Palliative Care Nursing Deborah Witt Sherman, 2010. This textbook has introduced concepts and methods of education which help to move palliative nursing forward as an evidenced based practice of whole person care. Betty Ferrell PhD FAAN Research Scientist. From the Foreword. In this comprehensive textbook on palliative care nursing, editors Marianne Matzo and Deborah Witt Sherman succeed in bringing together the heart of nursing and the true meaning of palliative care with the most current evidence based practice. GeriPal. Palliative care is a philosophy of caregiving that integrates disease modification with supportive compassionate therapies for patients at the end of life. Palliative care nurses are responsible for alleviating pain and other physical symptoms along with satisfying the emotional, social, cultural, and spiritual needs of patients who are facing life threatening illness. This third edition of Palliative Care Nursing provides more comprehensive, newly updated content, knowledge, attitudes, skills, and cutting edge teaching and learning strategies to achieve the AACN End of Life nursing competencies, providing a lifespan approach. Now in its third edition, this book continues to emphasize the value of complementary holistic modalities in promoting health, wholeness, and wellness even as death approaches. Key topics discussed: Ethical aspects of palliative care, Legal aspects of end of life decision making, Loss, suffering, grief, and bereavement on the part of patients and their families, Symptom specific nursing management of pain, anxiety, depression, fatigue, malnutrition, and dehydration, all common to palliative care. How to communicate with the seriously ill and dying patients, their families, and their health care providers. Disease specific aspects of palliative care for those battling cancer, heart disease, lung disease, HIV/AIDS, end stage renal and liver disease, neurological and other disorders.

Palliative Care Nursing Marianne Matzo, Deborah Witt Sherman, 2006. Annotation: Offering a blend of holistic and humanistic caring coupled with aggressive management of pain and symptoms associated with advanced disease, this resource is organized around 15 competencies in palliative care developed by the American Association of Colleges of Nursing, with each chapter outlining specific skills needed to achieve each competency.

Department of Nursing Education and Research, City of Hope National Medical Center, Betty R. Ferrell, Research Scientist, Supportive Care Program, Nessa Coyle, Director, Pain & Palliative Service, Department of Neurology, Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center, 2005-11-10. Originally published in 2001, the Textbook of Palliative Nursing has become the standard text for the field of hospice and palliative care nursing. In this new edition, the authors and editors have updated each chapter to ensure that the content is evidence based and current references are included. They also have retained the important focus on case studies throughout the text and practical, clinically relevant tables, figures, and other resources. Like the previous edition, this text has an introductory section of the general principles of palliative care followed by a comprehensive section on symptom assessment and management encompassing twenty one different symptoms Other key sections include psychosocial support and spiritual care providing holistic perspective on care of patients facing advanced disease The text also includes an innovative section on special populations addressing those most in need of palliative care The textbook is a useful resource for all nurses with the excellent section on end of life care across settings In this new edition the pediatric palliative care section has been greatly expanded and includes seven separate chapters on pediatric care It includes a section on special issues addressing topics such as ethical considerations nursing research and public policy perspectives and concludes with a section presenting models of excellence including six international models This edition also offers a narrative on dying based on a spouse s perspective The text includes an appendix with an extensive list of resources for nurses in the field

Palliative Care Nursing: Principles And Evidence For Practice Payne, Sheila,Seymour, Jane,Ingleton, Christine,2008-08-01 This textbook in palliative care nursing draws together the principles and evidence that underpins practice to support nurses working in specialist palliative care settings and those whose work involves end of life care

