Development of an Icon John W. Herbst, 2016-10-31 The most extensive royal accounts in the Hebrew Bible are those of kings David the Succession Narrative usually identified as 2 Sam 9 20 and 1 Kgs 1 2 and Solomon the Solomon Story 1 Kgs 3 11 Yet even though Solomon immediately follows David in the Deuteronomistic History little has been done to correlate these accounts But what if these passages were meant to be read together Utilizing the Double Redaction theory Herbst proposes that an exilic Deuteronomist inserted the Succession Narrative into the Deuteronomistic History then revised the Solomon Story in light of this addition His key contribution was 1 Kings 1 2 a passage designed to connect the two larger sections highlighting the similarities and differences of the two kings Interpreting the composition history of 2 Samuel and 1 Kings in this way gives new insight into the Deuteronomist's views regarding kings and kingship This approach also solves many of the problems of the Solomon story in which the narrator appears to simultaneously praise and criticize Solomon And along the way Herbst offers new insights into individual passages further enhancing our understanding of the message of the Deuteronomistic History

The Meaning and Interpretation of Desire in the Bible Samo Skralovnik,2022-08-23 The term desire in the Hebrew Bible covers a wide range of human longings emotions and cravings The direct and explicit term of desire is nevertheless limited to only two roots found in the Decalogue the verb forms of the lexical roots and which reflect not only the dynamics of desire occurring in human beings but also in God With an comprehensive semantic analysis and an overview of the synonyms and antonyms the author shows that the verb form of the lexical root denotes a variety of needs related to human existence including aspiration for God while the verb form of the lexical root denotes the desire to acquire material wealth and possessions beyond basic needs All the findings are compared on two levels in relation to human beings objects and people and in relation to God and ultimately serve for the interpretation of the roots in both versions of the Decalogue Exod 20 17 and Deut 5 21 to resolve questions concerning the meaning of the desire in Tenth Commandment and
