on the possibilities of transition that showcases the innovation and craftsmanship of a consummate and widely celebrated storyteller The Rise and Fall of Faith Drew Bekius, 2017-07-01 The story of religion in the twenty first century West has been defined in part by the stories of once zealous pastors moving beyond their faith to embrace a life of reason But too often and too quickly ardent believers dismiss such accounts as aberrations and fail to consider the real life implications for those who make this transition Atheists and other skeptics meanwhile struggle to understand what took these individuals so long to make such a journey and why others aren't lining up more quickly to do the same As a result the questions posed by one side inevitably mirror those asked by the other Why do believers trust in God the way they do But what factors lead atheists to dismiss religious beliefs so easily How can believers have faith in the face of known science and history But what allows anyone to be so sure their beliefs are based in reality What would it take for believers to stop believing in God But what would it take for nonbelievers to start to believe Drawing on the author's own story as a former evangelical pastor powerless to stop his turn to atheism The Rise and Fall of Faith touches on these and other questions inviting readers into a long overdue conversation between Christians and atheists While the aim of the book is to initiate this much needed discussion the author encourages all who care about the future of humanity to carry the dialogue forward whether in the evaluation of our own inner thoughts in the assumptions we make about the other side or in how we work together in the pursuit of understanding and common ground as we navigate the world's ever changing and increasingly challenging religious and cultural landscape Living Well in a World Worth Living in for All Kristin Elaine Reimer, Mervi Kaukko, Sally Windsor, Kathleen Mahon, Stephen Kemmis, 2023-02-23 This open access book is the first of a two volume series focusing on how people are being enabled or constrained to live well in today's world and how to bring into reality a world worth living in for all The chapters offer unique narratives drawing on the perspectives of diverse groups such as asylum seeking and refugee youth in Australia Finland Norway and Scotland young climate activists in Finland Australian Aboriginal students parents and community members families of children who tube feed in Australia and international research students in Sweden The chapters reveal not just that different groups have different ideas about a world worth living in but also show that through their collaborative research initiative the authors and their research participants were bringing worlds like these into being The volume extends an invitation to readers and researchers in education and the social sciences to consider ways to foster education that realises transformed selves and transformed worlds the good for each person the good for humankind and the good for the community of life on the planet The book also includes theoretical chapters providing the background and rationale behind the notion of education as initiating people into living well in a world worth living in An introductory chapter discusses the origins of the concept and the phrase Ellipsis 1 Sean O'Brien, Jean Sprackland, Tim Cooke, 2013-12-03 Ellipsis is a new set of books celebrating the short story sequence that interlocking daisy chain of narrative produced when stories knit together to form a continuum of character or theme An out of season seaside town a library stocked with memories a man slowly going mad Starting in the hotels and suburbs of a down at heel coastal town Jean Sprackland's stories follow a cast of rootless characters young men and women clinging to tokens of the past whose lives are so lacking in ballast they become as unstable as the dunes themselves Tim Cooke invites us into a very different space the derelict rooms and vandalised stairwells of an inner city tower block From there each story draws a claustrophobic spiral round the next following various characters or is it the same person desperate to flee their demons Sean O'Brien's stories also spiral outwards not from a state of mind but a setting an ornate vaulted lending library an edifice from another age where unlikely users and chance items found in stock lead to quite different lamentations for the past Harper's Magazine, 1927 Important American periodical dating back to 1850 Hyphen Cliff Yates, Anne Stevenson, Jean Sprackland, Joe Sheerin, Shenagh Pugh, Ruth Padel, Sean O'Brien, Sinéad Morrissey, Ian McMillan, Roddy Lumsden, Grevel Lindop, Joanne Limburg, John Latham, Sophie Hannah, Matthew Francis, David Constantine, Polly Clark, Helen Clare, Steven Blythe, 2013-12-03 Too often the short story is regarded as merely a poor cousin of the novel a weekend break for novelists an assumption that demeans the short and neglects the fact that it has an anatomy all of its own This anthology is a one off experiment to show how much the short has in common with a very different literary form the poem Established and award winning poets from around Britain and the UK have been asked to interlope into the unknown territory of the short most of them for the first time and each bringing with them a new poetic perspective as well as an intuitive feel for the snapshot's hidden narratives Rich Boys Jenny O'Connell, 2010-03-09 There are two kinds of people on the island those who leave at summer's end and those who are left behind For seventeen year old Winnie summer can't arrive fast enough anything to get out of the house and escape the cold war brewing between her parents With her older sister Shelby spending the summer in Boston Winnie's left to deal with the situation all by herself Which is why she's happy to spend all day away from home at a cushy job camp counselor at the prestigious Oceanview Inn And when the Barclays a wealthy summer family offer Winnie an additional babysitting job in the evenings after work she jumps at the opportunity Little Cassie Barclay is fun to take care of and hanging out in the gorgeous Barclay summer house overlooking the harbor is far more pleasant than being on the front lines of the battle between her parents Then Cassie's older and devastatingly attractive stepbrother Jay arrives on the island after a disastrous first year at college and he seems to want nothing more than to wreak havoc for his stepmother and the rest of his family Winnie soon discovers that life in the Barclay summer house isn't so perfect after all and what was supposed to be a carefree summer escapade is quickly becoming more complicated than she ever thought possible Illicit Affair Raghavi, 2025-05-20 Illicit Affair is a young adult romance where secrets burn feelings complicate and nothing goes according to plan Mia Malhotra a university student and Miles Baudelaire COO of the Baudelaire Empire were looking for anything but complications they weren't even looking for each other But oh life got complicated Feelings caught fire And who can control what burns so hot Illicit Affair is the first story in The Illicit Series a world full of chaos expectations and
