INTRODUCTION

"The density of a country is shaped in its classrooms" stated that the Indian Education Commission (1964-66). The moral education is generally known as value education. The value education is consisting of values, such as ethical, spiritual, religious, cultural, human and social values. The value education plays a special role to inculcate moral values any human, also it has more responsible in making good citizens in the society, as like as value education helps students and human society for character development, personality development and spiritual development. More over Ethical value development includes both thinking morally and behaving morally at any time.

An ethical person is not only a person who does the right thing, but also one who does the right thinking for the 'right' reason. That ethical value arises in the courses of moral experiences. The teacher is the builder of a pleasant society. The over-all development of every student depends upon the professional competency and ability of the teacher. Ethics in profession, however cannot be channelized in many directions, morally the strong dedicated teacher can play the role model in moral education. Though a teacher is the mainly responsible person to the society, but their professional ethics are more essential to become a good teacher. In this 21st century, all teachers belong to a learning society in which they are always to be a non-stop learner and to play their role effectively.

ETHICS

Ethics is defined by the Oxford Dictionary as dealing to morals and treating moral issues; it is also morally upright and honourable. Additionally, according to the Psychology Dictionary, it is a subfield of philosophy that examines what constitutes proper or improper, good or poor, human behaviour when pursuing more effectively navigated with the rational principles and guidelines that philosophies of different ethical frameworks can provide. They argue that teachers require ethical skills especially ethical sensitivity in order to select the most beneficial course of action concerning diverse students in inclusive education. They should be purposeful in their profession to develop the motivation and resilience to continue their demanding but fulfilling work with long term goals. Moreover, they should acknowledge their implicit beliefs and possible stereotypes to be able to provide equal learning opportunities to their students and to build democratic moral communities in their schools. In this book, ethical sensitivity, purposeful teaching, and incremental beliefs concerning learning are seen as important prerequisites for teachers' professional ethics. We discuss these aspects with examples from our empirical studies in Finnish schools.
