Religious Education in a Plural, Secularised Society. A Paradigm Shift Leni Franken, Patrick Loobuyck, 2011 Many European societies are characterised by increasing forms of secularisation and religious diversity This results in a paradigm shift with regard to religious education For a long time the main aim of religious education was clearly to educate children in their own religious tradition Today the aims of religious education are much broader contributing to pupils general education Allgemeinbildung and preparing them for participation as a citizen in the future multicultural society As a result the following question arises in many countries how can teaching into religion be transformed into or complemented by learning about and learning from the study of religions This book brings several distinguished authors in the field of religious education together to reflect on this paradigm shift The book is divided into two parts The first part is rather descriptive and gives an informative and up to date overview of the different discussions about religious education in several European countries The second part is a normative reflection on the question of how religious education should be organised in plural secularised societies This book is very important for the discussion about religious education Its comparative approach combined with the interdisciplinary dialogue between the different schools in the field of religious education make this book highly recommendable for everyone who is interested in the state of the art and the future of religious education in Europe
