Saturday At Mi9:

Saturday at M.I.9 Airey Neave, 2010 Saturday at M I 9 is the fascinating and hugely readable description of the escape lines which began in the first dark days of German occupation and how until the end of the war thousands of ordinary men and women made their own heroic contribution to the Allied victory by hiding and feeding pilots and escapees and guiding them to safety Airey Neave who was tragically assassinated by the IRA in 1979 had a remarkable war record After becoming the first British officer to make a home run from Colditz Castle he spent the last two years of the war as the chief organiser at M I 9 the secret organisation masterminding underground escape lines in occupied North West Europe which brought back to Britain over 4 000 Allied servicemen during World War Two As a result Neave was uniquely qualified to write this definitive and vivid account of M I 9 s achievements Back cover MI9 MRD Foot, 2020-02-11 Many of the most famous escapes in history took place during the Second World War These daring flights from Nazi occupied Europe would never have been possible but for the assistance of a hitherto secret British service MI9 This small dedicated and endlessly inventive team gave hope to the men who had fallen into enemy hands and aid to resistance fighters in occupied territory It sent money maps clothes compasses even hacksaws and in return coded letters from the prisoner of war camps and provided invaluable news of what was happening in the enemy s homeland Understaffed and under resourced MI9 nonetheless made a terrific contribution to the Allied war effort First published in 1979 this book tells the full inside story of an extraordinary organisation The Hidden Army - MI9's Secret Force and the Untold Story of D-Day Matt Richards, 2018-07-05 Almost seventy five years ago MI9 dreamt up the most audacious escape and evasion plan of World War Two Formulated by Airey Neave one of the first men ever to escape from Colditz this plan was one of subterfuge concealment and deception on a scale never seen before With numerous downed RAF and Allied pilots on the run in Europe and with the fabled Comete Escape Line having been infiltrated by double agents Neave s plan was to hide these men right under the very noses of the Nazis rather than risk repatriation Choosing a forest in the heart of France right next to one of the German Army s largest ammunition bases Neave Belgian agents and the French Resistance would secretly transport and hide Allied pilots and soldiers within feet of the enemy Nobody thought it would work but such was the success of the secret camp that a whole community of over one hundred and fifty Allied escapers lived within the forest for three months in the run up to D Day Despite numerous close shaves they were never discovered and this outrageous plan brilliant in its simplicity saw the Allied evaders make their home in the forest cooking and hunting to survive and even setting up a golf course in the forest using branches for clubs without discovery This operation remained absolutely secret to the point that the inhabitants of the villages surrounding the forest were unaware until the end of the existence of that allied force so close to them Told through interviews with evaders members of the Resistance and the children charged with smuggling food into the forest this book tells the compelling story of one of the most audacious operations in World War Two A story that has until today remained as

secret as the Hidden Army of Freteval The Long Road Back to Arnhem John Sliz,2018-12-28 After their famous evacuation of the 1st British Airborne Division during Operation Berlin the 23rd Field Company R C E or Storm Boat Kings as they were nicknamed were given a number of unique tasks These included everything from helping M I 9 send agents behind enemy lines to training other units in the use of Storm boats Women in Intelligence Helen Fry,2023-01-01 A groundbreaking history of women in British intelligence revealing their pivotal role across the first half of the twentieth century From the twentieth century onward women took on an extraordinary range of roles in intelligence defying the conventions of their time Across both world wars far from being a small part of covert operations women ran spy networks and escape lines parachuted behind enemy lines and interrogated prisoners And back in Bletchley and Whitehall women s vital administrative work in MI offices kept the British war engine running In this major panoramic history Helen Fry looks at the rich and varied work women undertook as civilians and in uniform From spies in the Belgian network La Dame Blanche knitting coded messages into jumpers to those who interpreted aerial images and even ran entire sections Fry shows just how crucial women were in the intelligence mission Filled with hitherto unknown stories Women in Intelligence places new research on record for the first time and showcases the inspirational contributions of these remarkable women Silent Heroes Sherri Greene Ottis,2021-12-14 In the early years of World War II it was an amazing feat for an Allied airman shot down over occupied Europe to make it back to England By 1943 however pilots and crewmembers supplied with escape kits knew they had a 50 percent chance of evading capture and returning home An estimated 12 000 French civilians helped make this possible More than 5 000 airmen many of them American successfully traveled along escape lines organized much like those of the U S Underground Railroad using secret codes and stopping in safe houses If caught they risked internment in a POW camp But the French Belgian and Dutch civilians who aided them risked torture and even death Sherri Ottis writes candidly about the pilots and crewmen who walked out of occupied Europe as well as the British intelligence agency in charge of Escape and Evasion But her main focus is on the helpers those patriots who have been all but ignored in English language books and journals To research their stories Ottis hiked the Pyrenees and interviewed many of the survivors She tells of the extreme difficulty they had in avoiding Nazi infiltration by double agents of their creativity in hiding evaders in their homes sometimes in the midst of unexpected searches of their generosity in sharing their meager food supplies during wartime and of their unflagging spirit and courage in the face of a war fought on a very personal level Saturday at M.I.9 Airey Neave,2004 Saturday at M I 9 is the inside story of the underground escape lines in occupied North West Europe which brought back to Britain over 4 000 Allied servicemen during World War Two Airey Neave who in the last two years of the war was the chief organiser at M I 9 gives his own unique account He describes how the escape lines began in the first dark days of German occupation and how until the end of the war thousands of ordinary men and women made their own contribution to the Allied victory by hiding and feeding men and guiding them to safety There isn t a page in the book which isn t exciting
