Peter C. Herman

Renaissance The Invention Of Perspective:

The Renaissance Lillo Canta,1995-01 A boy studies the background and work of the artists of the Italian Renaissance and how their discovery of how to depict perspective in painting spread to other parts of Europe The Psychology of Perspective and Renaissance Art Michael Kubovy,1986 Michael Kubovy an experimental psychologist recounts the lively history of the invention of perspective in the fifteenth century and shows how as soon as the invention spread it was used to achieve subtle and fascinating aesthetic effects A clear presentation of the fundamental concepts of perspective and the reasons for its effectiveness drawing on the latest laboratory research on how people perceive leads into the development of a new theory to explain why Renaissance artists such as Leonardo and Mantegna used perspective in unorthodox ways which have puzzled art scholars This theory illuminates the author s broader consideration of the evolution of art the book proposes a resolution of the debate between those who believe that the invention discovery of perspective is a stage in the steady progress of art and those who believe that perspective is merely a conventional and arbitrary system for the representation of space Renaissance Paintings Janey Levy,2004-08-01 Discusses the invention of perspective during the Renaissance and analyzes perspective in various Renaissance paintings

Pathways into the Jungian World Roger Brooke,2003-09-02 In Pathways into the Jungian World contributors from the disciplines of medicine psychology and philosophy look at the central issues of commonality and difference between phenomenology and analytical psychology The major theme of the book is how existential phenomenology and analytical psychology have been involved in the same fundamental cultural and therapeutic project both legitimize the subtlety complexity and depth of experience in an age when the meaning of experience has been abandoned to the dictates of pharmaceutical technology economics and medical psychiatry The contributors reveal how Jung s relationship to the phenomenological tradition can be and is being developed and rigorously show that the psychological resonance of the world is immediately available for phenomenological description Rethinking the Henrician Era Peter C. Herman,1994 The Making of Theatre History Paul Kuritz,1988 Marcel Duchamp and the Architecture of Desire Penelope Haralambidou,2017-03-02 While much has been written on Marcel Duchamp one of the twentieth century s most beguiling artists the subject of his flirtation with architecture seems to have been largely overlooked Yet in the carefully arranged plans and sections organising the blueprint of desire in the Large Glass his numerous pieces replicating architectural fragments and his involvement in designing exhibitions Duchamp s fascination with architectural design is clearly evident As his unconventional architectural influences Niceron Lequeu and Kiesler and diverse legacy Tschumi OMA Webb Diller Scofidio and Nicholson indicate Duchamp was not as much interested in built architecture as he was in the architecture of desire re constructing the imagination through drawing and testing the boundaries between reality and its aesthetic and philosophical possibilities Marcel Duchamp and the Architecture of Desire examines the link between architectural thinking and Duchamp s work By employing design drawing and making the tools of the architect Haralambidou performs an architectural analysis of Duchamp's final enigmatic work Given 1 The Waterfall 2 The Illuminating Gas demonstrating an innovative research methodology able to grasp meaning beyond textual analysis This novel reading of his ideas and methods adds to but also challenges other art historical interpretations Through three main themes allegory,visuality and desire the book defines and theorises an alternative drawing practice positioned between art and architecture that predates and includes Duchamp

The Geometry of an Art Kirsti Andersen,2008-11-23 Key Issues Ever since the late 1970s when Pia Holdt a student of mine at the time and Jed Buchwald a colleague normally working in another field made me aware of how fascinating the history of perspective constructions is I have wanted to know more My studies have resulted in the present book in which I am mainly concerned with describing how the understanding of the geometry behind perspective developed and how and to what extent new insights within the mathematical theory of perspective influenced the way the discipline was presented in textbooks In order to throw light on these aspects of the history of perspective I have chosen to focus upon a number of key questions that I have divided into two groups Questions Concerning the History of Geometrical Perspective How did geometrical constructions of perspective images emerge How were they understood mathematically How did the geometrical constructions give rise to a mathematical theory of perspective How did this theory evolve In connection with the last question it is natural to take up the following themes

Art in Mind Ernst van Alphen, 2005-03-10 Art has the power to affect our thinking changing not only the way we view and interact with the world but also how we create it Art can be considered as a commanding force with the capacity to shape our intellect and intervene in our lives Art is a historical agent or a cultural creator that propels thought and experience forward The author demonstrates that art serves a socially constructive function by actually experimenting with the parameters of thought employing work from artists as Picasso Watteau Bacon Dumas and Matthew Barney Art confronts viewers with the pain points of cultural experience and thereby transforms the ways in which human existence is conceived

