

POLICY STATEMENTS

College Policies

The following statements are selected from Centennial College policies approved by the Board of Governors.

Student Responsibilities

Students are expected to know the contents of the course outline and to discuss with the professor any areas where clarification is required.

Students should keep all course outlines for each course taken at Centennial College. These may be used to apply for transfer of credit to other educational institutions. A fee may be charged for additional or replacement copies.

Other Policies

Students should familiarize themselves with all College Policies that cover students' rights, responsibilities, and the Academic Appeal process. For further information, consult the Academic Matters Section in the full-time and Continuing Education calendars. The Academic Appeal Application form is available from any Enrolment Services Office.

Final Examinations

When writing a test or examination, students must put their official photo-ID cards in full view for review by the invigilator. Students who do not have official photo-ID will be permitted to write the examination with a substitute photo-ID, but they will be required to produce photo-ID at the program or department office within 24 hours or the next business day following the examination, or else the examination results will be void.

More Final Examination Policies are available at <http://my.centennialcollege.ca>.

College Academic Standings will be applied. Please see Academic Policies and Procedures, Full-Time Calendar.

Prin Distributed Database Sys Pie:

Object Management in Distributed Database Systems for Stationary and Mobile Computing Environments Wujuan Lin, Bharadwaj Veeravalli, 2003-10-31 Network based computing domain unifies all best research efforts presented from single computer systems to networked systems to render overwhelming computational power for several modern day applications. Although this power is expected to grow with respect to time due to technological advancements, application requirements impose a continuous thrust on network utilization and on the resources to deliver supreme quality of service. Strictly speaking, network based computing domain has no confined scope and each element offers considerable challenges. Any modern day networked application strongly thrives on efficient data storage and management system which is essentially a Database System. There have been number of books to date in this domain that discuss fundamental principles of designing a database system. Research in this domain is now far matured and many researchers are venturing in this domain continuously due to a wide variety of challenges posed. In this book, our domain of interest is in exposing the underlying key challenges in designing algorithms to handle unpredictable requests that arrive at a Distributed Database System (DDBS) and evaluating their performance. These requests are otherwise called as on line requests arriving at a system to process Transactions in an on line Banking service, Airline Reservation system, Video on Demand system etc. are few examples of on line requests.

Principles of Distributed Database Systems M. Tamer Özsu, Patrick Valduriez, 2011-02-24 This third edition of a classic textbook can be used to teach at the senior undergraduate and graduate levels. The material concentrates on fundamental theories as well as techniques and algorithms. The advent of the Internet and the World Wide Web and more recently the emergence of cloud computing and streaming data applications has forced a renewal of interest in distributed and parallel data management while at the same time requiring a rethinking of some of the traditional techniques. This book covers the breadth and depth of this re-emerging field. The coverage consists of two parts. The first part discusses the fundamental principles of distributed data management and includes distribution design, data integration, distributed query processing and optimization, distributed transaction management and replication. The second part focuses on more advanced topics and includes discussion of parallel database systems, distributed object management, peer to peer data management, web data management, data stream systems and cloud computing. New in this Edition: New chapters covering database replication, database integration, multidatabase query processing, peer to peer data management and web data management. Coverage of emerging topics such as data streams and cloud computing. Extensive revisions and updates based on years of class testing and feedback. Ancillary teaching materials are available.

Distributed Database Management Systems Saeed K. Rahimi, Frank S. Haug, 2010-07-16 This book addresses issues related to managing data across a distributed database system. It is unique because it covers traditional database theory and current research explaining the difficulties in providing a unified user interface and global data dictionary. The book gives implementers guidance on hiding discrepancies across systems and creating the illusion of a single repository for users It also includes three sample frameworks implemented using J2SE with JMS J2EE and Microsoft Net that readers can use to learn how to implement a distributed database management system IT and development groups and computer sciences software engineering graduates will find this guide invaluable Distributed Database Systems Chhanda Ray,Ray,2009

Distributed Database Systems discusses the recent and emerging technologies in the field of distributed database technology The material is up to date highly readable and illustrated with numerous practical examples The mainstream areas of distributed database technology such as distributed database design distributed DBMS architectures distributed transaction management distributed concurrency control deadlock handling in distributed systems distributed recovery management distributed query processing and optimization data security and catalog management have been covered in detail The popular distributed database systems SDD 1 and R have also been included Database Systems for Advanced Applications
