Religion in the Ancient Near East and Asia Nicole Maria Brisch, Fumi Karahashi, 2023-04-03 The recent years have seen an upswing in studies of women in the ancient Near East and related areas This volume which is the result of a Danish Japanese collaboration seeks to highlight women as actors within the sphere of the religious In ancient Mesopotamia and other ancient civilizations religious beliefs and practices permeated all aspects of society and for this reason it is not possible to completely dissociate religion from politics economy or literature Thus the goal is to shift the perspective by highlighting the different ways in which the agency of women can be traced in the historical and archaeological record This perspectival shift can be seen in studies of elite women who actively contributed to religious gift giving or participated in temple economies or through showing the limits of elite women's agency in relation to diplomatic marriages Additionally several contributions examine the roles of women as religious officials and the language worship or invocation of goddesses This volume does not aim at completeness but seeks to highlight points for further research and new perspectives religious sites and ceremonies images that show sacred places vestments rituals objects and texts and more Hittite Texts and Greek Religion Ian Rutherford, 2020-09-23 Our knowledge of ancient Greece has been transformed in the last century by an increased understanding of the cultures of the Ancient Near East This is particularly true of ancient religion This book looks at the relationship between the religious systems of Ancient Greece and the Hittites who controlled Turkey in the Late Bronze Age 1400 1200 BC The cuneiform texts preserved in the Hittite archives provide a particularly rich source for religious practice detailing festivals purification rituals oracle consultations prayers and myths of the Hittite state as well as documenting the religious practice of neighbouring Anatolian states in which the Hittites took an interest Hittite religion is thus more comprehensively documented than any other ancient religious tradition in the Near East even Egypt The Hittites are also known to have been in contact with Mycenaean Greece known to them as Ahhiyawa The book first sets out the evidence and provides a methodological paradigm for using comparative data It then explores cases where there may have been contact or influence such as in the case of scapegoat rituals or the Kumarbi Cycle Finally it considers key aspects of religious practices shared by both systems such as the pantheon rituals of war festivals and animal sacrifice The aim of such a comparison is to discover clues that may further our understanding of the deep history of religious practices and when used in conjunction with historical data illuminate the differences between cultures and reveal what is distinctive about each of them Geography, Religion, Gods, and Saints in the Eastern Mediterranean Erica Ferg, 2020-01-16 Geography Religion Gods and Saints in the Eastern Mediterranean explores the influence of geography on religion and highlights a largely unknown story of religious history in the Eastern Mediterranean In the Levant agricultural communities of Jews Christians and Muslims jointly venerated and largely shared three important saints or holy figures Jewish Elijah Christian St George and Muslim al Khi r These figures share peculiar characteristics such as associations with rain greenness fertility and storms Only in the Eastern Mediterranean are Elijah St George and al Khi r shared between religious communities or characterized by these same agricultural attributes attributes that also were shared by regional religious figures from earlier time periods such as the ancient Near Eastern Storm god Baal Hadad and Levantine Zeus This book tells the story of how that came to be and suggests that the figures share specific characteristics over a very long period of time because these motifs were shaped by the geography of the region Ultimately this book suggests that regional geography has influenced regional religion that Judaism Christianity and Islam are not historically or textually speaking separate religious traditions even if Jews Christians and Muslims are members of distinct religious communities and that shared religious practices between members of these and other local religious communities are not unusual Instead shared practices arose out of a common geographical environment and an interconnected religious heritage and are a natural historical feature of religion in the Eastern Mediterranean This volume will be of interest to students of ancient Near Eastern religions Judaism Christianity Islam sainthood agricultural communities in the ancient Near East Middle Eastern religious and cultural history and the
