya Shimpi, Eliana Colunga, He Sun, Douglas Sperry, Lulu Song, 2022-12-02 Developmental Perspectives on Embodiment and Consciousness Willis Overton, Ulrich Mueller, Judith Newman, 2007-09-19 Until recently the body has been largely ignored in theories and empirical research in psychology particularly in developmental psychology Recently however several conceptions of the relation between body and mind have been developed Common among these conceptions is the idea that the body plays an important role in our emotional social and Field Experience Naijian Zhang, Richard D. Parsons, 2015-02-11 A blueprint for doing clinical work in field experience Field Experience Transitioning from Student to Professional aids students in developing their professional identity on their journey toward becoming a counselor Authors Naijian Zhang and Richard D Parsons help students integrate the knowledge they learn across the curriculum by presenting a roadmap of how to start navigate and finish a practicum or internship Throughout the book coverage of CACREP standards case illustrations exercises and real life examples create an accessible overview of the entire transitioning process Field Experience is part of the SAGE Counseling and Professional Identity Series which targets specific competencies identified by CACREP Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Programs Entrepreneurship as Experience Michael H. Morris, Christopher G. Pryor, Minet Schindehutte, 2012 Do entrepreneurs create ventures or do venture experiences create entrepreneurs The authors of Entrepreneurship as Experience propose that the answer is both This important volume examines how individuals experience the creation of a venture as it happens and how that experience determines the types of entrepreneur and venture that ultimately emerge In essence entrepreneurship is an experience consisting of large numbers of key events such as a first sale hiring a first employee losing a big account events that are processed and made sense of by the entrepreneur They produce cognitive emotional and physiological responses which impact decision making and behavior The result is an experience that is purposive diverse uncertain ambiguous and transformative and unique to each individual Here the authors argue that as experience unfolds both entrepreneur and venture are being constructed and emerge in unique forms This experiential view introduces an entirely new lens through which entrepreneurship can be examined Entrepreneurship as Experience comprises chapters dedicated to sociological anthropological and psychological research related to human experiencing the volume presents a new frame for understanding the role of emotions and feelings in venture creation and lays out a conceptual framework for understanding how real time experiencing informs the entrepreneurial process New insights are provided regarding how the entrepreneurial mindset and an entrepreneurial identity are formed and why entrepreneurs take on certain traits and develop certain competencies Further the authors put forth new approaches to conducting research on the entrepreneurial experience Students advanced as well as undergraduate and scholars of entrepreneurship innovation strategy and management will find themselves turning often to the ideas and research presented here

Perspective in Whitehead's Metaphysics Stephen David Ross,1983-01-01 Stephen David Ross presents an extensive detailed and critical interpretation of Whitehead's mature thought emphasizing the fundamental role of perspective in Whitehead's cosmology and tracing the conflicts and difficulties therein to tensions involving perspective in relation to other central features of Whitehead's thought Ross isolates four principles as having a fundamental role in Whitehead's metaphysics perspective cosmology experience and mechanical analysis He argues that many of Whitehead's difficulties can be eliminated by raising the principle of perspective to prominence and by revising the other central features of Whitehead's theory accordingly This book addresses key Whiteheadian texts and secondary interpretations of Whitehead The discussion ranges over most of Whitehead's theory in Process and Reality and offers a number of significant and in some cases novel views on different aspects of Whitehead's theory perception prehension causation objective immortality self causation the extensive continuum natural order possibility concreteness and God Ross's concluding suggestions for modifying Whitehead's system promise to occasion much debate among process philosophers theologians and anyone concerned with Whitehead's thought
