Salvadorans In The United States The Case For Extended Voluntary Departure:

Extended Voluntary Departure Issues United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on the Judiciary. Subcommittee on Immigration and Refugee Policy,1985 Temporary Safe Haven for Salvadorans United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on the Judiciary. Subcommittee on Immigration and Refugee Affairs,1988 Salvadorans in the United States ,1983 This report examines the controversy concerning the legal status of Salvadorian refugees in the United States of which there are estimated to be from 300 000 to 500 000 Approximately 25 000 have applied for asylum and many have been deported from the United States The authors maintain that asylum is inappropriate because most Salvadorians have a fear of generalized violence rather than of individual persecution The report studies and documents conditions in El Salvador which are found to be characterized by violence and instability resulting in a breakdown of the basic framework of social and economic life It provides evidence to demonstrate the particular vulnerability of displaced persons The authors argue that refoulement of Salvadorians should be abolished immediately and that they should be granted extended voluntary departure status EVD EVD is granted at the discretion of the Attorney General and allows citizens of countries experiencing dangerous conditions to remain temporarily in the United States and to obtain permission to work Finally the authors argue that Salvadorians present a compelling humanitarian case and have a legitimate fear of refoulement Documentation on the fate of Salvadorians who have been deported is appended Stay of Deportation for Undocumented Salvadorans and Nicaraguans United States. Congress. House. Committee on the Judiciary. Subcommittee on Immigration, Refugees, and International Law,1987 Temporary Suspension of Deportation of Certain Aliens United States. Congress. Congress,1990 The Congressional Record is the official record of the proceedings and debates of the United States Congress. It is published daily when Congress is in session. The Congressional Record began publication in 1873. Debates for sessions prior to 1873 are recorded in The Debates and Proceedings in the Congress of the United States 1789-1824, the Register of Debates in Congress 1824-1837, and the Congressional Globe 1833-1873. Foreign Assistance and Related Agencies Appropriations, United States Congress, House, Committee on Appropriations, Subcommittee on Foreign Operations and Related Agencies Appropriations, 1986. Annual Refugee Consultation for 1982, United States Congress, Senate, Committee on the Judiciary, 1982. Inter-American Relations, 1989. Information Services on Latin America, 1993-04. Clippings of Latin American political, social, and economic news from various English language newspapers. Fight and Flight, David Bassano, 2016-06-22. The 1980s saw one of the largest social movements in US history as activists fought to change the Reagan Administration's policy of supporting right-wing terror and oligarchy in Central America. Despite the size and diversity of the movement, however, it remains understudied. Fight and Flight examines the campaigns of three US NGOs: namely Amnesty International USA, the National Lawyers Guild, and the Committee in Solidarity with the People of El Salvador. By analyzing the ways in which the NGOs ameliorated the effects of human rights violations in Central America, primarily through their refugee assistance programs, this research demonstrates that the movement was more effective than is generally reflected in the existing literature. Of particular interest for academic students of human rights and social movements, as well as activists interested in strategies of social change, this book offers a nuanced reading of a critical movement for human rights and international justice. Western Hemisphere Immigration and United States Foreign Policy, Christopher Mitchell, 2010-11-01. Temporary Safe Haven Act of 1987, United States Congress, House, Committee on the Judiciary, Subcommittee on Immigration, Refugees, and International Law, 1988.
