Religious Studies for Laymen Charles Elmer Beals, 1913

The Politics of Religious Studies Donald Wiebe, 1998 In The Politics of Religious Studies Donald

Wiebe takes on a debate that has been raging in universities across North America and Europe for some years now. The issue is whether to approach religion as a science free from the dissemination of beliefs and evangelizing or to study it as a form of faith and therefore draw lines between believers and nonbelievers. Wiebe persuasively argues the former, claiming that if taught in a university, religion must be treated as a science with all the objectivity and research that are brought to other subjects. He further maintains that the study of theology should take place in seminaries, which are the proper places for the pursuit of religion as a creed. Exploring the true meaning and role of an academic, Wiebe shows how, by propagating religion, instructors are abandoning their academic task to explain everything and enjoin nothing. Certain to incite controversy, The Politics of Religious Studies is an intelligent manifesto guaranteed to help readers look at academia, the search for knowledge, and the idea of religion in an entirely new light.

A Trinitarian Theology of Religions Gerald R. McDermott, Harold A. Netland, 2014-04-17. Named by the International Bulletin of Missionary Studies as an Outstanding Book of 2014 for Mission Studies. Over the last four decades, evangelical scholars have shown growing interest in Christian debates over other religions, seeking answers to essential questions: How are we to think about and relate to other religions? Be open to the Spirit and at the same time remain evangelical and orthodox. Gerald R. McDermott and Harold A. Netland offer critiques of a variety of theologians and religious studies scholars, including evangelicals, but also challenge evangelicals to move beyond parochial positions. This volume is both a manifesto and a research program critically evaluating the last forty years of Christian treatments of religious others and proposing a comprehensive direction for the future. It addresses issues relating to the religions in both systematic theology and missiology, taking up long debated questions such as contextualization, salvation, revelation, the relationship between culture and religion, conversion, social action, and ecumenism. It concludes with responses from four leading thinkers of African, Asian, and European backgrounds: Veli-Matti Kärkkäinen, Vinod Ramachandra Lamin, Samueh, and Christine Schirrmacher.

For the Life of the World (Theology for the Life of the World) Miroslav Volf, Matthew Croasmun, 2019-01-22. Christianity Today 2020 Book Award. Award of Merit. Theology Ethics Outreach 2020 Recommended Resource of the Year. Theology and Biblical Studies. The question of what makes life worth living is more vital now than ever. In today's pluralistic, postsecular world, universal values are dismissed as mere matters of private opinion, and the question of what constitutes flourishing life for ourselves, our neighbors, and the planet as a whole is neglected in our universities, our churches, and our culture at large. Although we increasingly have technology to do almost anything, we have little sense of what is truly worth accomplishing. In this provocative new contribution to public theology, world-renowned theologian Miroslav Volf named America's New Public Intellectual by Scot McKnight on his Jesus Creed blog and Matthew Croasmun explain that the intellectual tools needed to rescue us from our present malaise and meet our new cultural challenge are the tools of theology. A renewal of theology is crucial to help us articulate compelling visions of the good life, find our way through the maze of contested questions of value, and answer the fundamental question of what makes life worth living. Faithful Interpretations Philip Geister, Gösta Hallonsten, 2021. Most of the essays in this volume were originally delivered as papers at a conference in Uppsala, Sweden, in October 2017 by top scholars in this evolving field. The conference had a theme of the Roman Catholic theology of religions, which in general terms makes up the subject of the foreword and the first three essays of the book, the third of which addresses Judaism specifically. The next three essays discuss the status of truth claims in Catholic and Christian theology of religions. In the final four essays of the book, the special case of Islam in relation to Christianity is specifically in focus. The concluding essay, 'A Faithful Interpretation of Islam', gives the collection its name.

Christians and Religious Pluralism Alan Race, 1993. The Primacy of God: The Virtue of Religion in Catholic Theology R. Jared Staudt, 2022-02-08. To contemporary minds, the notion of justice toward God is seldom considered and often foreign. Far more discussed is how God might either undermine or motivate social justice. 'The Primacy of God' by R. Jared Staudt offers an important intervention. With the aid of St. Thomas Aquinas, Staudt argues that it is vital for both contemporary society and contemporary Catholic theology to return to the traditional view of God as the one to whom all human and social action must be ordered, and to recover the virtue of religion as the virtue which orders all other virtues to God. Not only does Staudt helpfully remind readers of the ancient philosophical and biblical notion of worship as a dictate of the natural law, he also illuminates the way in which Christian liturgy as an enactment of Christ's high priesthood is the great fulfillment of natural and biblical worship. Accordingly, Staudt secures religion as essential for the virtue of love. This brings Staudt to criticize modern theologians like Karl Barth who claimed that religion is inherently idolatrous, as well as Karl Rahner who claimed that love of neighbor is the highest moral act. Staudt also considers the question of religious truth in light of the plurality of religions, soliciting the assistance of Hans Urs von Balthasar and Joseph Ratzinger, as well as the way in which religion relates to the development of culture, engaging the great Catholic social historian Christopher Dawson. 'The Primacy of God' is a much-needed work that ought to set the agenda for Catholic theology in the twenty-first century.

Comparative Theology in the Millennial Classroom Mara Brecht, Reid B. Locklin, 2015-12-07. This volume explores the twenty-first century classroom as a uniquely intergenerational space of religious disaffiliation and questions about how our work in the classroom can be and is being reimagined for the new generation. The culturally hybrid identity of Millennials shapes their engagement with religious others on campus and in the classroom, pushing educators of comparative theology to develop new pedagogical strategies that leverage ways of seeing and interacting with their teachers and classmates. Reflecting on religious traditions such as Islam, Judaism, African Traditional Religions, Hinduism, Christianity, and agnosticism.

atheism this volume theorizes the theological outcomes of current pedagogies and the shifting contours of comparative theological discourse
