Perspectives On Sentence Processing:

Perspectives on Sentence Processing Charles Clifton, Jr., Lyn Frazier, Keith Rayner, Charles Clifton, 2015-12-22 One of the liveliest forums for sharing psychological linguistic philosophical and computer science perspectives on psycholinguistics has been the annual meeting of the CUNY Sentence Processing Conference Documenting the state of the art in several important approaches to sentence processing this volume consists of selected papers that had been presented at the Sixth CUNY Conference The editors not only present the main themes that ran through the conference but also honor the breadth of the presentations from disciplines including linguistics experimental psychology and computer science The variety of sentence processing topics examined includes how evoked brain potentials reflect sentence comprehension how auditory words are processed how various sources of grammatical and nongrammatical information are coordinated and used how sentence processing and language acquisition might be related This distinctive volume not only presents the most exciting current work in sentence processing but also places this research into the broader context of theorizing about it

Perspectives on Sentence Processing Charles Clifton, Lyn Frazier, Keith Rayner, 1994    Perspectives on Sentence Processing Charles Clifton, Jr., Lyn Frazier, Keith Rayner, Charles Clifton, 2015-12-22 One of the liveliest forums for sharing psychological linguistic philosophical and computer science perspectives on psycholinguistics has been the annual meeting of the CUNY Sentence Processing Conference Documenting the state of the art in several important approaches to sentence processing this volume consists of selected papers that had been presented at the Sixth CUNY Conference The editors not only present the main themes that ran through the conference but also honor the breadth of the presentations from disciplines including linguistics experimental psychology and computer science The variety of sentence processing topics examined includes how evoked brain potentials reflect sentence comprehension how auditory words are processed how various sources of grammatical and nongrammatical information are coordinated and used how sentence processing and language acquisition might be related This distinctive volume not only presents the most exciting current work in sentence processing but also places this research into the broader context of theorizing about it    Sentence Processing Dieter Hillert, 1998    Sentence Processing: A Crosslinguistic Perspective Dieter Hillert, 1998-07-13 The innovative element of this volume is its overview of the fundamental psycholinguistic topics involved in sentence processing While most psycholinguistic studies focus on a single language and induce a general model of universal sentence processing this volume proposes a cross linguistic approach It contains two distinct features first embraced in the 18th century by brothers Freiherr Wilhelm von Humboldt and Alexander von Humboldt First it offers a linguistic theory that characterizes universal cognitive features of the human language processor or the mind and its biological source independent of a single language structure Second it contains a language theory which considers the diversity of linguistic structures and provides a powerful theory of language processing Contributors cover a wide range of topics including word recognition fixed expressions grammatical constraints

empty categories and parsing Their research involves analyses of 12 languages This book provides an overview of central psycholinguistic topics in sentence processing and combines deductive and inductive methods in fashioning an innovative approach The contributors address word recognition fixed expressions grammatical constraints empty categories and parsing Its original papers form a coherent presentation

Sentence Processing Roger P. G. van Gompel,2013-09-11

What are the psychological processes involved in comprehending sentences How do we process the structure of sentences and how do we understand their meaning Do children bilinguals and people with language impairments process sentences in the same way as healthy monolingual adults These are just some of the many questions that sentence processing researchers have tried to answer by conducting ever more sophisticated experiments making this one of the most productive and exciting areas in experimental language research in recent years This book is the first to provide a comprehensive state of the art overview of this important field It contains 10 chapters written by world leading experts which discuss influential theories of sentence processing and important experimental evidence with a focus on recent developments in the area The chapters also analyse research that has investigated how people process the structure and meaning of sentences and how sentences are understood within their context This comprehensive and authoritative work will appeal to students and researchers in the field of sentence processing as well anyone with an interest in psychology and linguistics

