Long Shadow:

Casting a Long Shadow R. Wayne Tanner, 2010-09-16 This is but a glimpse at that struggle and how it not only impacted men and their families but a way of life that can still be seen in many parts of Florida if one is willing to take time and look Cowboys still saddle their horses and drive to an old set of cow pens and spend many an hour atop their favorite horse gathering working and selling a new calf crop They string miles of barbed wire and drive thousands of staples in fence rows built by their grandfathers and great grandfathers To many thou it is lost and only a fading dream Deep in the soul of Florida lies a great heritage called the True Florida Cracker Not the urbanized rednecks that can afford a pair of Wrangler jeans a shiny belt buckle a fancy felt hat and black pointed toed cowboy boots but the true country boy and girl Those who know the reason why you carry a pocket knife how to keep it sharp and not cut yourself Those who can appreciate a good pot of collard greens without the sweet cornbread you buy in a box Those who are not afraid of taking a firm hold on a catfish as it flops around and taking out the hook without getting stuck To those who had actually stepped into a fresh pile of cow crap and knows what it smells like and in a way appreciates the experience To those who were taught to say yes mam and no sir and remember what respect is To those who say to themselves that they were born in the wrong time

Temporalities, Texts, Ideologies Bobby Xinyue,2024-01-11 Temporalities Texts Ideologies provides a new analysis of the significance of time in Classical and early modern literature demonstrating that literary temporality continually intervenes in questions of ontology hierarchy and politics Examining a diverse range of texts from Homeric epic to eighteenth century poems on the Last Judgement this collection of essays contends that temporality in literature sits at the heart of how authors from antiquity through to the early modern period understood and negotiated the structures that shaped their lives and may shape lives to come Approaching the topic through four themes the essays in this volume highlight the ways in which time is construed as relational contestable and politically inflected The authors show that variations in temporalities enable texts to critique the interactions or tensions between tradition and change agency and determinism social system and individual experience The result is a refreshing approach to literary figurations of time that responds to the recent temporal turn in the humanities engages with current critical trends such as ontological analysis and ecological criticism and opens up an exciting new direction for future research on the connection between time text and context
