Evacuation of Dunkirk Harry Raffal,2021-07-15 The evacuation of Dunkirk has been immortalised in books prints and films narrated as a story of an outnumbered inexperienced RAF defeating the battle hardened Luftwaffe and protecting the evacuation This book revives the historiography by analysing the air operations during the evacuation Raffal draws from German and English sources many for the first time in the context of Operation DYNAMO to argue that both sides suffered a defeat over Dunkirk This work examines the resources and tactics of both sides during DYNAMO and challenges the traditional view that the Luftwaffe held the advantage The success that the Luftwaffe achieved during DYNAMO including halting daylight evacuations on 1 June is evaluated and the supporting role of RAF Bomber and Coastal Command is explored in detail for the first time Concluding that the RAF was not responsible for the Luftwaffe s failure to prevent the evacuation Raffal demonstrates that the reasons lay elsewhere Operation Oyster World War II's Forgotten Raid Kees Rijken,Paul Schepers,Arthur G. Thorning,2014-08-15 Operation Oyster was carried out on the 6th December 1942 by 2 Group RAF

Considered to be a notable success for the allies it cost the Germans an estimated six months of lost production time at a critical point in the conflict. It is arguable according to the authors that the operation was in fact rather more significant than Operation Chastise the Dambuster raid while accepting that was a remarkable feat of arms. Operation Oyster struck at the very heart of what Churchill termed the wizard war against German radio navigational technology by attacking a central hub of activity the Philips Radio Works in Eindhoven The Netherlands. The development of electronics in WWII was the most significant technical aspect of weaponry over the course of the conflict. On both sides there were great advances in radar and communications which at that time depended on the wide scale use of high frequency radio valves few companies had the technology to produce these but the leading one in Europe was Philips in Eindhoven. Thus it was determined that Philips was the most important target. Ninety three allied aircraft took part and a total of fourteen were lost. But the result in terms of damages to the enemy was considerable hindering the German war effort significantly and consequently aiding the allies. Despite these facts however the story of the raid has been underreported and the efforts of the aircrew who took part have been little recognized. By comparison the Dambuster raid which came six months later has entered into folklore. Here for the first time the overlooked Oyster raid is afforded the attention it deserves.

Victory at Sea Paul Kennedy, 2022-04-26 A sweeping lavishly illustrated one volume history of the rise of American naval power during World War II. A brilliant and gripping book by a master historian working at the top of his powers. Fredrik Logevall Harvard University. Paul Kennedy has written a classic in this sweeping narrative account of the desperate struggle to command the seas and America's rise as a superpower during the Second World War. John H Maurer U S Naval War College. In this engaging narrative brought to life by marine artist Ian Marshall's beautiful full color paintings historian Paul Kennedy grapples with the rise and fall of the Great Powers during World War II. Tracking the movements of the six major navies of the Second World War the allied navies of Britain France and the United States and the Axis navies of Germany Italy and Japan Kennedy tells a story of naval battles maritime campaigns convoys amphibious landings and strikes from the sea. From the elimination of the Italian German and Japanese fleets and almost all of the French fleet to the end of the era of the big gunned surface vessel the advent of the atomic bomb and the rise of an American economic and military power larger than anything the world had ever seen Kennedy shows how the strategic landscape for naval affairs was completely altered between 1936 and 1946.

Fiat CR.42 Aces of World War 2 Håkan Gustavsson, Ludovico Slongo, 2013-02-20 A study of the exploits of the Fiat CR 42 Aces in World War II. The Fiat CR 42 a logical development of the Fiat CR 32 was the last single seat fighter biplane to be produced. It entered service with the Italian Regia Aeronautica in May 1939 before being exported to Belgium Hungary and Sweden. Its combat debut came when the Belgian air force threw its fleet into action during the German invasion of the Low Countries on 10th May 1940. Despite being quickly overwhelmed the Belgian pilots managed to make a number of aerial claims The CR 42 became heavily involved in the fighting in North Africa and although it was gradually replaced by more modern fighters it continued in a point defence and ground support role until the end of the war Drawing on research from a range of sources this book examines the extensive employment of the Italian fighter plane during the course of World War II Case Studies in Strategic Bombardment R. Anti-Submarine Warfare David Owen,2007-11-15 The submarine was undoubtedly the most potent purely naval weapon of the twentieth century In two world wars enemy underwater campaigns were very nearly successful in thwarting Allied hopes of victory indeed annihilation of Japanese shipping by US Navy submarines is an indicator of what might have been That the submarine was usually defeated is a hugely important story in naval history yet this is the first book to treat the subject as a whole in a readable and accessible manner It concerns individual heroism and devotion to duty but also ingenuity technical advances and originality of tactical thought What developed was an endless battle between forces above and below the surface where a successful innovation by one side eventually produces a counter measure by the other in a lethal struggle for supremacy Development was not a straight line wrong ideas and assumptions led to defeat and disaster

Battle of Britain Airfields Under Attack Dilip Sarkar,2024-11-30 In this unprecedented series exploring the big story of the Battle of Britain renowned historian Dilip Sarkar investigates the wider context and intimate details of the epic aerial conflict in the summer of 1940 from all sides In so doing he gives due acknowledgement to the roles of Bomber and Coastal Commands in addition to the fabled Few of Fighter Command This unique narrative draws upon a lifetime of research the author having enjoyed a long relationship with survivors and the relatives of casualties his innumerable interviews and first hand accounts collated in addition to privileged access to personal papers providing essential human interest to this inspirational story In this the fourth volume Battle of Britain Airfields Under Attack Dilip continues to examine the fighting on a day by day combat by combat basis from 19 August until 6 September 1940 It is a period in which we saw the Luftwaffe s bombing of the all important 11 Group airfields intensify culminating in The Hardest Day of 18 August 1940 which saw both sides lose more aircraft than any other day throughout the whole Battle of Britain The tensions and problems between Fighter Command s 11 and 12 Groups also intensified It was a situation that eventually led to Squadron Leader Douglas Bader criticising Fighter Command tactics proposing the use of Big Wings contrary to the System of Air defense and strategy involved gaining the support of his 12 Group commander Air Vice Marshal Leigh Mallory Given its later significance this is investigated in depth Through diligent research combined with crucial official primary sources and personal papers Dilip unravels many myths often challenging the accepted narrative This is not simply another dull record of combat losses and claims far from it Drawing upon unique first hand accounts from a wide range of combatants and eyewitnesses along with Daily Home Intelligence Reports and numerous other primary sources this book forms part of what is likely to be the first and last such comprehensively woven account of this epic air battle
