Georgia's Historical Recipes Valerie J. Frey, 2025-05-01 Georgia's Historical Recipes is an exploration of our state's oldest recipes from the antebellum period through World War II, as painstakingly researched by Georgia archivist Valerie J. Frey. This volume begins with a discussion of old recipes as primary sources and what they can tell us about the history and culture of their era and how to bring them to life in modern kitchens. Frey then moves into fifty sections that can be read alone yet allow readers to build an understanding of how foodways evolved over time. Some sections highlight a single recipe illustrating how changes in technology, agriculture, transportation, communication, and social patterns led to changes in Georgia kitchens. Most of the recipes are previously unpublished, waiting in archives to be rediscovered. Other sections explore our oldest cookbooks, offering biographical and cultural background information that makes them more meaningful. For the first time, Georgians have a list of the state's early cookbooks and its cooking experts. Readers will learn where to find Georgia's oldest recipes and discover many examples to whet their appetites, literally and figuratively, for a taste of Georgia's past.

African Handbook of Climate Change Adaptation Nicholas Ogue, Desalegn Ayale, Lydia Adeleke, Izael da Silva, 2021-05-20 This open access book discusses current thinking and presents the main issues and challenges associated with climate change in Africa. It introduces evidence from studies and projects which show how climate change adaptation is being and may continue to be successfully implemented in African countries. Thanks to its scope and wide range of themes surrounding climate change, the ambition is that this book will be a lead publication on the topic, which may be regularly updated and hence capture further work. Climate change is a major global challenge. However, some geographical regions are more severely affected than others. One of these regions is the African continent. Due to a combination of unfavourable socio-economic and meteorological conditions, African countries are particularly vulnerable to climate change and its impacts. The recently released IPCC special report Global Warming of 1.5°C outlines the fact that keeping global warming by the level of 1.5°C is possible but also suggested that an increase by 2.0°C could lead to crises with crops, agriculture, food, and rain could drop by 50% in some African countries by 2020 and livestock production could damage water supplies and pose an additional threat to coastal areas. The 5th Assessment Report produced by IPCC predicts that wheat may disappear from Africa by 2080 and that maize, a staple, will fall significantly in southern Africa. Also, arid and semi-arid lands are likely to increase by up to 8% with severe ramifications for livelihoods, poverty eradication, and meeting the SDGs. Pursuing appropriate adaptation strategies is thus vital in order to address the current and future challenges posed by a changing climate. It is against this background that the African Handbook of Climate Change Adaptation is being published It contains papers prepared by scholars representatives from social movements practitioners and members of governmental agencies undertaking research and or executing climate change projects in Africa and working with communities across the African continent Encompassing over 100 contributions from across Africa it is the most comprehensive publication on climate change adaptation in Africa ever produced      The Complete Field Guide to Butterflies of Australia Michael Braby, 2016-04 As fascinating as they are beautiful butterflies are a pleasure to watch and an important group of invertebrates to study This second edition of the award winning book The Complete Field Guide to Butterflies of Australia is a fully updated guide to all butterfly species on Australia s mainland and remote islands Written by one of Australia s leading lepidopterists the book is stunningly illustrated with colour photographs many of which are new of each of the 435 currently recognised species There is also a distribution map and flight chart for each species on the Australian mainland together with information on similar species variation behaviour habitat status and larval food plants The introduction to the book covers adult structure higher classification distribution and habitats as well as life cycle and behaviour A new chapter on collecting and preserving butterflies is included There is also an updated checklist of all species a glossary a bibliography and indexes of common and scientific names      Commodity Prices in Their Relation to Transportation Costs Bureau of Railway Economics (Washington, D.C.), 1924      AIC. , 1943
