long been noted to be a fundamental aspect of the human condition Traditionally however philosophical discussions have tended to approach it through the lens of warfare and or limit it to physical forms This changed in the twentieth century as the nature and meaning of violence itself became a conceptual problem Guided by the contention that Walter Benjamin's famous 1921 Critique of Violence essay inaugurated this turn to an explicit questioning of violence this collection brings together an international array of scholars to engage with how subsequent thinkers Agamben Arendt Benjamin Butler Castoriadis Derrida Fanon Gramsci Merleau Ponty Sartre and Schmitt grappled with the meaning and place of violence The aim is not to reduce these multiple responses to a singular one but to highlight the heterogeneous ways in which the concept has been inquired into and the manifold meanings of it that have resulted To this end each chapter focuses on a different approach or thinker within twentieth and twenty first century European philosophy with many of them tackling the issue through the mediation of other topics and disciplines including biopolitics epistemology ethics culture law politics and psychoanalysis As such the volume will be an invaluable resource for those interested in Critical Theory Cultural Studies History of Ideas Philosophy Politics Political Theory Psychology and Sociology     The Philosophy of Sartre Anthony

The Alienated Subject James A. Tyner, 2022-03-08 A timely and provocative discussion of alienation as an intersectional category of life under racial capitalism and white supremacy. From the divisiveness of the Trump era to the Covid 19 pandemic, alienation has become an all too familiar contemporary concept. In this groundbreaking book, James A. Tyner offers a novel framework for understanding the alienated subject, situating it within racial capitalism and white supremacy. Directly addressing current economic trends and their rhetoric of xenophobia, discrimination, and violence, The Alienated Subject exposes the universal whitewashing of alienation. Drawing insight from a variety of sources, including Marxism, feminism, existentialism, and critical race theory, Tyner develops a critique of both the liberal subject and the alienated subject. Through an engagement with the recent pandemic and the Black Lives Matter movement, he demonstrates how the alienated subject is capable of both compassion and cruelty; it is a sadomasochist. Tyner goes on to emphasize the importance of the particular places we find the alienated subject and how the revolutionary transformation of alienation is inherently a spatial struggle. Returning to key interlocutors from Sartre to Fromm, he examines political notions of distance and the spatial practices of everyday life as well as the capitalist conditions that give rise to the alienated subject. For Tyner, the alienated subject is not the iconic romanticized image of Marx's proletariat. Here, he calls for an affirmation of love as a revolutionary concept necessary for the transformation of a society marred by capitalism into an emancipated, caring society conditioned by socially just relations.