Bilingual Sentence Processing

Eva M. Fernández,2003-03-27 The cross linguistic differences documented in studies of relative clause attachment offer an invaluable opportunity to examine a particular aspect of bilingual sentence processing Do bilinguals process their two languages as if they were monolingual speakers of each This volume provides a review of existing research on relative clause attachment showing that speakers of languages like English attach relative clauses differently than do speakers of languages like Spanish Fernández reports the findings of an investigation with monolinguals and bilinguals tested using speeded on line and unspeeded off line methodology with materials in both English and Spanish The experiments reveal similarities across the groups when the procedure is speeded but differences with unspeeded questionnaires The monolinguals replicate the standard cross linguistic differences while bilinguals have language independent preferences determined by language dominance bilinguals process stimuli in either of their languages according to the general preferences of monolinguals of their dominant language

Cross-linguistic Variation in Sentence Processing Despoina Papadopoulou,2006-08-27

The central question that I will pursue in this study concerns the universality of the human sentence processing mechanism It will be explored whether there are cross linguistic differences in parsing by presenting psycholinguistic evidence from Greek Empirical data collected from both native speakers and second language learners of Greek will be used to assess various parsing models and to investigate parsing mechanisms employed in Greek The results from the L2 learners will be additionally used to shed light on the nature of sentence processing in a second language Moreover a supplementary objective of this study is to provide insights into the question of whether discourse biases guide initial parsing choices The goal of any theory of sentence processing is to determine how people arrive at the desired interpretation of a given sentence attempting thus to investigate the very nature of the human language processor Sentence processing is a rapid and automatic process one which is closely linked in time to the input Garrett 1990 136 Pickering 1999 This means that sentence processing proceeds in an incremental fashion once each word is encountered it is integrated to the sentence analysis Sentence processing necessarily involves a syntactic analysis of the sentence usually referred to as parsing which allows the reader or listener to identify the syntactic role of words within each sentence and an analysis which involves the use of semantic and pragmatic information to arrive at a plausible interpretation

Empty Categories in Sentence Processing Sam Featherston,2001 Annotation Featherston Eberhard Karls U Tubingen presents the results of three experiments on the role of empty categories phonetically null place holders for locally absent constituents in sentence processing The experiments used probe recognition sentence matching and event related potentials as well as self paced reading Coverage includes a discussion of the predictions of both Principles and Parameters Theory and Head Driven Phrase Structure Grammar Annotation c Book News Inc Portland OR booknews.com Reanalysis in Sentence Processing J. Fodor,Fernanda Ferreira,2013-03-14

The topic addressed in this volume lies within the study of sentence processing which is one of the major divisions of psycholinguistics The goal has been to understand the structure and functioning of the mental mechanisms involved in sentence comprehension Most of the experimental and theoretical work during the last twenty or thirty years has focused on first pass parsing the process of assigning structure to a sentence as its words are encountered one at a time from left to right One important guiding idea has been to delineate the processing mechanisms by studying where they fail For this purpose we identify types of sentences which perceivers have trouble assigning structure to An important class of perceptually difficult sentences are those which contain temporary ambiguities Since the parsing mechanism cannot tell what the intended structure is it may make an incorrect guess Then later on in the sentence the structure assignment process breaks down because the later words do not fit with the incorrect structural analysis This is called a garden path situation When it occurs the parsing mechanism must somehow correct itself and find a different analysis which is compatible with the incoming words This reanalysis process is the subject of the research reported here

The Lexical Basis of Sentence Processing Paola Merlo,Suzanne Stevenson,2002 This volume highlights current theories of the lexicon from the perspective of its use in sentence understanding It includes work from researchers in psycholinguistic studies on sentence comprehension

