Madame Mao Thérèse Radic, 1986 Jiang Qing is the widow of Mao Zedong creator of the Chinese revolution Born into the peasantry she rose to become briefly the most powerful woman in the world married to the world's most powerful man Haunting in Chinese-Australian Writing Xiao Xiong, 2023-06-26 This book examines haunting in terms of trauma, language and the supernatural in works by Chinese Australian writers born in Australia, Mainland China, Hong Kong, Malaysia and Singapore. It goes beyond the conventional focus on identity issues in the analysis of diasporic writing, considering how the memory of past trauma is triggered by abusive systems of power in the present. The author unpacks how trauma also brings past violence to haunt the present. This book considers how different Chinese diasporic communities present a dynamic and multiple state through partial erasure between different Chinese subcultures and other cultures. Showing the supernatural as a social and cultural product, this book elucidates how haunting, as the supernatural, refers to the coexistence of and the competition between different cultures and powers. It takes a wide-ranging view of different diasporic communities under the banner 'Chinese', a term that refers not only to Chinese nationals in terms of citizenship but also to the Chinese diaspora in terms of ancestry and Chinese culture more generally. In analysing haunting in texts, the author positions Chinese culture as in a constant state of flux. It is relevant to literary scholars and students with interests in Australian literature, Chinese and Southeast Asian migration writing, and those with an interest in the Gothic and postcolonial traditions.

Writing Back Through Our Mothers Tegan Zimmerman, 2014 For the first time in the literary tradition, the contemporary woman's historical novel post 1970 is surveyed from a transnational feminist perspective. Analyzing the maternal, the genre's central theme reveals that historical fiction is a transnational feminist means for challenging historical erasures, silences, normative sexuality, political exclusion and divisions of labor.
