

Africa CDC Saving Lives and Livelihoods

in partnership with

July 2023

During the global COVID-19 pandemic, Mastercard Foundation and Africa CDC partnered to save the lives and livelihoods of millions of people and hasten the economic recovery of the African continent.

Saving Lives and Livelihoods initiative is a $1.5 billion USD initiative that addressed the urgency to purchase COVID-19 vaccines, supporting the delivery of vaccinations to millions more, as well as, in the longer-term, ensure Africa's health security and response to future pandemics.

WHO recently declared the end of COVID-19 as a public health emergency.

Africa CDC is leading the charge to integrate COVID-19 vaccinations into routine immunization programs. We will prioritize specific groups – health care workers, the elderly, and those who have underlying illnesses – to ensure they are fully vaccinated.

Saving Lives Livelihoods:

Saving livelihoods saves lives Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2018-11-01 A summary of the achievements of FAO's resilience and emergency programmes in 2017 covering over 50 countries While 59% of resources went to preventing famine in Nigeria Somalia South Sudan and Yemen FAO also responded to other major protracted crises

Saving livelihoods saves lives 2018 Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2019-05-23 In recent years the number of people experiencing acute hunger has been persistently high And 2018 was no exception Some 113 million people in 53 countries were acutely hungry last year That is 113 million girls boys men and women old and young who were unable to access enough food and required humanitarian assistance to meet their most basic needs For FAO building resilient agriculture based livelihoods and food systems is at the core of efforts to fight acute hunger and avert food crises We know how critical humanitarian assistance is At the same time it is clear that humanitarian assistance on its own is not enough to win the battle against acute hunger That is why FAO's humanitarian work is firmly embedded within a foundation of resilience building And this was really demonstrated in 2018 when the breadth of our work extended from immediate humanitarian response to protect lives and livelihoods in some of the most complex contexts in the world including South Sudan and Yemen to addressing the vulnerability of pastoral populations and facilitating the development of livestock feed balances in the Horn of Africa to supporting disaster risk reduction efforts from Myanmar to Central America Publications such as this offer us an opportunity to reflect on some of our achievements over the past year and identify how we can do better in the next It is not intended as an exhaustive list of the work done under FAO's strategic programme on resilience but rather a snapshot to demonstrate what we can achieve and how much more this to be done Livelihoods, Natural Resources, and Post-Conflict Peacebuilding Helen Young, Lisa Goldman, 2015-04-10 Sustaining and strengthening local livelihoods is one of the most fundamental challenges faced by post conflict countries By degrading the natural resources that are essential to livelihoods and by significantly hindering access to those resources conflict can wreak havoc on the ability of war torn populations to survive and recover This book explores how natural resource management initiatives in more than twenty countries and territories have supported livelihoods and facilitated post conflict peacebuilding Case studies and analyses identify lessons and opportunities for the more effective design of interventions to support the livelihoods that depend on natural resources from land to agriculture forestry fisheries and protected areas The book also explores larger questions about how to structure livelihoods assistance as part of a coherent integrated approach to post conflict redevelopment Livelihoods and Natural Resources in Post Conflict Peacebuilding is part of a global initiative to identify and analyze lessons in post conflict peacebuilding and natural resource management The project has generated six books of case studies and analyses with contributions from practitioners policy makers and researchers Other books in this series address high value resources land water assessing and restoring natural resources and governance Ecosystems, Livelihoods and

Disasters Karen Sudmeier-Rieux,CARE/International,IUCN Commission on Ecosystem Management,2006 Vulnerability to natural disasters continues to increase severely compromising the achievement of poverty alleviation goals in many developing countries A more effective approach is needed to reduce the impacts of these disasters This publication proposes an approach that integrates ecosystem management development planning and risk reduction strategies to reduce disaster impacts and improve both livelihoods and biodiversity outcomes Understanding Food Insecurity Maria Sassi,2017-10-24

