study The Metaphysical Passion Sona Raiziss, 2017-01-30 This book is a volume in the Penn Press Anniversary Collection To mark its 125th anniversary in 2015 the University of Pennsylvania Press rereleased more than 1 100 titles from Penn Press s distinguished backlist from 1899 1999 that had fallen out of print Spanning an entire century the Anniversary Collection offers peer reviewed scholarship in a wide range of subject areas Complete Poems and Collected Letters of Adelaide Crapsey Susan S. Smith, 2016-06-15 This book presents the poetry and letters of the American writer Adelaide Crapsey 1878 1914 Her best poetry deserves to be enjoyed by a larger audience and her letters and newly discovered biographical materials reveal new charm and meaning in an intriguingly elusive character Crapsey did not live to see any of her mature poetry published she received notice that her first poem had been accepted for publication only a week before she died Posthumous editions of her Verse in 1915 1922 and 1934 however brought her recognition and respect Carl Sandburg paid her a poetic tribute American critic Yvor Winters praised her as a minor poet of great distinction and felt that her poems remained in their way honest and acutely perceptive Her best work is compressed terse related in this respect to the work of another American poet who won posthumous recognition Emily Dickinson Crapsey is best known as the inventor of the cinquain a poem of five short lines of unequal length one stress two stress three stress four stress and one stress The cinquain is one of the few modern verse forms developed in English and its brevity and characteristic thought pattern seem to have been influenced by Japanese forms Crapsey s indebtedness to Japanese poetry and her relation to Imagism have long been subjects for debate As Winters notes the work of Crapsey achieves more effectively than did almost any of the Imagists the aims of Imagism The critical introduction by Professor Susan Sutton Smith examines these problems Much of Crapsey s poetry is reticent withdrawn and private and she believed strongly in the individual s right to privacy Whatever new biographical materials reveal of her and of her relations with family and friends however shows a charming and courageous woman Her courage and humor show especially well in her correspondence with her friend Esther Lowenthal and in the letters with her friend Jean Webster McKinney author of Daddy Long Legs who died soon after Crapsey Ezra Pound and the Career of Modern Criticism Michael Coyle, Roxana Preda, 2018 Forty five years after his death and more than seventy years after his indictment for treason Ezra Pound remains a deeply controversial figure Today it is hard to imagine a poet sparking national debate but Pound did just that His receipt in 1949 of the first ever Bollingen Award for Poetry started a hue and cry that spread to every US periodical that made even a pretense of following cultural issues even Time weighed in It took two years for things to simmer down and when they finally did literary study looked profoundly different Everyone engaged in the study of poetry today professors and students alike works in an environment shaped by that national crisis of conscience The present book considers this untold story and investigates not just what critics have had to say about Pound but also why they have asked the questions they have asked It is routine for reception histories to distinguish between professional studies and more popular responses this book encourages us to consider why we make that distinction and what the costs of doing so might be Unprofessional responses to Pound have often been ideologically and politically embarrassing for Pound scholars who have in response policed the distinction between professional and popular readings with extraordinary vigilance As a result the history of Pound s reception unfolds as a kind of drama perhaps the last ongoing theater for McCarthyite cultural political anxieties Michael Coyle is Professor of English at Colgate University and has published widely on Pound Roxana Preda is Leverhulme Fellow in American Literature at the University of Edinburgh and President of the Ezra Pound Society
