Rebels In Paradise Indonesias Civil War:

The Decline of Constitutional Democracy in Indonesia Herbert Feith, 2007 This is an intensive study of Indonesian politics from the attainment of full independence in December 1949 to the proclamation of martial law in March 1957 and President Soekarno's subsequent establishment of guided democracy It is intended as a contribution to the ongoing discussion of democracy in the new states of Asia and Africa of the ways in which Western political institutions are transformed when employed in non Western social settings and of the obstacles to be overcome if such institutions are to operate in consonance with the authority systems of new nations and with their solution of economic and administrative problems Now brought back into print as a member of Equinox Publishing's Classic Indonesia series The Decline of Constitutional Democracy is considered to be the definitive study of Indonesia in the 1950s and will be of great interest to the growing number of social scientists concerned with the pre industrial nations and in particular with their efforts to use and adapt Western political institutions This is a solid and scholarly account but writing on the basis of much personal observation Dr Feith manages to present his material in such a way that readers with no previous background in the subject will be able to follow the book almost as easily as will specialists HERBERT FEITH 1930 2001 became familiar with Indonesia during 1951 53 and 1954 56 when he was an English Language Assistant with the Ministry of Information of the Republic of Indonesia A citizen of Australia he received an M A degree from the University of Melbourne in 1955 and a Ph D from Cornell University in 1961 He was a Research Fellow in the Department of Pacific History Australian National University from 1960 to 1962 and was Chair of Politics at Monash University from 1968 until 1974 Rebels in Paradise James Mossman, 1961

Twentieth-century Indonesia Wilfred T. Neill, 1973 In the 1930s a band of smart and able young men some still in their twenties helped Franklin D Roosevelt transform an American nation in crisis They were the junior officers of the New Deal Thomas G Corcoran Benjamin V Cohen William O Douglas Abe Fortas and James Rowe helped FDR build the modern Democratic Party into a progressive coalition whose command over power and ideas during the next three decades seemed politically invincible This is the first book about this group of Rooseveltians and their linkage to Lyndon Johnson's Great Society and the Vietnam War debacle Michael Janeway grew up inside this world His father Eliot Janeway business editor of Time and a star writer for Fortune and Life magazines was part of this circle strategizing and practicing politics as well as reporting on these men Drawing on his intimate knowledge of events and previously unavailable private letters and other documents Janeway crafts a riveting account of the exercise of power during the New Deal and its aftermath He shows how these men were at the nexus of reform impulses at the electoral level with reform thinking in the social sciences and the law and explains how this potent fusion helped build the contemporary American state Since that time efforts to reinvent government by brains trust have largely failed in the U S In the last quarter of the twentieth century American politics ceased to function as a blend of broad coalition building and reform agenda setting rooted in a consensus of belief in the efficacy of modern government Can a progressive coalition of ideas and power come together again The Fall of the House of Roosevelt makes such a prospect both alluring and daunting

The Politics of Religion in South and Southeast Asia Ishtiaq Ahmed, 2011-05-04 The notion of a politics of religion refers to the increasing role that religion plays in the politics of the contemporary world This book presents comparative country case studies on the politics of religion in South and South Asia including India Pakistan and Indonesia The politics of religion calls into question the relevance of modernist notions of secularism and democracy with the emphasis instead on going back to indigenous roots in search of authentic ideologies and models of state and nation building Within the context of the individual countries chapters focus on the consequences that politics of religion has on inclusive nation building democracy and the rights of individuals minorities and women The book makes a contribution to both the theoretical and conceptual literature on the politics of religion as well as shed light on the implications and ramifications of the politics of religion on contemporary South Asian and South East Asian countries It is of interest to students and scholars of South and South East Asian Studies as well as Comparative Politics

Southeast Asia and the Cold War Albert Lau, 2012 The origins and the key defining moments of the Cold War in Southeast Asia have been widely debated This book focuses on an area that has received less attention the impact and legacy of the Cold War on the various countries in the region as well as on the region itself The book contributes to the historiography of the Cold War in Southeast Asia by examining not only how the conflict shaped the milieu in which national and regional change unfolded but also how the context influenced the course and tenor of the Cold War in the region It goes on to look at the usefulness or limitations of using the Cold War as an interpretative framework for understanding change in Southeast Asia Chapters discuss how the Cold War had a varied but notable impact on the countries in Southeast Asia not only on the mainland countries belonging to what the British Foreign Office called the upper arc but also on those situated on its maritime lower arc The book is an important contribution to the fields of Asian Studies and International Relations

Encountering Islam Hui Yew-Foong, 2003-08-01 This volume seeks to introduce and deepen the understanding of Islam and its role in politics as encountered in different national and transnational contexts in Southeast Asia eschewing the neo orientalist approach that has informed public discourse in recent years In Encountering Islam the book lingers beyond the summary moment and reflects on the multiple impressions suppressions and repressions whether coherent or incoherent associated with Islam as a socio political force in public life To this end it is not adequate simply to represent the divergent identities associated with

Islam in Southeast Asia whether embedded in state endorsed orthodoxy or Islamic movements that contest such orthodoxy It is also important to examine religious minorities in political contexts where Islam is dominant and Muslim communities in national contexts where they are minorities By situating these religious identities within their larger socio political contexts this volume seeks to provide a more holistic understanding of what is encountered as Islam in Southeast Asia Twenty years Indonesian foreign policy 1945-1965 Ide Anak Agung Gde Agung, 2018-12-03 No detailed description available for Twenty years Indonesian foreign policy 1945 1965
