Actions and Objects from Hobbes to Richardson Jonathan Kramnick, 2010-08-30 How do minds cause events in the world How does wanting to write a letter cause a person's hands to move across the page Actions and Objects examines the literature and philosophy of action during the late seventeenth and early eighteenth centuries when philosophers novelists poets and scientists were all concerned with the place of the mind in the world They wondered whether belief desire and emotion were part of nature and thus subject to laws of cause and effect or in a special place outside the natural order The book emphasizes writers who tried to make actions compatible with external determination and to blur the boundary between mind and matter This kind of externalism has often been overlooked in the effort to make psychological depth and interiority arise in the eighteenth century Kramnick follows a long tradition of examining the close relation between literary and philosophical writing but he fundamentally revises the terrain situating literature alongside philosophy as jointly interested in discovering how minds work Culture and Politics at the Court of Charles II, 1660-1685 Matthew Jenkinson, 2010 The reconstitution of the royal court in 1660 brought with it the restoration of fears that had been associated with earlier Stuart courts disorder sexual liberty popery and arbitrary government This volume illustrates the ways in which court culture was informed by the heady politics of Britain between 1660 and 1685 The Brink of All We Hate Felicity A.
