Emotional Alterity in the Medieval North Sea World Erin Sebo,Matthew Firth,Daniel Anlezark,2023-08-24 This book addresses a little considered aspect of the study of the history of emotions in medieval literature the depiction of perplexing emotional reactions Medieval literature often confronts audiences with displays of emotion that are improbable physiologically impossible or simply unfathomable in modern social contexts The intent of such episodes is not always clear medieval texts rarely explain emotional responses or their motivations The implication is that the meanings communicated by such emotional display were so obvious to their intended audience that no explanation was required This raises the question of whether such meanings can be recovered This is the task to which the contributors to this book have put themselves In approaching this question this book does not set out to be a collection of literary studies that treat portrayals of emotion as simple tropes or motifs isolated within their corpora Rather it seeks to uncover how such manifestations of feeling may reflect cultural and social dynamics underlying vernacular literatures from across the medieval North Sea world