This book provides a comprehensive overview of key aspects of food insecurity including definitional and conceptual issues information systems and data sources indicators and policies The aim is to equip readers with a sound understanding of the subject that will assist in the recognition of food insecurity and the design of suitable responses The early chapters discuss the evolution and limitations of the concept and provide a set of conceptual frameworks for the analysis of food security Systems used to collect data and their evolution over time are then explained and the most commonly adopted indicators for monitoring food security are presented Approaches to food security are then thoroughly reviewed decade by decade Specific attention is paid to the food insecurity challenge in the new millennium focusing particularly on recent food crises and institutional and policy related consequences Finally the specific terminology of food aid and assistance is examined with discussion of the instruments recently adopted in the food aid system This book will be an informative and stimulating resource for both students and professionals Anti-Leftist Politics in Modern World History Philip B.

Minehan,2021-11-04 Systemic and political hostility against the left real and contrived has been a key yet under recognized aspect of the history of the modern world for the past two hundred years By the 1820s the new exploitative and destabilizing character of capitalist industrial production and its accompanying market liberalizations began creating necessities among the working classes and their allies for the new self protective politics of socialism But it is evident that for the new economic system to sustain itself such oppositional politics that it necessitated had to be undermined if not destroyed by whatever means necessary Through the imperialism of the later 19th century and with significant variations this complex and often highly destructive dialectical syndrome expanded worldwide Liberals conservatives extreme nationalists fascists racists and others have all repeatedly come aggressively and violently into play against socialist oppositions In this book Philip Minehan traces the patterns of such hostility and presents numerous crucial examples of it from Britain France Germany and the United States the British in India European fascism the United States and Britain as they operated in China and Indochina from Kenya Algeria and Iran and from Central and South America during the Cold War In the final chapters Minehan addresses the post Cold War US led triumphalist wars in the Middle East the ensuing refugee crises neo fascism and anti environmentalist politics to show the ways that the syndrome within which anti leftist antagonism emerges in its neoliberal phase since the 1970s remains as self destructive and dangerous as ever Oxford Textbook of Global Public Health

Roger Detels,Quarraisha Abdool Karim,Fran Baum,Liming Li,Alastair H Leyland,2021-10-29 The Oxford Textbook of Global

Public Health is the ultimate resource on the subject of public health and epidemiology. It offers a global and comprehensive perspective on wide ranging public health needs and priorities in modern health care. Thoroughly revised and updated for the seventh edition, the book is split into three main topics. The Scope of Public Health covers the development of the discipline, determinants of health and disease, and policies, law, and ethics. The second volume focuses on The Methods of Public Health, including the science of epidemiology, social science techniques, and environmental techniques. Finally, The Practice of Public Health is fully explored with sections on specific public health problems, ways of prevention and control, the varying needs of different populations, and the functions of public health services and professionals. Three new editors have joined for this edition: Liming Li, China; Fran Baum, Australia; and Alastair H. Leyland, UK, complimenting Quarraisha Abdool Karim, South Africa, and Roger Detels, USA, for a truly global perspective on public health. Featuring over 225 contributors from countries all over the world, ensures that the book covers public health from all aspects, with vastly different health systems and priorities. Featuring new chapters on gender identity and gender based violence, environmental health, and climate change, genomics, and epidemiology, and emerging and re-emerging infectious diseases, the seventh edition of the Oxford Textbook of Global Public Health remains the most comprehensive text on the subject and is a vital resource for public health practitioners and trainees, clinical epidemiologists, and students in the field.

Historic Documents of 2021 Heather Kerrigan, River Horse Communications, LLC, 2022-10-19. The Historic Documents of 2021 makes primary source research easy by presenting excerpts from documents on the important events of the United States and the World. The Historic Documents of 2021 pairs 60 to 70 original background narratives with well over 100 documents to chronicle the major events of the year from official reports and surveys to speeches from leaders and opinion makers to court cases, legislation, testimony, and much more. Historic Documents is renowned for the well-written and informative background history and context it provides for each document. Organized chronologically, it covers the same wide range of topics: business, the economy, and labor; energy; environment; science; technology; and transportation; government and politics; health and social services; international affairs; national security; and terrorism and rights and justice.