Cross-Linguistic Perspectives on Language Processing M. de Vincenzi,V. Lombardo,2012-12-06 Recent studies in psycholinguistics have ranged through a variety of languages In this trend which has no precedent studies in language processing have followed studies in language acquisition and theoretical linguistics in considering language universals in a broader scope than only in English Since the beginning of the century studies in language acquisition have produced a vast body of data from a number of Indo-European languages and the emphasis on the universal has preceded the emphasis on the particular see Slobin 1985 for a review Nowadays the research in the field advances by means of a continuous linking between the cross linguistic uniformities and the individual language influences on development The level of language universals is continuously refined as the data from a number of languages contribute to the elaboration of a more distinctive picture of the language of children The first cross linguistic studies in theoretical linguistics appeared at the end of the seventies Within the Chomskian paradigm the reference to the Romance languages caused a shift from a rule based toward a principle based formalism Chomsky 1981 1995 within alternative theories the reduced prominence of the pure phrase structure component in favor of the lexicon and or the functional relations see e g Lexical Functional Grammar Bresnan 1982 Relational Grammar Perlmutter 1983 sought empirical support in languages exhibiting deep structural differences with respect to English e g Bantu Malayalam Romance and Slavic languages Warlpiri The M De Vincenzi and V Lombardo eds Cross linguistic Perspectives on Language Processing 1 19 Cognitive Science Perspectives on Verb Representation and Processing Roberto G. de Almeida,Christina Manouilidou,2014-12-08 Verbs play an important role in how events states and other happenings are mentally represented and how they are expressed in natural language Besides their central role in linguistics verbs have long been prominent topics of research in analytic philosophy mostly on the nature of events and predicate argument structure and a topic of empirical investigation in psycholinguistics mostly on argument structure and its role in sentence comprehension More recently the representation of verb meaning has been gaining momentum as a topic of research in other cognitive science branches notably neuroscience and the psychology of concepts The present volume is an expression of this recent surge in the investigation of verb structure and meaning from the interdisciplinary perspective of cognitive science with up to date contributions by theoretical linguists philosophers psycholinguists and neuroscientists The volume presents new theoretical and empirical studies on how verb structure and verb meaning are represented how they are processed during language comprehension how they are acquired and how they are neurologically implemented Cognitive Science Perspectives on Verb Representation and Processing is a reflection of the recent collaboration between the disciplines that constitute cognitive science bringing new empirical data and theoretical insights on a key element of natural language and conceptualization **Current Perspectives on Generative SLA - Processing, Influence, and Interfaces** Marta Velnić,Anne Dahl,Kjersti Faldet Listhaug,2024-10-15 This volume comprises studies and keynote addresses presented at the 16th Generative Approaches to Second Language Acquisition Conference hosted by The Norwegian University of Science and Technology NTNU in Trondheim in 2022 The selection of cutting edge studies presented covers a wide array of topics within generative linguistics including the acquisition of grammatical features challenges of functional morphology the impact of the native language on subsequently acquired languages and interfaces between linguistic domains Other chapters address how non native language processing differs from native processing while the volume also highlights internal and external factors affecting bi and multilingual development and points to important avenues for further generative research on second language acquisition     Bilingual Sentence Processing Roberto R. Heredia,J. Altarriba,2002-07-25 This volume provides an overview of the literature on bilingual sentence processing from a psycholinguistic and linguistic perspective Research focuses on both the visual and spoken modalities including specific areas of research interest including an integrated review of methods and the utility of those methods which allows readers to have the appropriate background and context for the chapters that follow

Processing and Producing Head-final Structures Hiroko Yamashita,Yuki Hirose,Jerome L. Packard,2010-11-05 This book is the first collection of studies on an important yet under investigated linguistic phenomenon the processing and production of head final syntactic structures Until now the remarkable progress made in the field of human sentence processing had been achieved largely by investigating head initial languages such as English The goal of the present volume is to deepen our understanding by examining head final languages and offering a comparison of those results to findings from head initial languages This book brings together cross linguistic investigations of languages with prominent head final structures such as Basque Chinese German Japanese Korean and Hindi It will inform readers of linguistics with both theoretical and experimental backgrounds as it provides accounts of previous studies offers experimentally based theoretical discussions and includes experimental stimuli in the original languages

