Were Our Mouths Filled With Song Eric L. Friedland,1997-11-01 Since the period in which the Jewish liturgy was standardized there has hardly been a time when it was not somehow in a state of flux Eric L. Friedland explores the countless ways that the Siddur Mahzor and Haggadah have been adjusted amplified or transformed so as to faithfully mirror modern Jews understanding of themselves their place in society and their sancta In the tradition of liturgologists such as Elbogen Idelsohn and Petuchowski Friedland focuses on latter day adaptations of the prayerbook giving proper recognition to the recent concern for intellectual integrity cultural congruity group and individual self redefinition and honest speech in Jewish prayer The prayerbooks themselves are witnesses to innovation in the Jewish liturgy From David Einhorn's Olath Tamid Baltimore 1855 to Isaac Mayer Wise's Minhag Amerika Cincinnati 1857 and Marcus Jastrow's 1873 revision of Benjamin Szold's Abodath Israel Baltimore 1864 Friedland analyzes evidence of creativity in British and American Reform Jewish liturgy Various rites for the Days of Awe provide a particularly accurate glimpse of how Jewish communities here and abroad experience the sacred consider eternal mysteries and communicate with God Friedland also sets the Reform Gates of Prayer in historical and denominational perspective by considering it alongside the Reconstructionist Kol Haneshamah and the Israeli Progressive HaAvodah shebaLev The state and direction of liturgical change emerges from a survey of commonalities and divergences in nineteenth and twentieth century prayerbooks in terms of Sephardic and mystical influences attitudes toward the messianic hope and collective sentiments of forgiveness or vengeance toward Israel's enemies Liturgical approaches to the commemoration of the Ninth of Av suggest that even an ancient fast day can recover relevance credibility and authenticity for Liberal Jews in the postmodern era

Pesach for the Rest of Us Marge Piercy,2009-04-02 Every year

poet and novelist Marge Piercy creates her own Passover seder with a group of family and friends. Babies have been born and grown up friends have moved or divorced but the principals continue to gather in her rustic Cape Cod home to participate in a seder that Piercy takes joy in tweaking each spring to make it more meaningful. In this journey through the ritual Piercy coaxes us toward a significant contemporary interpretation rather than an emphasis on what is strictly correct or traditional. She reminisces about her grandmother who thought herself unworthy to lead a seder because of her limited Hebrew but presided morally at the table she urges adding an orange to the seder plate she even describes her heroic efforts to make her own gefilte fish an experiment not to be repeated. Piercy offers her distinct slant on each element of the feast and provides dozens of her own wonderful recipes which she delivers in the same warm commanding voice as is heard in her poems and prose. When I told Ira that I was going to explain how to cook matzoh brei he thought I was crazy. Everybody knows how to make matzoh brei he said. But I am of the opinion that there is no longer anything that everybody knows how to cook. It is in that spirit no question too simple that Piercy welcomes readers to her kind of seder a homemade and personal affair the kind we all wish we could attend. This charming and instructive book of Passover wisdom brimming with favorite dishes and Marge Piercy's own moving Passover poems and blessings invites us to look at an important Jewish ritual in a whole new way.
