British Romanticism in European Perspective Steve

Clark, Tristanne Connolly, 2015-09-08 What and when is British Romanticism if seen not in island isolation but cosmopolitan integration with European Romantic literature history and culture The essays here range from poetry and the novel to science writing philosophy visual art opera and melodrama from France and Germany to Italy and Bosnia A Dialectical

Perspective on the Concept of Romanticism Nicklas Skovgaard Petersen, 2020-01-27 In this book I present and discuss a dialectical rethinking of the concept of Romanticism The viewpoint on the concept has undergone a significant transformation since Jerome McGann first challenged the traditional definition of Romanticism This perspective expands the framework of the concept by generating a forum for further study on the literary canon of Romanticism Instead of defining the concept solely on the similarities of the romantic writers this book aims to step beyond theoretical limitations and provide an approach to the study of cultural theory which creates a continuous and evergrowing synthesis of thought New

Perspectives On British Authors Rama Kundu, 2006 The irresistible and eternal attraction of an island has surfaced in literature as a varied range of tropes the domain of strange fantastic creatures flora and fauna an Other since the ancient times epitome of the charm of the distant in the romantic era real geographical spaces since the era of sea voyaging discovery and re mapping of islands with the emergence of imperialism new meanings arising from the new imperial discourse in the postcolonial era the islanders themselves writing back to the mainstream canon Today we have a great harvest of island literature arising out of various discourses including postcolonial postimperial feminist ecological cultural etc in addition to unique works on island arising from individual perceptions philosophical imaginative emotional nostalgic etc A study of island literature across ages and lands thus can introduce us not only to a vast spectrum of ideas approaches contemplation ideation discourses and counter discourses But also to a wide network of inter references in which authors across lands and ages from Homer to Shakespeare Defoe Swift Ballantyne Golding Coetzee Virginia Woolf to Margaret Atwood Rhys Walcott Eco Saramago seem to reach out to one another and shake hands A basic perceptual difference between the outsider and the insider as they behold their encircled space has contributed to great counterpoints compulsive confinement challenge of survival thrill of discovery satisfaction of possession love claustrophobia desire to escape desire to return and repossess etc which writers have brought to correspond to a wide range of contrapuntal discourses It has been envisioned as the exclusive space for the artist the woman as time's backwater as the magic realm of the surreal hyperreal fantasia etc Island has come to semiotize a wide range of tropes and significations It appears that if island is a signifier then the signified are endless Indeed the island paradigm seems to be like a magic crystal reflecting innumerable strands and shades of meanings depending on the way you looked at it The subject involves an area of oceanic vastness starting from the coast of the ancient ages right into the ports of the modern and postmodern times The area has been ever spreading and vibrant texts have been sprawling all the time sprouting newer branches accumulating newer layers of meaning and striking newer depths of perception and insight This book an outcome of the UGC Emeritus Fellowship has been an attempt to scoop up a few of these infinite infinities of islands as they are presented and projected in texts across ages and spaces starting from Valmiki and Homer and continuing into the postmodern islands of Jose Saramago and Umberto Eco

Philosophical Romanticism Nikolas Kompridis, 2006-09-27 Philosophical Romanticism is one of the first books to address the relationship between philosophy and romanticism an area which is currently undergoing a major revival This collection of specially written articles by world class philosophers explores the contribution of romantic thought to topics such as freedom autonomy and subjectivity memory and imagination pluralism and practical reasoning modernism scepticism and irony art and ethics and cosmology time and technology While the roots of romanticism are to be found in early German idealism Philosophical Romanticism shows that it is not a purely European phenomenon the development of romanticism can be traced through to North American philosophy in the era of Emerson and Dewey and up to the current work of Stanley Cavell and Richard Rorty The articles in this collection suggest that philosophical romanticism offers a compelling alternative to both the reductionist tendencies of the naturalism in analytic philosophy and deconstruction and other forms of scepticism found in continental philosophy This outstanding collection will be of interest to those studying philosophy literature and nineteenth and twentieth century thought chapters examining key texts written by major writers in languages including French German Italian Spanish Russian Hungarian Greek and Polish amongst others A second section then explores the naturally interdisciplinary quality of Romanticism exemplified by the different discourses with which writers of the time set up an internal comparative dynamic These chapters highlight the sense a discourse gives of being written knowledgeably against other pretenders to completeness or comprehensiveness of self understanding of the time Discourses typically advance their own claims to resume European culture collaborating with and at the same time trying to assimilate each other in the process The main examples featured here are history geography drama theology language philosophy political theory the sciences and the media Each chapter offers an original and individual interpretation of an inherently comparative world of individual writers and the discursive idioms to which they are historically subject Together the forty one chapters provide a comprehensive and provocative overview of European Romanticism

An Episode of Jewish Romanticism Ernest H. Rubinstein, 2012-02-01

Examining romanticism in the thought of Jewish philosopher Franz Rosenzweig this book compares his magnum opus The Star of Redemption with Leo Baeck's essay Romantic Religion and Friedrich Schelling's Philosophy of Art texts representing two distinct and to a large extent opposed interpretations of romanticism Rosenzweig's thought was shaped by two intellectual histories Germany's and Judaism's Because romanticism had such a definite impact on modern German writing and thought it becomes a question whether and to what extent Rosenzweig too was a romantic Part of the force of the question derives from the tensions sometimes noted between Jewish and romantic worldviews In this book author Ernest Rubinstein shows The Star of Redemption to be along the spectrum of ideas that extends between Baeck and Schelling and thus illustrates a qualified romanticism
