Mundy, Philosopher of Adventure Brian Taves, 2014-11-26 This critical biography chronicles both the actual travels and the philosophical meanderings of Talbot Mundy one of the pioneers of the fantasy and adventure genre Less celebrated than his contemporaries Rudyard Kipling and Joseph Conrad Mundy was no less gifted when it came to the literary portrayal of faraway lands He was one of the first Western writers to show an appreciation of Eastern culture and his writing became an outlet for his radical ideas on religion and philosophy At the age of sixteen Mundy left his native England to begin his life of adventure a journey that took him from India to the Middle East to Tibet and finally to America which became his adopted home The American spirit of adventure matched Mundy's own and it was here that he found a true audience for his work This book explores Mundy's oeuvre much of it set in exotic locales through which he himself had traveled and considers both his novels and his lesser known writing as well as his film and radio work Books such as Rung Ho King of the Khyber Rifles Caves of Terror Purple Pirate and Tros of Samothrace are discussed and placed within the framework of Mundy's life and philosophy The final chapter evaluates the enduring value of his writings Appendices include a comprehensive list of Mundy's works and a chronological listing by their original publication dates Bridge of the Untiring Sea Elizabeth R.

Unclassical Traditions. Volume II Christopher Kelly, Richard Flower, Michael Stuart Williams, 2020-06-30 Unclassical Traditions Volume II Perspectives from East and West in Late Antiquity is the second of two collections of essays by leading scholars discussing the nature and extent of the late antique engagement with the classical past Rather than concentrating on developments at the centre of empire the focus of a previous volume Unclassical Traditions I the aim here is to present a set of views from the margins social political religious literary geographical and linguistic Ranging from Armenian ecclesiastical histories Egyptian alchemy and Jewish power politics across the Mediterranean to the challenges raised by shifting circumstances in 5th century North Africa and Ostrogothic Italy the eight papers in this volume seek to establish the persistent importance of the classical tradition throughout a broadly defined late antiquity Despite the divergent forms taken by these various responses they are united by a common preoccupation with that still authoritative past From these eastern and western perspectives often peripheral and sometimes isolated the classical past appears neither monolithic nor inflexible but as offering a set of assumptions or conventions that might be opposed or accepted subverted or ignored or reworked into a striking variety of newly imagined worlds Like its predecessor this volume will be of interest to anyone concerned with the history literature and culture of the later Roman empire It stems from an international conference held in Cambridge in 2009 generously supported by the Faculty of Classics and the Henry Arthur Thomas Fund American Journal of Archaeology ,1928 A Sanctuary of Zeus on Mount Hymettos Merle K. Langdon,1976
