A British Enterprise in Brazil Marshall C. Eakin,2013-07-12 Marshall Eakin presents what may be the most detailed study ever written about the operations of a foreign business in Latin America and the first scholarly book length study of any foreign business enterprise in Brazil Between 1830 and 1970 the British owned St John d el Rey Mining Company Ltd constructed a diverse business conglomerate around Minas Gerais South America s largest gold mine in Nova Lima Until the 1950s the company was the largest industrial firm and the largest taxpayer in Brazil s most populous state Utilizing company and local archives Eakin shows that the company was surprisingly ineffective in translating economic success into political influence in Brazil The most impressive impact of the British operation was at the local level transforming a small agrarian community into a sizable industrial city Virtually a company town Nova Lima experienced a small scale industrial revolution as the community made the transition from the largest industrial slave complex in Brazil to a working class city torn by labor strife and violence between communists and their opponents Engineering and Mining Journal ,1893 Report Upon the Commercial Relations of the United States with Foreign Countries United States.
