The Ideology of Religious Studies Timothy Fitzgerald, 2003-10-16 In recent years there has been an intensifying debate within the religious studies community about the validity of religion as an analytical category In this book Fitzgerald sides with those who argue that the concept of religion itself should be abandoned On the basis of his own research in India and Japan and through a detailed analysis of the use of religion in a wide range of scholarly texts the author maintains that the comparative study of religion is really a form of liberal ecumenical theology By pretending to be a science religion significantly distorts socio cultural analysis He suggest however that religious studies can be re represented in a way which opens up new and productive theoretical connections with anthropology and cultural and literary studies

Religious Studies Scholars As Public Intellectuals Sabrina D. Misir Hiralall, Christopher L. Fici, Gerald S. Vigna, 2018 The prominence of religion in recent debates around politics identity formation and international terrorism has led to an increased demand on those studying religion to help clarify and contextualise religious belief and practice in the public sphere While many texts focus on the theoretical development of the subject this book outlines a wider application of these studies by exploring the role of religious studies scholars and theologians as public intellectuals This collection of essays first seeks to define exactly what makes an intellectual public It then goes on to deal with a few questions of concern How do public intellectuals construct knowledge in religious and theological scholarship What is the link between public intellectuals of higher education and their role in society Do higher education institutions have a responsibility to endorse public intellectualism Looking at the individual and collective role of religious studies scholars and theologians in public life this book will be of great interest to all scholars and academics involved in religious studies and theology across the academy

Interreligious Comparisons in Religious Studies and Theology Perry Schmidt-Leukel, Andreas Nehring, 2016-07-14 Can religions be compared For decades the discipline of religious studies was based on the assumption that they can Postmodern and postcolonial reflections however raised significant doubts In social and cultural studies the investigation of the particular often took precedence over a comparative perspective

Interreligious Comparisons in Religious Studies and Theology questions whether religious studies can survive if it ceases to be comparative religion Can it do justice to a globalized world

if it is limited on the specific and turns a blind eye on the general While comparative approaches have come under strong pressure in religious studies they have started flourishing in Theology Comparative theology practices interfaith dialogue by means of comparative research This volume asks whether theology and religious studies are able to mutually benefit from their critical and constructive reflections Can postcolonial criticism of neutrality and objectivity in religious studies create new links with the decidedly perspectival approach of comparative theology In this collection scholars from theology and religious studies discuss the methodology of interreligious comparison in the light of recent doubts and current objections Together with the contributors Perry Schmidt Leukel and Andreas Nehring argue that after decades of critique interreligious comparison deserves to be reconsidered reconstructed and reintroduced Judging Religion Justly Martin X.

and Society Lieven Boeve,2016-08-25 Lieven Boeve examines the place of theology in the university the church and society He emphasizes that theology certainly belongs to all of these three domains as it belongs to the nature of theology to involve itself in all three spheres especially at the crossroads where they overlap Boeve discusses the recent document Theology Today from the International Theological Commission which circumscribes theology's place and task in the Catholic Church Boeve discusses how the difficult relation between theology and philosophy is typical for a Church which has difficulty with the dialogue in today's world as well as examines the relation between theology and religious studies Going further Boeve offers a reflection on Catholic identity today focusing more specifically on education He presents four models for considering the identity of Catholic schools in the light of the changed society and argues that dialogue in a context of plurality and difference can lead to new fruitful ways to shape even the Catholic identity Boeve concludes his discussion with a short assessment of Pope Benedict's papacy and emphasizes the need for the Catholic Church to convert itself before it can call the world to do the same Vision, Tradition, Interpretation Eric J.
