Primitive Peoples:

Cooperation and Competition Among Primitive Peoples Margaret Mead, 2002-11-01 When in 1935 Margaret Mead was asked by a member of the interdisciplinary committee of the Social Science Research Council to prepare a survey of several cultures for publication she ended up creating a model for future ethnological survey texts as well as furthering the understanding of cultural relativism in anthropological studies The result of her work Cooperation and Competition Among Primitive Peoples is fascinating The essays do not purport to be source materials on the peoples being studied but rather have been assembled as interpretative statements meant to provide a background for planning future research in this field in our own society In many respects this volume is a pioneer effort in anthropological literature It remains firmly part of the genre of cooperative research or interdisciplinary research though at the time of its original publication that phrase had yet to be coined Additionally this work is more theoretical in nature than a faithful anthropological record as all the essays were written in New York City on a low budget and without fieldwork The significance of these studies lies in the fact that Cooperation and Competition Among Primitive Peoples was the first attempt to think about the very complex problems of cultural character and social structure coupled with a meticulous execution of comparative study This work will be of great interest to anthropologists cultural theorists and students of interdisciplinary research The distinguished contributors include Margaret Mead the editor of this volume who authored The Arapesh of New Guinea The Manus of the Admiralty Islands and The Samoans Jeannette Mirsky who contributed The Eskimo of Greenland and The Dakota Ruth Landes who wrote The Ojibwa of Canada May Mandelbaum Edel author of The Bachiga of East Africa Irving Goldman who contributed The Ifugao of the Philippine Islands The Kwakiutl of Vancouver Island The Zuni of New Mexico and The Bathonga of South Africa Buell Quain who penned The Iriquois and Bernard Mishkin author of The Maori of New Zealand Margaret Mead 1901-1978 was associated with the American Museum of Natural History in New York for over fifty years becoming Curator of Ethnology in 1964 She taught at Columbia University and the New School for Social Research as well as a number of other universities and served as president of the American Association for the Advancement of Science and the American Anthropological Association Among her many books is Continuities in Cultural Evolution available from Transaction Publishers The Economic Life of Primitive Peoples Melville Jean Herskovits, 1940 Donated by Sydney Harris

Daniel Garrison Brinton, 1897 In Search of the Primitive Stanley Diamond, 2017-06-21 Anthropology is a kind of debate between human possibilities a dialectical movement between the anthropologist as a modern man and the primitive peoples he studies In Search of the Primitive is a tough minded book containing chapters ranging from encounters in the field to essays on the nature of law schizophrenia and civilization and the evolution of the work of Claude Lévi Strauss Above all it is reflective and self critical critical of the discipline of anthropology and of the civilization that produced that discipline

Diamond views the anthropologist who refuses to become a searching critic of his own civilizations as not merely irresponsible but a tool of Western civilization. He rejects the associations which have been made in the ideology of our civilization consciously or unconsciously between Western dominance and progress, imperialism and evolution, evolution and progress.

Dudley Buxton,2018-10-24 Originally published in 1924 Dudley Buxton explores the evolution of primitive societies in relation to labour This is mostly done by studying primitive inventions to try and understand how each of these inventions was used to contribute to everyday living and to develop the society s material culture This study places an emphasis on understanding the importance of various industrial tools to societies in relation to different industries and geographical factors such as climate This title will be of interest to students of Anthropology The Museum of Other People Adam Kuper,2024-04-16 A MOST ANTICIPATED BOOK From one of the world s most distinguished anthropologists an important and timely work of cultural history that looks at the origins and much debated future of anthropology museums A provocative look at questions of ethnography ownership and restitution the argument Kuper makes in The Museum of Other People is important precisely because just about no one else is making it He asks the questions that others are too shy to pose Required reading Financial Times UK In this deeply researched immersive history Adam Kuper tells the story of how foreign and prehistoric peoples and cultures were represented in Western museums of anthropology Originally created as colonial enterprises their halls were populated by displays of plundered art artifacts dioramas bones and relics Kuper reveals the politics and struggles of trying to build these museums in Germany France and England in the mid 19th century and the dramatic encounters between the very colorful and eccentric collectors curators political figures and high members of the church who founded them He also details the creation of contemporary museums and exhibitions including the Smithsonian the Harvard s Peabody Museum of American Archaeology and Ethnology and the famous 1893 World s Columbian Exposition in Chicago which was inspired by the Paris World Fair of 1889 Despite the widespread popularity and cultural importance of these institutions there also lies a murky legacy of imperialism colonialism and scientific racism in their creation Kuper tackles difficult questions of repatriation and justice and how best to ensure that the future of these museums is an ethical appreciative one that promotes learning and cultural exchange A stunning unique accessible work based on a lifetime of research The Museum of Other People reckons with the painfully fraught history of museums of natural history and how curators anthropologists and museumgoers alike can move forward alongside these time honored institutions Fire in Relation to Primitive Agriculture and Grazing in the Tropics: A-G, Tropics in general; H-J, South Asia and Oceania Harley Harris Bartlett,1955 The Cambridge

Linguistics Inside Out George Wolf, Nigel Love, 1997-02-13 Roy Harris's thoroughgoing attack on the presuppositions underpinning the dominant traditions of Western thought about language and his advocacy of a radically reconceived linguistics focused on the idea that the linguistic sign is contextually created and interpreted as a function of the meaningful integration of communicative behaviour have made him one of the most controversial figures in the field today In the essays in this volume Naomi S Baron Bob Borsley Philip Carr David Fleming Rom Harr Anthony Holiday John E Joseph Frederick J Newmeyer David R Olson Trevor Pateman John S ren Pettersson and John R Taylor offer a critical examination of various aspects and implications of Harris's views in response to which Harris contributes an article that both engages with his critics and develops some of the major themes of his work

The Coming Jesus and the Anthropocene Ryan LaMothe, 2024-02-22 Melting glaciers and icecaps massive forest fires enormous storms extensive and prolonged flooding and desertification of large tracts of land are realities we currently face and will continue to struggle with as a result of climate change Our climate crisis invites if not demands a critical evaluation of our political religious economic and cultural narratives and rituals that give rise to our ways of relating to one another to other species and to planet Earth This book argues that the climate emergency exposes deep problematic roots of Western religious and political paradigms and apparatuses that undergird ideas of and methods for human flourishing In particular Western religious and political philosophies have produced and maintained a radical rift between human beings and other species as well as beliefs about human dominion over other species and the earth These ideas and practices are responsible for the colonization of Nature and for climate change Understanding these sources invites a radical reimaging of our religious ideas and practices Specifically this book proposes a coming Jesus a form of life that traverses the rift while denying human and divine dominion for the sake of recognizing and respecting the singularities and flourishing of all species
