Sanity Madness And The Family:

Sanity, Madness and the Family Ronald David Laing, Aaron Esterson, 1970      Sanity, Madness and the Family R.D. Laing, Aaron Esterson, 2016-10-04 In the late 1950s the psychiatrist R D Laing and psychoanalyst Aaron Esterson spent five years interviewing eleven families of female patients diagnosed as schizophrenic. Sanity Madness and the Family is the result of their work. Eleven vivid case studies often dramatic and disturbing reveal patterns of affection and fear, manipulation and indifference within the family. But it was the conclusions they drew from their research that caused such controversy: they suggest that some forms of mental disorder are only comprehensible within their social and family contexts; their symptoms the manifestations of people struggling to live in untenable situations. Sanity Madness and the Family was met with widespread hostility by the psychiatric profession on its first publication where the prevailing view was to treat psychosis as a medical problem to be solved. Yet it has done a great deal to draw attention to the complex and contested nature of psychosis. Above all, Laing and Esterson thought that if you understood the patient's world, their apparent madness would become socially intelligible. This Routledge Classics edition includes a new Foreword by Hilary Mantel.      Sanity, Madness and the Family Ronald David Laing, 1969      Sanity, Madness and the Family R. D. Laing, A. Fischer, Stanley L. Brodsky,      Karl Jaspers' Theory of Irrationality Daniel Adsett, 2024-12-16 Defending the view that Karl Jaspers' concept of irrationality (Widervernunft) is better able to account for pathological patterns of individual and collective thinking, Karl Jaspers' Theory of Irrationality: From Delusions to Worldviews argues that irrationality is incorrigibility, a blockage of reason as the will to communication. Highlighting the importance of freedom and creativity at the heart of reason, Widervernunft Daniel Adsett analyzes examples of delusional thought through a Jaspersian lens. He shows that irrationality arises when we hold to certain attitudes with an incorrigible conviction and refuse to genuinely consider the possibility that we might need to revise or change our beliefs. In presenting these arguments, Adsett offers a novel contribution to contemporary debates about the character of reason while rehabilitating an often neglected aspect of Jaspers' thought.      The Family's Construction of Reality David Reiss, 1981 David Reiss presents a new model of family interaction.

grounded in the subtle and complex way in which a family constructs its inner life and deals with the outside world Based upon fifteen years of research the book offers a new understanding of the covert processes that hold a family together and with distressing frequency pull it apart     "Strange Prophecies Anew" Tony Trigilio,2000 This book revives questions of religious and political authority in poetic prophecy It argues that modern prophecy operates within a dynamic of continuity and estrangement that combines immanent and transcendent modes of representation creating a poetry that revises the very tradition that authorizes it     The Unruly Garden Robert Duncan,Eric Mottram,2007 Robert Duncan was a defining figure of twentieth century American poetry Eric Mottram was a pioneer in the field of American Studies in the UK and a key contributor to the British Poetry Revival In the 1970s the two men conducted a wide ranging dialogue on poetry politics and the religious through an exchange of intense and often expansive letters Mottram continued the dialogue in two substantive critical examinations of Duncan's work The Unruly Garden presents an annotated edition of the complete available correspondence along with the two essays The first essay was heavily edited when originally published and is included here in its restored form The second essay appeared in a small press magazine and now receives the wider circulation it deserves