Language Comprehension: A Biological Perspective Angela D. Friederici,2012-12-06 Language comprehension and production is a uniquely human capability We know little about the evolution of language as a human trait possibly because our direct ancestors lived several million years ago This fact certainly impedes the desirable advances in the biological basis of any theory of language evolution Our knowledge about language as an existing species specific biological system however has advanced dramatically over the last two decades New experimental techniques have allowed the investigation of language and language use within the methodological framework of the natural sciences The present book provides an overview of the experimental research in the area of language comprehension in particular A biological perspective on language appears to be the common ground for all the contributors Their research view is based on the conviction that knowledge about the language system can be gained on the basis of empirical research guided by modifiable theories Each of the contributors reports and discusses the relevant work in hers or his specific field of research Each of the nine chapters in this book focuses on a different level or aspect of language comprehension thereby covering the level of input processes and word recognition the level of sentence processing as well as the level of text processing Aspects of structural representation and access to this representation are also discussed One chapter finally attempts to describe the neurobiological basis of the different aspects of the language comprehension process

Syntactic Processing Carlos Acuña-Fariña,2023-07-31 This book provides an overview of the structures topics and main theories of syntactic processing It covers the last 40 years of sentence level psycholinguistic research and debates and makes it accessible to both theoretical linguists and experimental psychologists Tying linguistically relevant issues to psycholinguistic theory this book Covers the processing of the grammatical phenomena adjunction agreement and gap filling and discusses the relationship between grammars and parsers Discusses experimental work and theories demonstrating how psychologists have made real strides in understanding language and how studying the processing of syntactic structure is the same as studying the nature of language Explores the key theories of psycholinguistics including recent developments Explains the different methodologies of sentence processing such as eye tracking and electroencephalography Bridging the gap between psycholinguistic research and the study of language this book is essential reading for advanced students and scholars of linguistics and experimental psycholinguistics as well as cognitive science and psychology

Case and Linking in Language Comprehension

Markus Bader, Josef Bayer, 2006-05-09 The German language due to its verb final nature relatively free order of constituents and morphological Case system poses challenges for models of human syntactic processing which have mainly been developed on the basis of head initial languages with little or no morphological Case The verb final order means that the parser has to make predictions about the input before receiving the verb What are these predictions What happens when the predictions turn out to be wrong Furthermore the German morphological Case system contains ambiguities How are these ambiguities resolved under the normal time pressure in comprehension Based on theoretical as well as experimental work the present monograph develops a detailed account of the processing steps that underly language comprehension At its core is a model of linking noun phrases to arguments of the verb in the developing phrase structure and checking the result with respect to features such as person number and Case This volume contains detailed introductions to human syntactic processing as well as to German syntax which will be helpful especially for readers less familiar with psycholinguistics and with Germanic

The Processing of Tense

M.W. Dickey, 2013-06-29 This work is a psycho linguistic investigation of the processing of tense more specifically the English past tense When it is interpreted how it is interpreted and what it is interpreted with respect to While there has been a great deal of attention paid to tense in the syntax and semantics literature little work has been done on the details of the psychological processing of this category The chief value and contribution of this book is to present a richly detailed in depth study of the processing of tense in adult comprehension tasks providing an excellent model of how to conceive of detailed experimental work against a background of sophisticated deep and broad linguistic theory The discussion of the representational issues is deep and informative and is directly brought to bear on experimental issues The experiments aim to evaluate whether a hypothesis called Parsimony a highly plausible notion that has received tentative experimental support in other domains is the chief controlling feature of the interpretation of tense The experimental results presented quite consistently do not confirm the apparent predictions made by Parsimony but rather tend to be more consistent with another view which Parsimony is aimed at opposing which holds that actual structural factors in the syntax of a sentence are a decisive factor Along the way the author considers a number of other plausible hypotheses as the experimental results are presented but evaluating Parsimony remains the chief
