Death and Other Lovers Jo Bannister, Light like a great pink chrysanthemum bloomed far away over the distant perimeter hanging high in the quiet air Others would describe it as a fireball and speak of the deep booming roar as the fuel tanks full to capacity at the start of the plane's long run exploded But no sound reached inside the little office double glazed and already ten miles away and Flynn's abiding impression was of a great flower blossoming halfway down the sky After long shocked moments Inspector Harris found a voice and to his great credit it was a voice without hysteria saying something sensible John you were watching was that an aircraft The sergeant nodded slowly The shock that had wiped the expression off his face seemed also to have kicked him temporarily into slow motion An aircraft An aircraft At last and with an effort he dragged appalled eyes away from the fading pink light and they found Flynn The one we pulled him off The Going Down of the Sun Jo Bannister, The idyllic peace of a remote Scottish anchorage is shattered by an explosion aboard a luxury cruiser which kills the woman on board and brings to an abrupt end the restful holiday which Clio Marsh prescribed for her detective husband Harry Was the wreck of the Skara Sun an accident Was Alison MacAllister murdered by the penniless young man sailing with her or by the rich older one to whom she was married The local police investigate Harry Marsh investigates No one who knows Clio would expect her to mind her own business The savage beauty of the wild west coast forms a backdrop to and ultimately plays its own role in the developing drama as Clio discovers that even deadly Corryvreckan can be friend in the face of human treachery Broken Lines Jo Bannister, FALSE CONNECTION Detective Superintendent Frank Shapiro finds himself weaving down a dark and twisted trail of human foibles that begins with his own Sergeant Donovan After interrupting a robbery and receiving a blow to the head for his efforts an angry Donovan races after the suspect only to witness a terrible car crash Donovan saves Mikey Dickens's life then arrests him But Mikey the son of a local crime boss is released on a technicality And when he is later found beaten suspicion falls on the hotheaded Irish sergeant The young man eventually dies and Shapiro and Inspector Liz Graham are certain of one thing not only is Donovan's career on the line but his life as well Someone is going to pay for Mikey's death And Donovan has disappeared convincing and believable Solidly readable divertingly different Kirkus Reviews Deeply satisfying The New York Times Book Review Mystery Women, Volume Three (Revised) Colleen Barnett, 2010-12-31 Like other fictional characters female sleuths may live in the past or the future They may represent current times with some level of reality or shape their settings to suit an agenda There are audiences for both realism and escapism in the mystery novel It is interesting however to compare the fictional world of the mystery sleuth with the world in which readers live Of course mystery readers do not share one simplistic world They live in urban suburban and rural areas as do the female heroines in the books they read They may choose a book because it has a familiar background or because it takes them to places they long to visit Readers may be rich or poor young or old conservative or liberal So are the heroines What incredible choices there are today in mystery series This three volume encyclopedia of women characters in the mystery novel is like a gigantic menu Like a menu the descriptions of the items that are provided are subjective Volume 3 of Mystery Women as currently updated adds an additional 42 sleuths to the 500 plus who were covered in the initial Volume 3 These are more recently discovered sleuths who were introduced during the period from January 1 1990 to December 31 1999 This more than doubles the number of sleuths introduced in the 1980s 298 of whom were covered in Volume 2 and easily exceeded the 347 series and some outstanding individuals described in Volume 1 which covered a 130 year period from 1860 1979 It also includes updates on those individuals covered in the first edition changes in status short reviews of books published since the first edition through December 31 2008 Charisma Jo

Bannister, Fatal Attraction The first victim is a young prostitute an easy accessible target for a killer's lust The second victim is another young girl The killer is skilled seasoned enjoying himself The combustible detective team of Liz Graham and Cal Donovan is put on the case as suspicion falls on a charismatic traveling evangelist staging a week long revival meeting Who would benefit more from a town's tragedies than he Oddly the surfacing of a chum long believed dead from Donovan's childhood may have some connection Among them though wearing a mask of decency a killer is once again deciding who lives and who dies for the most passionate of motives and by the most dispassionate of means Superb character work New York Times Book Review powered by Bannister's three diverse and forceful police characters a strong supporting cast and the stark urban wasteland which possesses a dark beauty all its own Publishers Weekly A Highly readable series Booklist

Striving with Gods Jo Bannister, Clio Rees is a doctor who has given up her practice to write murder mysteries. It never occurred to her that she might become the central figure in one a very real one that required more imagination to figure out than anything she had concocted for her fictional stories. She is called by the police and asked to identify the body of a young man who turns out to be one of her closest friends. Suicide says the police. Murder says Clio Rees. She decides to investigate and her trail leads to a man she had known rather well in medical school a man who is now one of the gods of the medical establishment and who is on the threshold of achieving what has heretofore been impossible the design of an artificial implantable kidney. What was his connection with the dead man. As the answers begin to take ominous shape she discovers that there will be another victim. Clio Rees