Plans For Your Good Scott Morrison, 2024-04-30. Scott Morrison, Australia's 30th Prime Minister, 2018-2022, offers a unique insider's account of a Christian who was open about his faith and operated at the top level of politics for more than a decade. During one of the toughest periods since the second world war, covering drought, wildfires, a global pandemic, and recession, he chronicles God's faithfulness throughout win or lose, public criticism or public success. Less political memoir and more pastoral encouragement, Morrison is passionate about encouraging others to discover how they can access and see the many blessings of God in their own lives, no matter their circumstances, drawing on Jeremiah 29:11 that God's plans are for our good and not our harm, to give us a future and a hope. In each section, Morrison asks the questions all of us are looking to find answers to Who am I Discovering your purpose How should I live Finding your pathway What should I hope for Embracing your future Full of fascinating insights into the handling of some of the most significant global events and issues of our time Morrison s honest vulnerable and reflective answers offers a unique lens to better understand your relationship with God and the blessing that can flow from such a relationship Alongside an account of high level politics in a new media age where cancel culture identity politics and deep secularization is taking hold across so many western societies creating a truly post Christian west Morrison testifies to the faithful love and blessings of God Environment Disaster Linkages Rajib Shaw,Phong Tran,2012-01-17 This is one of the first books to focus on explicit linkages between the changing environment and disasters and suggests proactive approaches towards disaster management A ready reference for field practitioners it covers areas such as elements of environmental entry impacts of environment and disaster strategies planning and the way forward Making Global Institutions Work Kate Brennan,2014-09-19 This book seeks to think differently about what we recognize as global institutions and how they could work better for the people who need them most By so doing the contributions show that there is a group of institutions that influence enough people s lives in significant enough ways through what they protect provide or enable that they should be considered together as global institutions The United Nations the World Bank the internet as well as private military and security companies leave a heavy footprint on the social political and economic landscape of the planet We are all aware in different ways of the existence of these global institutions but their importance in achieving change in the twenty first century is often underestimated In this book contributors seek to explain what associations exist between change in global institutions and the reduction of poverty and inequality as well as the achievement of security and justice The work makes sense of processes of change and identifies the most significant obstacles that exist offering suggestions for future action that will be of interest to students and scholars of global institutions Drought in the Horn of Africa: Revised rapid response and mitigation plan to avert a humanitarian catastrophe Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2022-06-23 The Horn of Africa is facing the third severe La Ni a induced drought episode in a decade and the region is on the verge of a catastrophe if humanitarian assistance is not urgently scaled up and sustained Drought is exacerbating the humanitarian situation in a region already facing high levels of exisiting food insecurity In Ethiopia Kenya and Somalia 18 4 million people are projected to be in Crisis Integrated Food Security Phase Classification IPC Phase 3 or worse levels of high acute food insecurity due solely to the drought An unprecedented fourth below average rainy season has just occurred in these countries while Djibouti also experienced erratic rainfall in 2021 Drought is among the most devastating of natural hazards crippling food production depleting pastures disrupting markets and at its most extreme causing widespread human and animal deaths The Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations FAO revised rapid response and mitigation plan for the Horn of Africa aggregates FAO s components of recent humanitarian appeals It provides further details on what urgently needs to happen to scale from January to December 2022 in order to save the livelihoods and therefore the lives of 4.98 million rural people across the four countries and the risks associated with an insufficient or untimely response. The timeframe for the plan has been extended from June to December 2022. FAO is urgently requesting USD 172 million to provide critical assistance to rural populations prevent the further worsening of hunger and malnutrition safeguard livelihoods as well as prevent displacement and further increases in humanitarian needs in 2022.

