Perspectives On Farming Systems Research And Extension:

Perspectives on Farming Systems Research and Extension Peter E. Hildebrand, 1986      A History of Farming Systems Research Michael P. Collinson, 2000 This book provides a detailed history of farming systems research FSR While it includes the application of FSR to developed country agriculture its main focus is on FSR in its original role with small scale resource poor farmers in less developed countries There are some 40 contributions from nearly 50 contributors from 20 countries illustrating both the diversity and yet the coherence of FSR The five parts of the book cover 1 FSR understanding farmers and their farming FSR origins and perspectives understanding farming systems 2 the applications of farming systems research FSR in technology choice and development FSR in extension and policy formulation 3 institutional commitment to FSR FSR some institutional experiences in national agricultural research dimensions of the organization of FSR training for FSR 4 FSR the professional dimension regional and international associations FSR and the professional disciplines and 5 cutting edge methods abiding issues and the future for FSR      Farming Systems Research Jayne T. MacLean, 1989

Rural and Farming Systems Analysis John Barry Dent, Murray J McGregor, 1994 The Farming Systems Research and Extension approach adopts a multidimensional perspective and has been widely used to bring about rural change in many developing countries The approach has traditionally been less used in Europe where research has tended to concentrate on increasing production However with the current emphasis within the European Union on restricting surpluses and on environmental and social protection circumstances are more appropriate to the farming systems approach Changes to rural infrastructures and agricultural production in Central and Eastern Europe may also favor the approach This book is the first to define the issues of farming systems research as they might be applied within a European context and extended to rural systems as a whole Consisting of 27 chapters it is divided into five parts covering conceptual background contextual setting alternative production systems understanding farm households and systems methodologies Contributions are included from the UK Ireland France Germany Spain Portugal Denmark Netherlands Finland Estonia and Greece The book is aimed at a wide range of readers in agricultural economics and rural studies      Farming Systems Research into the 21st Century:

The New Dynamic Ika Darnhofer, David Gibbon, Benoît Dedieu, 2012-05-30 Farming Systems Research has three core characteristics it builds on systems thinking it depends on the close collaboration between social and biophysical sciences and it relies on participation to build co learning processes Farming Systems Research posits that to contribute towards sustainable rural development both interdisciplinary collaborations and local actor engagement are needed Together they allow for changes in understanding and changes in practices This book gives an overview of the insights generated in 20 years of Farming Systems Research It retraces the emergence and development of Farming Systems Research in Europe summarises the state of the art for key areas and provides an outlook on new explorations especially those tackling the dynamic nature of farming systems and their interaction with the natural environment and the context of action      Social Sciences And Farming Systems Research Jeffrey R Jones, Ben J Wallace, Robert Booth, Robert E Rhoades, 2019-07-11 The publication of this book has required the cooperation of many people along the way From its very conception the project of bringing together experiences from ongoing Farming Systems Research projects has faced a problem of communication due to the dispersal of the participants Dr William Partridge and Lynne Goldstein were instrumental in the initial presentation of the symposium on Social Science participation in Farming Systems Research at the 83rd Annual Meeting of the American Anthropological Association Ben Wallace has done an admirable job not only as editor but as a point man throughout the process of organizing the conference and preparing the manuscript He deserves credit for expediting countless activities that could never have otherwise been accomplished because of the vagaries of international mails and telecommunications

A History of Farming Systems Research Michael P. Collinson, 2000-01-01 This book provides a detailed history of Farming Systems Research FSR While it includes the application of FSR to developed country agriculture its main focus is on FSR in its original role with small scale resource poor farmers in less developed countries Farming Systems Research 1979-1987

Jayne T. MacLean, 1988 Adding a Food Consumption Perspective to Farming Systems Research Timothy R.

Frankenberger, 1985 Aquacultural Development Conner Bailey, 2019-03-07 In this volume an international group of contributors explores the newly emerging aquaculture industry Focusing on the social and environmental dimensions of aquacultural development in both industrialized and nonindustrialized nations they examine issues of social equity user group conflict environmental impacts of production and the mediating role of the state They also discuss aquaculture's role in development activity especially in sustainable development where it can enhance community viability coherence and solidarity Asserting the need for careful planning and recognizing impending political and moral choices the contributors assess the decisionmaking process for public authorities and development agencies and consider the social consequences of these decisions Policymakers responsible for promoting and managing this growing industry will find this volume invaluable as they begin to research and design appropriate institutional structures In addition scholars interested in the overall adoption and diffusion of new technologies will find here a rich source of information about a system that shares attributes with but also differs significantly from agricultural and fisheries production systems Quick Bibliography Series, 1976

Research and Education for the Development of Integrated Crop-livestock-fish Farming Systems in the Tropics Peter Edwards, Roger S. V. Pullin, J. A. Gartner, 1988 Farming Systems Research, January 1979 - December 1991 Jane

Potter Gates, 1992 Farming Systems Research And Development W. W. Shaner, 2019-03-08 In recent years policy makers have been paying more attention to the problems of small farmers in developing countries with the idea of increasing their production and standard of living The policy makers objectives are twofold 1 1 to help those whose welfare is materially below the rest of society and 2 1 to help a country increase its agricultural production With adequate agricultural policies these two objectives are mutually reinforcing For example increased food production gives farm households additional food for consumption and surpluses for sale Farmers can then use the money from these sales to buy items they do not produce and the buyers of farm products benefit from the increased supplies
