Finding Pax Kaci Cronkhite, 2018-09-18 The boat appeared when I didn't expect or frankly need her. My bucket list was empty. Life was full. But sailing towards me was a boat that would stir the waters, waking decades of loss, revealing history untold and restoring a legacy that was lost in the wind. For her and for me, I had to wade into that water. I had to go to search to find. Having fallen hopelessly in love with a 1930s Danish spidsgatter, a beautifully constructed 25 ft wooden double ender, Kaci embarks on an international search to unravel the mystery of the boat's past and discovers the many lives Pax touched since she first hit the water in 1936. Kaci Cronkhite's seven year search for Pax's history is an elegant little gem taking the reader aboard not only for sublime wind filled sails but also to eavesdrop the conversations and relationships that are built as she learns more about Pax's past whilst hugely enjoying her present. Finding Pax is a story of discovery and reconnection like no other. The writing is poetic, spare and full of wisdom. In sailing in weather in life and death, answers are not endings and questions are not to be feared. The unknowns keep us moving forward.

The Last Lovely City Alice Adams, 1999 Few writers interpret the depth and range of human experience as honestly as Alice Adams. A storyteller whose work recalls such past masters as Flannery O'Connor and Katherine Mansfield, Newsweek Adams' stunning new set of short stories further charts the emotional minefields of companionship, sex, memory and forgiveness. Presented in two parts, the collection moves from San Francisco to North Carolina to Mexico and Hawaii, delivering thirteen powerful stories that are sensitive, rich and wise yet surprisingly unsentimental. THE LAST LOVELY CITY is a masterful exploration of the tattered remnants of passion, of innocence too cheaply bartered for experience and of old lovers and old lives that never quite get left behind.

The Vanishing Vision James Day, 2023-04-28 This spirited history of public television offers an insider's account of its topsy-turvy forty year odyssey. James Day, a founder of San Francisco's KQED and a past president of New York's WNET, provides a vivid and often amusing behind-the-scenes history. Day tells how a program producer desperate to locate a family willing to live with television cameras for seven months borrowed a dime and a suggestion from a blind date and telephoned the Lounds of Santa Barbara. The result was the mesmerizing twelve hour documentary An American Family. Day relates how Big Bird and his friends were created to spice up Sesame Street when test runs showed a flagging interest in the program's live-action segments. And he describes how Frieda Hennock, the first woman appointed to the FCC, overpowered the resistance of her male colleagues to lay the foundation for public television. Day identifies the particular forces that have shaped public television and produced a Byzantine bureaucracy kept on a leash by an untrusting Congress with a fragmented leadership that lacks a clearly defined mission in today's multimedia environment Day calls for a bold rethinking of public television's mission advocating a system that is adequately funded independent of government and capable of countering commercial television's lowest common denominator approach with a full range of substantive programs comedy as well as culture entertainment as well as information This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1995 The Sausalito Waterfront Planning Committee Report Sausalito Waterfront Planning Committee, 1981