COVID-19 Pandemic and the Social Determinants of Health Rosemary M. Caron, Ronica Nicole Rooks, Stefania Salmaso, Mahmoud Kandeel, 2024-07-15. The COVID 19 pandemic has disproportionately affected those population sectors that experience inequality. Specifically marginalized racial and ethnic populations with pre-existing health conditions those living in poverty those possessing a low education level hourly wage employees etc have experienced an excess burden of COVID 19 morbidity and mortality compared to their White counterparts in developed countries. The interaction of the social determinants of health with a novel virus has made visible the inequities that have been hidden or accustomed to in many communities globally. As we work to end the current pandemic we must consider the post COVID 19 pandemic era and address the social determinants of health so that populations start from a place of health as opposed to a place of disease for the next public health challenge. Syndemic research has demonstrated the interaction among socio-cultural factors socio-economic factors structural factors and individual factors collectively referred to as the social determinants of health and infectious disease epidemics e.g. COVID 19 AIDS and social epidemics e.g. structural racism. These interactions can exacerbate and sustain adverse health outcomes for marginalized populations. How can communities improve the social determinants of health for impoverished populations? The importance of doing so would have implications not only for the health status of communities but could also improve economic conditions for these geographic areas. Addressing the social determinants of health for marginalized populations has the potential to improve health for all.

Livelihoods at the Margins James Staples, 2016-07-01. Sex workers street hawkers drug sellers cleaners they are people living on the margins of urban life who are ubiquitous but widely misunderstood and notably absent from mainstream economic analyses. In Livelihood on the Margins anthropologists and practitioners engaged in hands-on development work use fine-grained ethnographic research to cut through the conventional narratives that romanticize victimize or demonize these populations. They go beyond the trendy sustainable livelihoods approach to development to examine the relationship between the agency people can actually wield over their own lives and the broader socio-political constraints that persistently push them to the margins. Making these multi-level connections across a wide range of world regions and situations this volume shows how the micro concerns of ordinary people might usefully guide the macro concerns of governments NGOs and global institutions who are engineering large-scale social and economic development programs. Livelihood at the Margins is an engaging and eye-opening read for undergraduate and graduate students studying development in anthropology sociology geography economics and other disciplines as well as a

FAO framework on rural extreme poverty Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2019-05-01 Today about 783 million people live in extreme poverty Extreme poverty is primarily a rural phenomenon with 80 percent of the extreme poor living in rural areas across greatly diverse rural landscapes Despite great progress in poverty reduction the standard of living of the poorest of the poor has remained almost unchanged in the past 35 years signaling that a huge gap in policy making and programmatic approaches are leaving them behind FAO has established a Corporate Framework on Rural Extreme Poverty to orient and bring to bear the relevant work of the Organization towards reaching Target 1.1 of the SDGs Eliminating extreme poverty is directly linked to eliminating hunger SDG 2 as well as other SDGs When the extreme poor have means to a better life they no longer suffer from hunger and can invest in a better future for their families and communities The Framework reinforces the application of other Corporate Frameworks particularly those related to gender equality social protection sustaining peace and migration This makes the Framework applicable to many areas of FAO s work accelerating efforts to eliminate extreme poverty in rural areas The Framework identifies four key areas to reach the rural extreme poor ensuring food security and nutrition promoting economic inclusion fostering environmentally sustainable and resilient livelihoods and preventing and protecting the extreme poor against risks and shocks To ensure its ability to eradicate rural extreme poverty the Framework establishes the following five deliverables 1 Better align the areas of FAO s mandate into global and national actions to eradicate extreme poverty 2 Increased capacity to reach the extreme poor by undertaking poverty analysis 3 Develop dedicated and integrated approaches for the rural extreme poor 4 Ensure that FAO's actions do not create poverty 5 Account for FAO's contribution to SDG 1 and in particular to Target 1.1
