Sam Lawson's Oldtown Fireside Stories Harriet Beecher Stowe, 1881 Sam Lawson's Oldtown Fireside Stories Harriet Beecher Stowe, 2020-09-28 COME Sam tell us a story said I as Harriet and I crept to his knees in the glow of the bright evening firelight while Aunt Lois was busily rattling the tea things and grandmamma at the other end of the fireplace was quietly setting the heel of a blue mixed yarn stocking In those days we had no magazines and daily papers each reeling off a serial story Once a week The Columbian Sentinel came from Boston with its slender stock of news and editorial but all the multiform devices pictorial narrative and poetical which keep the mind of the present generation ablaze with excitement had not then even an existence There was no theatre no opera there were in Oldtown no parties or balls except perhaps the annual election or Thanksgiving festival and when winter came and the sun went down at half past four o'clock and left the long dark hours of evening to be provided for the necessity of amusement became urgent Hence in those days chimney corner story telling became an art and an accomplishment Society then was full of traditions and narratives which had all the uncertain glow and shifting mystery of the firelit hearth upon them They were told to sympathetic audiences by the rising and falling light of the solemn embers with the hearth crickets filling up every pause Then the aged told their stories to the young tales of early life tales of war and adventure of forest days of Indian captivities and escapes of bears and wild cats and panthers of rattlesnakes of witches and wizards and strange and wonderful dreams and appearances and providences In those days of early Massachusetts faith and credence were in the very air Two thirds of New England was then dark unbroken forests through whose tangled paths the mysterious winter wind groaned and shrieked and howled with weird noises and unaccountable clamors Along the iron bound shore the stormful Atlantic raved and thundered and dashed its moaning waters as if to deaden and deafen any voice that might tell of the settled life of the old civilized world and shut us forever into the wilderness A good story teller in those days was always sure of a warm seat at the hearthstone and the delighted homage of children and in all Oldtown there was no better story teller than Sam Lawson Sam Lawson's Oldtown Fireside Stories Гарриет Бичер-Строу, 2017-05-02 Sam Lawson's Oldtown Fireside Stories Stowe H., Harriet Beecher Stowe 1811 1896 was an American abolitionist and author She is best known for her novel Uncle Tom's Cabin which depicts the harsh conditions for enslaved African Americans Sam Lawson's Oldtown Fireside Stories is a sequel to her novel Old Town Folks featuring some of the same characters It is a collection of fifteen charming short stories told by Sam Lawson to some young boys of Oldtown The author here masterfully captures many of the colloquial expressions superstitions beliefs customs and habits of that period Sam Lawson's Oldtown Fireside Stories Harriet Beecher Stowe, 2018-04-17 Sam Lawson's Oldtown Fireside Stories (Illustrated Edition) Harriet Beecher Stowe, 2016-01-13 A collection of stories by the author of Uncle Tom's Cabin reprinted from the Houghton Mifflin edition of 1881 Oldtown folks, and Sam Lawson's Oldtown fireside stories Harriet Beecher Stowe, 1899 [Oldtown folks.
