Dingle, 2012-12-06 This volume is an outgrowth of a Symposium entitled Evolution of Escape in Space and Time held at the XV International Congress of Entomology in Washington D C USA in August 1976 The choice of topic was prompted by recent advances in evolutionary ecology and the apparent suitability of insect migration and diapause as appropriate material for evolutionary studies In the event that choice seems amply justified as I hope a perusal of these papers will show These Symposium papers hardly cover the topic of the evolution of escape mechanisms exhaustively and I am sure everyone will have his favorite lacuna Some of the more obvious ones are indicated by Professor Southwood in his Concluding Remarks at the end of the book The purpose of the Symposium however was not complete coverage but rather to indicate the potential inherent in insect migration and diapause for the study of evolutionary problems In that I think we have succeeded reasonably well These papers are expanded and in some cases somewhat altered versions of the papers delivered in Washington This has allowed greater coverage of the topics in question I suggested a format of a general overview of a topic emphasizing the author's own research contributions In general the papers follow this outline although emphases vary Two of the authors Dr Rainey and Dr Lumme were unable to attend the Symposium Dr Rainey's paper was read by Mr Frank Walsh but Dr Modernist Parasites Sebastian Williams, 2023-08-22 Modernist Parasites Bioethics Dependency and Literature Post 1900 analyzes biological and social parasites in the political scientific and literary imagination With the rise of Darwinism eugenics and parasitology in the late nineteenth century Sebastian Williams posits that the parasite came to be humanity's ultimate other a dangerous antagonist But many authors such as Isaac Rosenberg John Steinbeck Franz Kafka Clarice Lispector Nella Larsen and George Orwell reconsider parasitism Ultimately parasites inherently depend on others for their survival illustrating the limits of ethical models that privilege the discrete individual above interdependent communities Our Migrant Shorebirds in Southern South America Alexander Wetmore, 1928 Pest Management: Crop protection Chris J.