Perspective, Projections and Design Mario Carpo, Frédérique Lemerle, 2013-04-15 The essays selected for this book presented in chronological order discuss various aspects of image making technologies geometrical knowledge and tools for architectural design focusing in particular on two historical periods marked by comparable patterns of technological and cultural change The first is the Renaissance characterized by the rediscovery of linear perspectives and the simultaneous rise of new formats for architectural drawing and design on paper the second the contemporary rise of digital technologies and the simultaneous rise of virtual reality and computer based design and manufacturing Many of the contributing authors explore the parallel between the invention of the perspectival paradigm in early modern Europe and the recent development of digitized virtual reality This issue in turn bears on the specific purposes of architectural design where various representational tools and devices are used to visualize bi dimensional aspects of objects that must be measured and eventually built in three dimensional space

Architectonics of Game Spaces Andri Gerber, Ulrich Götz, 2020-03-03 What consequences does the design of the virtual yield for architecture and to what extent can the nature of architecture be used productively to turn game worlds into sustainable places over here in reality This pioneering collection gives an overview of contemporary developments in designing video games and of the relationships such practices have established with the design of architecture Due to their often simulatory nature games reveal constructions of reality while positively impacting spatial ability and allowing for alternative avenues to complex topics and processes of negotiation Granting insight into the merging of the design of real and virtual environments this volume offers an invaluable platform for further debate territory by bringing out the thought character of the self creating self unfolding logical life that it is In addition to clarifying what thought means for psychology and analyzing certain misconceptions surrounding the topic of soul and thought a challenging thesis concerning the limitation of an imaginal anima only approach in psychology given the essential historicity of the soul is carefully argued while examining at the same time such topics as the end of meaning and the birth of man anima mundi and time the metamorphosis of the gods and the logical steps involved in the transition from childhood to adulthood and from a psychological oneness with nature to modern alienation from nature The book also discusses the notion of the soul s logical life and shows in action the psychological procedure of absolute negative interiorization of phenomena into their soul and truth in a number of in depth examinations of particular phenomena e g Heraclitus dictum about the soul s depth the leap into the solid stone the negativity of the stone which is not a stone In thorough going critical engagements with other authors in the field it demonstrates specific instances where psychology fails to do its job due to faulty presuppositions above all psychology s failure to face the modern world It emphasizes the active role of the mind in soul making as the making of psychic reality It addresses the questions of the future of psychology and whether progress in psychology is possible

The Seductions of Darwin Matthew Rampley, 2017-01-12 The surge of evolutionary and neurological analyses of art and its effects raises questions of how art culture and the biological sciences influence one another and what we gain in applying scientific methods to the interpretation of artwork In this insightful book Matthew Rampley addresses these questions by exploring key areas where Darwinism neuroscience and art history intersect Taking a scientific approach to understanding art has led to novel and provocative ideas about its origins the basis of aesthetic experience and the nature of research into art and the humanities Rampley s inquiry examines models of artistic development the theories and development of aesthetic response and ideas about brain processes underlying creative work He considers the validity of the arguments put forward by advocates of evolutionary and neuroscientific analysis as well as its value as a way of understanding art and culture With the goal of bridging the divide between science and culture Rampley advocates for wider recognition of the human motivations that drive inquiry of all types and he argues that our engagement with art can never be encapsulated in a single notion of scientific knowledge Engaging and compelling The Seductions of Darwin is a rewarding look at the identity and development of art history and its complicated ties to the world of scientific thought fourteen essays by both emerging and established scholars this volume examines a diverse group of artists in conjunction with the vernacular canonical and fantastical structures engaged by their work I Manglano Ovalle Matthew Barney Monika Sosnowska Pipa Nguyen duy and Paul Pfeiffer are among those considered as are the compelling questions of architecture s relationship to photography the evolving legacy of Mies van der Rohe the notion of an architectural unconscious and the provocative concepts of the unbuilt and the unbuildable Through a rigorous investigation of these issues Contemporary Art About Architecture calls attention to the fact that art is now a vital form of architectural discourse Indeed this phenomenon is both pervasive and in its individual incarnations compelling a reason to think again about the entangled histories of architecture and art