Palliative Care Nursing Sheila Payne,2008-08-01 It has been a true pleasure to have had the opportunity to peruse the second edition ofPalliative Care Nursing This book authored predominately by UK based experts succeeds in presenting sophisticated thoughts in readily accessible language Each chapter begins with a summary of key points with both classic and new relevant literature well integrated into the text I have also been particularly impressed with the editors final chapter in which they synthesize a number of crucial issues for the future development of palliative care this second edition makes a significant contribution to both the palliative care literature as well as to nursing literature Carol Tishelman Karolinska Institutet Stockholm Sweden I findPalliative Care Nursinga very attractive book for nurses but also for other disciplines to learn about nursing and to learn about palliative care The book is voluminous informative and educationally well constructed Frameworks and models in this book will give nurses the opportunity to make up their own process to offer support and be a carer for the incurably ill person and his her family as a skilled companion This book gives the possibility for nurses to spread one clear voice about palliative care nursing Congratulations to all the authors Martine De Vlieger Palliatieve Hulpverlening Antwerpen v z w University of Antwerp Belgium This book should be compulsory reading for nurses and other health care workers who are involved in the care of people in the final stages of life It provides a comprehensive account of the major issues clinical professional sociological and political that confront contemporary palliative care while also offering strategies to move forward The real world of palliative care is described and critiqued and the rhetoric is dispensed with This book is a vital resource for nursing practice learning and teaching Associate Professor Peter Hudson RN PhD Director of the Centre for Palliative Care Research and Education St Vincent s Hospital and The University of Melbourne Australia This is an excellent book for anyone completing either an academic qualification or who wants to understand the who what and where of palliative care both in the UK and abroad Its detail is balanced with case studies and practical illustrations that bring the academic nature of its writing to life For reference purposes for anyone completing academic work it has to be an absolute must Nursing Times The second edition of this innovative textbook has been extensively revised and updated to reflect new global developments in palliative care This textbook reviews current research and examines the evidence base for palliative care policy and practice Over a third of the chapters are newly commissioned from leading international contributors Building on the widely acclaimed original edition the textbook focuses on palliative care for adults in a variety of care environments The first three sections use a novel framework the trajectory of life limiting illness to cover key issues including What happens to people as they become ill How individuals cope as they near death and are dying How families and friends deal with bereavement and loss The final section addresses contemporary issues in nursing and inter professional working The book is written with helpful overviews and in an informative and reader friendly style There are numerous examples of clinical situations and research studies which are examined in depth to illustrate debates in palliative care The textbook spans the range of end of life contexts which are of relevance to practitioners educationalists and researchers Palliative Care Nursing is essential reading for post qualification nursing students and all nurses and health and social care professionals who provide care to people with advanced illness and those who are near the end of life This broad ranging critical text will be invaluable to students and practitioners working with people and their families near the end of life

Palliative Care for Chronic Cancer Patients in the Community Michael Silberman, 2020-10-29 The new global cancer data suggests that the global burden has risen to 18.1 million new cases per year and 9.6 million cancer deaths per year A number of factors appear to be driving this increase in particular a growing and aging global population and an increase of exposure to cancer risk factors linked to social and economic development For rapidly growing economies the data suggests a shift from poverty or infection related cancers to those associated with lifestyles more typical in industrialized countries There is still large geographical diversity in cancer occurrence and variations in the magnitude and profile of the disease between and within world regions There are specific types of cancer that dominate globally lung female breast and colorectal cancer and the regional variations in common cancer types signal the extent to which societal economic and lifestyle changes interplay to differentially impact on the profile of this most complex group of diseases Unfortunately despite advances in cancer care a significant proportion of patients at home experience sub optimal outcomes Barriers to successful treatment outcomes include but are not limited to access to oncologists in the primary health centers non adherence lack of experienced oncology and palliative care nurses in the community inadequate monitoring and the lack of training of family and pediatric physicians Telemedicine approaches including telephone triage education telemonitoring teleconsultation and status tracking through mobile applications have shown promise in further improving outcomes in particular for chronic cancer patients following their hospitalization Lessons can be learned from existing hospices in North America the United Kingdom Australia Centers of Excellence in African Uganda and modern community services in India Kerala An important goal of this book is to describe and encourage professionals to develop new community programs in palliative care which include training and empowering physicians and nurses in the community on the principles of palliative care The Middle East Cancer Consortium MECC together with the American Society of Clinical Oncology ASCO and the American Oncology Nursing Society ONS have conducted multiple courses ranging from basic palliative care to more specialized training in palliative care for multiple nationalities in Europe Asia and Africa Our experience clearly indicates that to promote such activities one needs strong leadership and confirmed political will to support the endeavor The new book will emphasize the importance of having a core of multiple stakeholders including community leaders government NGOs and media to be actively involved in advocating for the cause and generating public awareness This text will provide the reader with a comprehensive understanding of the outside of the hospital treatment of cancer patients by medical paramedical and volunteer personnel In doing so this text will encourage the creation of new palliative care services improving upon the existing ones and stimulate further research in this field Part 1 of the text will begin with an overview of the current state of affairs of services provided to cancer patients while being cared for by primary health centers It will also review the current literature regarding medical and psychological based therapy options in the community for cancer patients at different stages of their disease Part 2 will address the unique role of the community nurse within the framework of the multidisciplinary team treating the patient in the attempt to provide optimal evaluation and care in very challenging situations such as with terminal patients Part 3 will provide insightful models of this new discipline and serve as a valuable resource for physicians nurses social workers and others involved in the care of cancer patients The book will take a multidisciplinary approach integrating clinical and environmental data for practical management to enhance the efficacy of treatment while relieving suffering Part 4 will also discuss the application of modern technological approaches to track symptoms quality of life diet mobility duration of sleep and medication use including pain killers in chronic cancer patients in the community Part 5 of the book will also be devoted to modes of developing a collaborative program between governmental and non governmental organization sectors This includes volunteer workers in close collaboration with medical professionals for providing emotional and spiritual support nursing care nutritional support and empowering family caregivers Such a model makes palliative care in the community a people s movement thus transferring part of the responsibility and ownership to the community
