Perspectives on the Short Story Caitlin Newcomer, Scott Ortolano, 2014 Postcolonial and Gender Perspectives in Irish Studies Marisol Morales Ladrón, 2007 This book represents an attempt to tackle questions related to fragmented and often conflicting ideologies within Irish studies Although a collective outcome with contributions in English and Spanish its unifying concern has been the appliance of postcolonial and gender perspectives to the analysis of Irish literature prose drama and verse and cinema as well as to the aesthetic production of both the Republic of Ireland and Northern Ireland Along the volume while some authors have chosen to delve into the broad theoretical debate concerning the position of Irish studies within postcolonial and feminist theories others offer detailed examinations of specific literary pieces and authors that fit in this panorama All in all the chapters are wide and diverse enough to trace a spatial and temporal map of the evolution of these paradigms within contemporary Irish studies North and South of the border An Introduction to Literary Studies Mario Klarer, 1999 An Introduction to Literary Studies provides the beginning student with an accessible and clear general survey of literature Klarer provides easy to understand descriptions of a variety of approaches to texts

The Classic Short Story, 1870-1925 Florence Goyet, 2014-01-13 The ability to construct a nuanced narrative or complex character in the constrained form of the short story has sometimes been seen as the ultimate test of an author's creativity Yet during the time when the short story was at its most popular the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries even the greatest writers followed strict generic conventions that were far from subtle This expanded and updated translation of Florence Goyet's influential La Nouvelle 1870 1925 Description d'un genre son apogée Paris 1993 is the only study to focus exclusively on this classic period across different continents Ranging through French English Italian Russian and Japanese writing particularly the stories of Guy de Maupassant Henry James Giovanni Verga Anton Chekhov and Akutagawa Ryunosuke Goyet shows that these authors were able to create brilliant and successful short stories using the very simple tools of brevity of that period In this challenging and far reaching study Goyet looks at classic short stories in the context in which they were read at the time cheap newspapers and higher end periodicals She demonstrates that despite the apparent intention of these stories to question bourgeois ideals they mostly affirmed the prejudices of their readers In doing so her book forces us to re think our preconceptions about this forgotten genre The Caribbean Short Story Lucy Evans, Mark A. McWatt, Emma Smith, 2011 The short story has been integral to the development of Caribbean literature and continues to offer possibilities for invention and reinvigoration As the most comprehensive study of its kind this important and timely volume explores the significance of the short story form to Caribbean cultural production across the twentieth and twenty first centuries The twenty original essays collected here offer a unique set of inquiries and insights into the historical cultural and stylistic characteristics of Caribbean short story writing The book draws together diverse critical perspectives from established and emerging scholars including Shirley Chew Alison Donnell James Procter Raymond Ramcharitar and Elaine Savory Essays cover the publishing histories of specific islands intersections of the local global and diasporic treatments of race and gender language orality and genre and cultural contexts from tourism to calypso to cricket Book jacket Perspectives on Indian English Fiction Jaydipsinh Dodiya, 2006 Contributed articles on 20th century English fiction

Perspectives on Stephen King Andrew J. Rausch, 2019-02-05 Stephen King is one of the most successful authors in the history of American literature His books including 55 novels 12 novellas nine short story collections and a children's book have sold 350 million copies worldwide Over the past five decades his broader impact on popular culture has been immense Most of his works have been adapted for film or television some of them by King himself and he may fairly be credited with single handedly reinventing horror once considered a B movie genre for mainstream readership This collection of original interviews with fellow authors collaborators and critics covers all things King from analyses of his best writing to his many screen adaptations to recurring themes in his stories Emerging Perspectives on Chinua Achebe Ernest

Emenyonu, Iniobong I. Uko, 2004 Chinua Achebe's influence on contemporary African literature is as much in evidence in his art of the novel as his theory of African literature and literary criticism ISINKA Igbo term for artistic purpose establishes Achebe's legacy as a literary theorist and critic In these essays scholars from around the globe assess and establish how much Achebe's extra fictional ideas about African literature and literature in general are justified in his own creative works

