The Recovery of Rhetoric Richard H. Roberts, James M. M. Good, 1993      The Legacy of Kenneth Burke Herbert W. Simons, Trevor Melia, 1989 Capturing the lively modernist milieu of Kenneth Burke s early career in Greenwich Village where Burke arrived in 1915 fresh from high school in Pittsburgh this book discovers him as an intellectual apprentice conversing with the moderns Burke found himself in the midst of an avant garde peopled by Malcolm Cowley Marianne Moore Jean Toomer Katherine Anne Porter William Carlos Williams Allen Tate Hart Crane Alfred Stieglitz and a host of other fascinating figures Burke himself who died in 1993 at the age of 96 has been hailed as America's most brilliant and suggestive critic and the most significant theorist of rhetoric since Cicero. Many schools of thought have claimed him as their own but Burke has defied classification and indeed has often been considered a solitary eccentric genius immune to intellectual fashions. But Burke's formative work of the 1920s when he first defined himself and his work in the context of the modernist conversation has gone relatively unexamined. Here we see Burke living and working with the crowd of poets, painters and dramatists affiliated with Others magazine, Stieglitz's 291 gallery and Eugene O'Neill's Provincetown Players, the leftists associated with the magazines The Masses and Seven Arts, the Dadaists and the modernist writers working on literary journals like The Dial where Burke in his capacity as an associate editor saw T.S. Eliot's The Wasteland into print for the first time and provided other editorial services for Thomas Mann, E.E. Cummings, Ezra Pound and many other writers of note. Burke also met the iconoclasts of the older generation represented by Theodore Dreiser and H.L. Menckens, the New Humanists and the literary nationalists who founded Contact and The New Republic. Jack Selzer shows how Burke's own early poems, fiction and essays emerged from and contributed to the modernist conversation in Greenwich Village. He draws on a wonderfully rich array of letters between Burke and his modernist friends and on the memoirs of his associates to create a vibrant portrait of the young Burke's transformation from aesthete to social critic.

Pohl IV,2020-04-16 William C Pohl IV investigates ethical God talk in the book of Job by exploring the prominence of such theology showing how each major section of the book highlights the theme of proper speech and demonstrating that Job s internal rhetoric is the foundation for the book s external rhetoric Pohl analyses each of Job s speeches for literary rhetorical situation forms i e genres its rhetorical strategies the rhetorical goals of each speech are identified in light of Job s exigency or exigencies and his use of strategies is explored in light of these goals Pohl argues that Job faces two main exigencies his suffering and the necessity of defending his protest prayer vis vis his friends Job seeks to alleviate his suffering with protest prayer and to defend his prayers to the friends through argumentation Following the internal rhetorical analysis this study proceeds to examine the external rhetorical effect of the Elihu and Yahweh speeches vis vis ethical God talk Pohl concludes that the book of Job shapes its readers to see protest prayer as an ethical even encouraged form of discourse in the midst of innocent suffering Brief implications of this conclusion are outlined identifying the book s rhetorical situation through the entextualized problem in the book Pohl proposes a new exigency for the book of Job in which protest prayer was eschewed and a tentative proposal for the book of Job s historical provenance is outlined      Marketing Communication Allan J. Church Emmanuel D. Mbennah, 2013-08-09 In this book Emmanuel Mbennah argues that Christian spiritual maturity is the bridge between the new identity of the Christian articulated in Ephesians 1:3 and the moral code of the Christian life commensurate with the new identity presented in Ephesians 4:17-6:20. From an interpretation of Ephesians 4:13 Mbennah brings to the fore what Christian spiritual maturity is and why it is imperative. He argues that Ephesians 4:1-16 is about spiritual maturity and not about Christian unity except unity as a by-product of maturity. A case study in which the meaning of spiritual maturity is used as a critical standard to evaluate the spiritual maturity of a church in a particular context further clarifies the meaning of spiritual maturity and demonstrates what a sad state of immaturity a church could be in. Mbennah calls for the Church's return to the pursuit of maturity and a return to the subject in New Testament scholarship.
