

Looking After Each Other: Social Welfare in New Zealand

Social welfare is when the government gives some people money to help them afford the basics of life in New Zealand.

The New Zealand government has been trying different ways of helping people for a long time.

next

Social Welfare in Māori Communities

Traditional Māori communities have always had their ways of looking after others who need help. Māori lived together in a community. They shared land, food and other items.

Because of the land that had enough to grow crops and a few cows.

Some Māori communities were helped by the government when they arrived in New Zealand.

Looking After Each Other Olfa:

Guest House for Young Widows Azadeh Moaveni, 2019-09-10 A gripping account of thirteen women who joined and endured and in some cases escaped life in the Islamic State based on years of immersive reporting by a Pulitzer Prize finalist FINALIST FOR THE BAILLIE GIFFORD PRIZE NAMED ONE OF THE TEN BEST BOOKS OF THE YEAR BY PUBLISHERS WEEKLY AND ONE OF THE BEST BOOKS OF THE YEAR BY The New York Times Book Review NPR Toronto Star The Guardian Among the many books trying to understand the terrifying rise of ISIS none has given voice to the women in the organization but women were essential to the establishment of Abu Bakr al Baghdadi's caliphate Responding to promises of female empowerment and social justice and calls to aid the plight of fellow Muslims in Syria thousands of women emigrated from the United States and Europe Russia and Central Asia from across North Africa and the rest of the Middle East to join the Islamic State These were the educated daughters of diplomats trainee doctors teenagers with straight A averages as well as working class drifters and desolate housewives and they joined forces to set up makeshift clinics and schools for the Islamic homeland they'd envisioned Guest House for Young Widows charts the different ways women were recruited inspired or compelled to join the militants Emma from Hamburg Sharmeena and three high school friends from London and Nour a religious dropout from Tunis All found rebellion or community in political Islam and fell prey to sophisticated propaganda that promised them a cosmopolitan adventure and a chance to forge an ideal Islamic community in which they could live devoutly without fear of stigma or repression It wasn't long before the militants exposed themselves as little more than violent criminals more obsessed with power than the tenets of Islam and the women of ISIS were stripped of any agency perpetually widowed and remarried and ultimately trapped in a brutal lawless society The fall of the caliphate only brought new challenges to women no state wanted to reclaim Azadeh Moaveni's exquisite sensitivity and rigorous reporting make these forgotten women indelible and illuminate the turbulent politics that set them on their paths Novo dicionario da