Our Very Own Adventure Carolyne Lee, 2011-02-15 Our Very Own Adventure demonstrates the main convention of the short story specifically the heightened reader response that Carolyne Lee terms narratorial presence The intensity of the short story encourages readers to appropriate the fictive world as rendered through one or more represented subjectivities in the narrative Lee argues that this narratorial presence is the enabling effect of the tale's telling. Each chapter examines a group of stories by authors such as William Faulkner, James Joyce, Charlotte Perkins Gilman, Ray Bradbury, and Alice Munro that share basic similarities but where the narratorial presence differs due to differing techniques. Our Very Own Adventure reveals just how a story yields its meanings to a reader. Perspectives on Written Cameroon Literature in English A. Ambanasom, 2013-02-17 In 2009 Anglophone Cameroon literature celebrated its fifty years of existence. Now at the mature age of fifty plus, this literature has a great deal to write home about even if it still has a lot to do in its pursuit of excellence. Part of its maturity resides in the fact that although the scale of literary creativity and literary criticism is skewed in favour of the former Anglophone Cameroon, literary criticism is gradually waking up from slumber in an attempt to catch up with the rapidly expanding creativity. The essays in this book comment practically on some aspects of all the genres of written literature that the Anglophone Cameroon creative writers have produced so far: the novel, drama, poetry, the short story, the essay, and children's literature. The essays on the whole are a testimony of the transition and reality from the apparent drought of Anglophone Cameroon literary paucity to the actual fruitful period of Anglophone Cameroon abundance of literary creativity. The Anglophone Cameroonians have appropriated an imperial language, English, to serve their postcolonial Cameroonian vision. Their various literary texts are vehicles of representations that are essentially cultural and ideological constructs. The works examined are initially anchored on Cameroonian experiences to take on social significance. As they are grounded on moving human experiences, these works necessarily make references to the immediate Cameroonian environment of their authors before taking on universal human significance. The book abundantly evidences and crowns Shadrach Ambanasom's achievements and reputation as a skilled pedagogue on the art of practical literary criticism. The Christian Writer's Market Guide 2014 Jerry B. Field, Amritjit Singh, Samina Najmi, 2022-02-15 Critical Perspectives on Chitra Banerjee Divakaruni Feminism and Diaspora offers insights into Chitra Banerjee Divakaruni's provocative and popular fiction. In their engaging and comprehensive introduction, editors Amritjit Singh and Robin Field explore how Divakaruni's short stories and novels have been shaped by her own struggles as a new immigrant and by the influences she imbibed from academic mentors and feminist writers of color. Twelve critical essays by both aspiring and experienced scholars explore Divakaruni's aesthetic of interconnectivity and wholeness as she links generations, races, ethnicities, and nations in her depictions of the diversity of religious and ethnic affiliations within the

Indian diaspora The contributors offer a range of critical perspectives on Divakaruni's growth as a novelist of historical mythic and political motifs The volume includes two extended interviews with Divakaruni offering insights into her personal inspirations and social concerns while also revealing her deep affection for South Asian communities as well as an essay by Divakaruni herself a candid expression of her artistic independence in response to the didactic expectations of her many South Asian readers

The Trilingual Literature of Polish Jews from Different Perspectives Alina Molisak, Shoshana Ronen, 2017-08-21 Are the literary works of Polish Jews one unified literature in three languages Yiddish Hebrew and Polish or is the literal corpus of each of these languages a separated literary and cultural phenomenon Twenty seven scholars from Europe the United States and Israel explore different aspects of the multilingual literature of Eastern European Jews with a particular focus on the trilingual literature of Polish Jews until World War II The work of the great Yiddish and Hebrew writer Isaac Leib Peretz 1852-1915 represents the center of the book though it does not concentrate solely on Peretz's work but rather discusses the oeuvre of other unique authors in the cultural space of Jews in Central and Eastern Europe generally and in Poland particularly The book looks at this issue from three aspects namely the literal cultural and historical and also examines the dialogue of Polish Jewish literature with other languages and cultures

Re-Imagining Writing: Interdisciplinary Perspectives Phil Fitzsimmons, Johanna Pentikäinen, 2019-01-04 This volume was first published by Interdisciplinary Press in 2014 Across the globe the nature of writing in the twenty-first century is coming under increasing scrutiny as technology becomes an ever increasing component of everyday life and as measuring human output also takes hold in many disciplines This book offers an alternative to these twin developments providing instead many alternatives Coming from an international set of authors with different world views paradigms and praxes the common theme of writing is explored with deep enthusiasm interest in productivity and human capacity and that leads to a polyphonic and progressive inquiry to the subject matter Each author's initial contribution suggests that writing as an object of study needs reimagining be it connected to learning knowledge creation or artistic expression Writing is a deeply person-centred process and its open transformative and multidimensional nature escaped definitions but can be understood through the metaphor of the gift
