Voyages of Samuel de Champlain (Complete) Samuel de Champlain, Champlain was descended from an ancestry whose names are not recorded among the renowned families of France He was the son of Antoine de Champlain a captain in the marine and his wife Marguerite LeRoy They lived in the little village of Brouage in the ancient province of Saintonge Of their son Samuel no contemporaneous record is known to exist indicating either the day or year of his birth The period at which we find him engaged in active and responsible duties such as are usually assigned to mature manhood leads to the conjecture that he was born about the year 1567 Of his youth little is known The forces that contributed to the formation of his character are mostly to be inferred from the abode of his early years the occupations of those by whom he was surrounded and the temper and spirit of the times in which he lived Brouage is situated in a low marshy region on the southern bank of an inlet or arm of the sea on the southwestern shores of France opposite to that part of the Island of Oleron where it is separated from the mainland only by a narrow channel Although this little town can boast a great antiquity it never at any time had a large population It is mentioned by local historians as early as the middle of the eleventh century It was a seigniorship of the family of Pons The village was founded by Jacques de Pons after whose proper name it was for a time called Jacopolis but soon resumed its ancient appellation of Brouage An old chronicler of the sixteenth century informs us that in his time it was a port of great importance and the theatre of a large foreign commerce Its harbor capable of receiving large ships was excellent regarded indeed as the finest in the kingdom of France It was a favorite idea of Charles VIII to have at all times several war ships in this harbor ready against any sudden invasion of this part of the coast At the period of Champlain s boyhood the village of Brouage had two absorbing interests First it had then recently become a military post of importance and second it was the centre of a large manufacture of salt To these two interests the whole population gave their thoughts their energy and their enterprise Voyages of Samuel de Champlain - Samuel de Champlain,2018-07-03 Voyages of Samuel De Champlain Volume 03 by Samuel de Champlain We set out from Honfleur on the first day of March The wind was favorable until the eighth when we were opposed by a wind south southwest and west northwest driving us as far as latitude 42 without our being able to make a southing so as to sail straight forward on our course Accordingly after encountering several heavy winds and being kept back by bad weather we nevertheless through great difficulty and hardship and by sailing on different tacks succeeded in arriving within eighty leagues of the Grand Bank where the fresh fishery is carried on Here we encountered ice thirty or forty fathoms high or more which led us to consider what course we ought to take fearing that we might fall in with more during the night or that the wind changing would drive us on to it We also concluded that this would not be the last since we had set out from France too early in the season We sailed accordingly during that day with short sail as near the wind as we could We are delighted to publish this classic book as part of our extensive Classic Library collection Many of the books in our collection have been out of print for decades and therefore have not been accessible to the general public The aim of our publishing program is to facilitate rapid access to this vast reservoir of literature and our view is that this is a significant literary work which deserves to be brought back into print after many decades The contents of the vast majority of titles in the Classic Library have been scanned from the original works To ensure a high quality product each title has been meticulously hand curated by our staff Our philosophy has been guided by a desire to provide the reader with a book that is as close as possible to ownership of the original work We hope that you will enjoy this wonderful classic work and that for you it becomes an enriching experience
