Linguistics of the Himalayas and Beyond Roland Bielmeier, Felix Haller, 2011-05-12 The approximately 250 languages of the Tibeto Burman family are spoken by 65 million speakers in ten different countries including Pakistan India Nepal Bhutan Burma and China Tibet They are characterized by a fascinating linguistic historical and cultural diversity The languages spoken in the Himalayas on their southern slopes and on the high Tibetan plateau in the north constitute the core of this diversity Thus the 21 papers mainly deal with these languages and some go even beyond to the area of the Blue Lake in northern Amdo and to southern Kham within linguistic Tibet The ten papers dedicated to Tibetan linguistic studies offer approaches to the phonological analysis of Balti to labial place assimilation perfective stem renovation and stem alternation connected with verbal valence in Amdo Tibetan to directional markers in Tokpe Gola in northeastern Nepal to secondary verb constructions in Kham Tibetan to narrative texts in Dzongkha to case marking patterns in various Tibetan dialects and to language history of Tibetan in general Other papers deal with deictic patterns and narratives in western Himalayan Kinnauri and with the classification of neighbouring Bunan With the Tamangic languages of northern Nepal the relationship between vowels and consonants and the development of demonstratives and plural markers are addressed A further paper investigates the genetic relationship between Dzala and Dakpa two East Bodish languages and another one case marking in Rabha and Manipuri in northeastern India With the Kiranti languages Sampang Limbu Chaurasia and Sunwar in eastern Nepal questions of accent pronominally marked determiners subclassification and language shift are discussed The impressive selection of languages and linguistic topics dealt with in this book underlines the diversity of the Tibeto Burman languages in Central and South Asia and highlights their place within present day linguistic research The results achieved by leading experts are remarkable in general and the book is of interest to linguists anthropologists and geographers

Relative Tense and Aspectual Values in Tibetan Languages Bettina Zeisler, 2011-06-24 This study presents a comparative approach to a universal theory of TENSE ASPECT and MOOD combining the methods of comparative and historical linguistics fieldwork text linguistics and philology The parts of the book discuss and describe i the concepts of TENSE ASPECT and MOOD ii the Tibetan system of RELATIVE TENSE and aspectual values with main sections on Old and Classical Tibetan Lhasa Tibetan and East Tibetan Amdo and Kham and iii West Tibetan Ladakhi Purik Balti Part iv presents the comparative view Discussing the similarities and differences of temporal and aspectual concepts the study rejects the general claim that ASPECT is a linguistic universal A new linguistic concept FRAMING is introduced in order to account for the aspect like conceptualisations found in e g English The concept of RELATIVE TENSE or taxis may likewise not be universal Among the Tibetan varieties West Tibetan is unique in having fully grammaticalized the concept of ABSOLUTE TENSE West Tibetan is compared diachronically with Old and Classical Tibetan documented since the mid 8th century and synchronically with several contemporary Tibetan varieties The grammaticalized forms of each variety are described on the basis of their employment in discourse The underlying general function of the Tibetan verbal system is thus shown to be that of RELATIVE TENSE Secondary aspectual functions are described for restricted contexts A special focus on the pragmatic or metaphorical use of present tense constructions in Tibetan leads to a typology of narrative conventions The last part also offers some suggestions for the reconstruction of the Proto Tibetan verb system

A Linguistic Philosophy of Language Paul Richard Rastall, 2000 This work draws out the philosophical implications of European functionalist linguistics It contains an account of human linguistic capacities through considering the role of languages in overall semiotic behaviour and the nature of our models of language and languages It is particularly concerned with the nature of linguistically conveyed messages and their role in consciousness and with the methods for their understanding The implications are related to an emergent anthropocentric philosophy and to metaphysics epistemology in the wider sense the philosophy of science and ethics There is a special consideration of the limitations on human understanding which are due to the nature of our linguistic communication and our methods of analysis

A Cognitive Approach to the Semantics of the German Passive Carlee Arnett, 2004 Hopper Thompson's 1980 seminal article on transitivity brought forth renewed interest in the passive and other correlates of transitivity Langacker 1982 and others working with the Cognitive Grammar CG framework argue that the passive voice is an independent construction and that it is not a reorganization of the active voice Language specific problems for the German passive include the use of the dative case to mark certain passive participants passives formed from verbs and preposition combinations and impersonal passives This study provides a semantic analysis of all the types of passive constructions found in German and shows that these construction types are related A corpus of written data is used and the focus is on radial categories of meaning in Modern German

The Interrelations of Syntax, Narrative Structure, and Prosody in a Berber Language Clive W. McClelland, 2000 This study is a systematic investigation of the links among prosody clause structure and discourse pragmatics in four oral narratives of Tarifit a VSO Berber language spoken in northeastern Morocco It is a new method of empirical analysis of language utilizing a unique combination of sound analysis statistics grammar and story structure Using the speech analysis program Signalize levels of amplitude fundamental frequency length and speed were analyzed In addition factors relating to clause structure and discourse pragmatics were quantified The results of this investigation support some but not all claims of previous researchers and reveal numerous additional interrelations not previously noted These results suggest that prosody in relation to discourse pragmatics and clause structure may be a rich field of future linguistic endeavor They also contribute to greater knowledge of a little known language in North Africa

The Relationship of Ethnic Self-identification of Latter Generations of Louisiana's Sicilian-Americans to Their Use of Ethnic Colloquial Phrases Kathryn Defatta Barattini,2000 This study examines later generation ethnic Americans as opposed to recent immigrants and their sense of ethnic self identification as it relates to their use of limited colloquial ethnic phrases and words as opposed to their fluency in their ethnic native tongue It uses correlational analysis to identify relationships among the language use and ethnic self identification variables

Universal Quantification with Skolemization as Evidenced in Chinese and English Shi-Zhe Huang,2005 This book is concerned with the formal definition of universal quantification The central claim advanced here is that the formal definition of EVERY which stands for any distributive universal quantifier ought to incorporate a skolem function to capture the paired reading that for every x there is a y We claim that this paired reading is present in all universal quantifier sentences This definition of EVERY requires a variable in the scope of the universal quantifier word This is so because the skolem function facilitates the paired reading by linking the choice of the value for y with the choice of the value for x Under this view securing a variable in the scope of a universal quantifier word becomes a make or break requirement of universal quantification The issues dealt with in this book are highly theoretical and formal but we approach them almost entirely from an empirical perspective supporting the skolemized definition of EVERY with evidence drawn exclusively from natural language data mostly from Chinese but with some crucial data from English as well scoping properties of indefinites in Chinese semantic properties of the Chinese adverb dou and a number of conjunction and additive words and event semantics It also offers a novel way of explaining the interaction of dou with interrogative Wh phrases
