Former running back Reggie Bush is in a rush to conquer golf

BY BRENN LAYNE

"I was horrible, and I was embarrassed." • That's what former NFL running back Reggie Bush says, laughing, as he recalls his first effort at golf. This was just six years ago, when he and his wife, Lili, got into a golf tournament as a fundraiser for his father's football camp. • Bush didn't stay horrible for long. After the fundraiser, he started taking golf lessons, and now plays in a 9-handicap, making regular appearances in PGA Tour pro-ams. • "It's competitiveness. It's wanting to be great, and it's going against everything in the poor football," says Bush, 36. "I'm still an athlete. Just because I'm not playing football doesn't mean the athlete in me stops. I will have that drive and determination to want to be great at just about everything I do. I love that I found golf. I wish I found it earlier." • Getting the driver under control has been key. "Speed is one of the hardest things to control, especially for someone who's big and strong, who used to getting hit by power men, and now you're embracing this little stick," Bush says. "Driver was my biggest fear, because I was bringing so much and so fast. I'd make contact, and that ball was just spinning, going wherever it wanted." •
